DISTRICT ROAD FUND OFFICE;

J. COWIE, Member of the Audit Sub-Committee. HARI LAL GOSWAMI, Head Clerk and Accountant. F. G. E. PIFFARD, Vice-Chairman. C. H. BOMPAS, Chairman.

Abstract of the report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Singhbhum, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District for the year 1906-1907.

(Vide letter No. 43 R.C., dated 27th May 1907, from R. C. HAMILTON, ESQ., I.C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee, Singhbhum, to the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division.)

1. Working of the Committee.—The Road Committee held eight meetings during the year in one of which a quorum was not obtained.

2. The accounts were, as usual, audited by the Finance Committee appointed under section 174 of the Act. The Local Auditor inspected the accounts for the period from June 1905 to July 1906.

RECEIPTS.

3. The road cess was levied at the maximum rate of 6 pies in the rupee. The demand on account of cess on lands and mines, jungle, etc., during the year, including the arrears of last year, amounted to Rs. 12,652. Of this, a sum of Rs. 12,155 has been realised within the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 497 only outstanding on 31st March 1907. Including a few small miscellaneous receipts, special Government grant and opening balance of Rs. 23,188-14-8, the income available for expenditure in the year was Rs. 42,612-5-3. The annual Government grant of Rs. 10,000 for road works in this district for the year has not been received.

EXPENDITURE.

4. Original Works—Civil Buildings.—A sum of Rs. 213-13-4 was spent during the year in making an addition to the godown of the road-cess building at Chaibassa and constructing an urinal.

5. Original Works—Communications.—A sum of Rs. 3,775-7-1 was spent under this head, against a budget allotment of Rs. 3,725.

6. Repairs—Civil Buildings.—A sum of Rs. 40 only was spent in repairing the road-cess building and godown at Chaibassa.

7. Repairs—Communications.—Twenty-seven roads were repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 11,322-15-8, against an allotment of Rs. 14,058. The works chiefly consisted of the annual maintenance of these roads, including repairs to road surfaces, bridges, and culverts and easing down the steep approaches to beds of unbridged streams and rivers.

8. The following statement shows the length of district roads (metalled and unmetalled, and village roads), the amount spent on the maintenance of the roads and the cost per mile:—

13. A sum of Rs. 108 was paid to the whole-time clerks and peons at head-quarters on account of grain-compensation allowance for the dearness of rice with the Government sanction.

14. The following table compares the revenue of the District Road Cess Committee (excluding opening balance and the amount under head "Suspense account"), the expenditure incurred on original and repair works, and the establishment employed on these works, as also the percentage of total

MOHINI MOHAN GHOSH,
Vice-Chairman, D. R. C. C.,

R. C. HAMILTON,
Chairman, D. R. C. C.,

Extract from lett r No. 930L., dated the 6th December 1907, from D. J. MACPHERSON, ESQ., C.I.E., Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

3. The average attendance of the members of the Road Committee showed a slight improvement, namely, from 3 in 1905-06 to 3·4 in the year under review. The percentage of average attendance rose from 35·55 and 33·33 in the two preceding years to 37·77. The attendance of the non-official members continued to be unsatisfactory, but it is observed that as many as 21 meetings were held. As reported last year, attempts have been made to replace some of the old members by more useful men. In submitting his nomination for the reconstitution of the Committee, however, the Deputy Commissioner reported to me that "the selection of suitable non-official members is a matter of much difficulty, in as much as facilities do not exist for rapid communication with Dumka, and persons resident in the subdivisions cannot be induced to undertake long and tedious journeys in order to attend meetings of the Committee."

4. The Committee began the year with an opening balance of Rs. 93,542, against Rs. 69,940 in the preceding year. The total receipts of the Committee during the year amounted to Rs. 1,11,112 against Rs. 1,23,828, and its expenditure to Rs. 1,12,240 against Rs. 1,00,236. The Committee received from Government a sum of Rs. 28,838 for carrying out works of improvement in the Damin-i-Koh Government estate, and expended a sum of Rs 24,461 on this account, including expenditure on roads in that estate.

5. The account of the Committee closed with a balance of Rs. 92,414. This heavy balance has been explained by the Chairman as mainly due to a difficulty in obtaining suitable contractors to work in distant parts of the district, notwithstanding special efforts to obtain them, and to the insufficiency of the rates laid down in the schedule and adopted in the sanctioned estimates. As regards the latter point, the Chairman has been instructed * * * to submit well-considered proposals revising the rates if necessary. The heavy works in which the failure to work up to the programme was most conspicuous are situated far away from head-quarters in the Damin-i-Koh, and contractors were most reluctant to work there.

6. * * * * * * * *

On agricultural improvements a sum of Rs. 1,001 was spent out of an allotment of Rs. 2,000. The details of this expenditure are given by the Chairman in paragraph 11 of his letter. The failure to spend the full allotment is disappointing.

7. The expenditure of the Committee on communications amounted to Rs. 38,623, against Rs. 42,418 spent in the preceding year. The expenditure decreased both under new works and repairs, in the case of the former by Rs. 1,177 and in that of the latter by Rs. 2,617. The cause has already been explained in paragraph 5 above.

8. During the year under review, the Committee spent a sum of Rs. 20,288 on establishment, against Rs. 19,175 in the preceding year for reasons explained in paragraphs 18 and 30 of the Chairman's report, and consequently the percentage cost of establishment on civil works expenditure has increased from 31·91 to 33·01. The total cost is, however, within the limit prescribed in the Cess Act, namely, one-fourth of the year's receipts, excluding the opening balance. As reported last year, the high percentage is again due to the failure to utilise a large portion of the income as explained in paragraph 5 above.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of the Sonthal Parganas, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1906-07.

[Vide letter No. 287P.W., dated 2nd August 1907, from H. P. SAMMAN, ESQ., I.C.S., Chairman of the District Road Committee of Sonthal Parganas, to the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division.]

1. The Local Self-Government Act was not in force in this district. The provisions of the Cess Act were extended to some selected portions of the district under Government Notification No. 4489R.P., dated the 20th August 1901.

2. Working of the Committee.—There was no change in the constitution of the Committee, which consisted of 9 members, of whom 3 were ex-officio and the rest non-official. The Committee held 21 meetings during the year against 20 in the previous year; of these 6 were special and the rest ordinary. The average attendance of members was 3·4 against 3·00 in the previous year, and the percentage of average attendance was 37·77 against 33 33 the attendance of the non-official members was anything but satisfactory.

RECEIPTS.

3. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 93,542, and the income of the Committee from all sources amounted to Rs. 1,11,112 and the expenditure to Rs. 1,12,240, leaving a closing balance of Rs. 92,414 at the end of the year. This balance includes Rs. 3,080 on account of outstanding deposits. The heavy closing balance is explained as mainly due to the following causes:—

(1) The difficulty in obtaining suitable contr ctors to work in distant parts of the district notwithstanding special efforts to obtain them.
(2) The insufficiency of the rates provided in the sanctioned estimates based on the schedule of rates.

4. The receipts of the year consisted mainly of the Government grant-in-aid. The following table compares the receipts under the several heads of the year with those of the previous year:—

	1905-06.	1906-07
	Rs.	Rs.

Total Receipts	1,23,838	1,11,112
Grand total Receipts including Balance	1,93,778	2,04,654

5. VI.—Provincial Rates.—The actual receipts from "Cess on land" were Rs. 4,077-12-3 during the year instead of Rs. 10,000 shown in the budget estimate, and this large difference is due to the estates borne on the revenue rolls of other districts not being valued and assessed to cesses during the year 1906-07. The cess was levied at the maximum rate allowed by the law.

6. XXV.—Miscellaneous.—The Sub-Overseer of Godda was fined Rs. 10 for neglect of duty, and instead of its being shown under the head of fees, fines and forfeitures it was deducted from the total cost on establishment. The increase under "Miscellaneous" is due to the amount received from the sale of stamped agreement forms having been credited to this head.

7. XXXII.—Civil Works.—The increase under "Ferry tolls" is owing to unusually keen competition amongst the bidders. The increase under "Receipts from staging bungalows" is purely incidental, and is probably due to the large number of cooly-recruiters visiting the district during the last cold weather. Out of Rs. 3,643-14-9 shown under "Contribution from private persons," Rs. 2,000 represents the donation of Rs. 1,000 each made by Mr. Malling Grant, Zamindar of Dumka Estate and the Sankara Wards Estate, towards the construction of the 2nd Dhanbhasa bridge on the Asanbani-Dhanbhasa Road and the balance of Rs. 1,643-14-9 on account of subscriptions from influential and substantial local men for construction of primary school buildings in all the subdivisions. The income under "Miscellaneous" fell off to a large extent owing to there being no rent for lac-growing and also owing to the road-side grass not being sold.

8. The decrease under "Grant from Government" is due to the reduction of special grant from Rs. 6,000 to Rs. 2,500 received during the year from the Commissioner.

10. The total expenditure under "Land Revenue" was Rs. 24,461, against Rs. 17,655 in the year before. The increase is due to the sanction of fresh works which were found necessary out of the preceding year's unspent balance.

11. Agricultural improvements.—The expenditure under this head, although greater than that of the previous year, fell far short of the allotment (Rs. 2,000) made for the purpose. This is mainly due to the want of proper supervision over these works, which are scattered over the Damin at a considerable distance from each other; Rs. 514 was spent in deepening tanks and improving bundhs in the Damin for the storage of water for the purpose of irrigating rice-fields, &c., and Rs. 170 was spent on agricultural experiments.

12. Sanitary improvements.—Rupees 2,161 was expended in constructing, repairing and improving tanks, wells and bundhs in the Damin.

13. Provincial rates.—Rupees 6 was spent on costs of the certificate procedure for realizing the arrears of the road and public works cesses and Rs. 197 on valuation works.

14. Civil Buildings—Original works.—Rupees 226 was spent by the Subdivisional Officer of Dumka towards the construction of the three primary school buildings at Fatehpur, Chorekata and Katikund in the Dumka subdivision. The cost was met out of the special grant of Rs. 8,160 placed at the disposal of the District Road Committee by the Education Department for constructing certain primary school buildings in this district.

15. Civil Buildings—Repairs.—Rupees. 141 shown against "Repairs" represents the amount of the municipal taxes and the cost of some minor repairs paid for the Road Office buildings.

16. Communications—New Works.—The expenditure of Rs. 14,679 was incurred on several works as actually found necessary.

17. Communications—Repairs.—The expenditure fell from Rs. 26,561 in the year 1905-06 to Rs. 23,944 during the year. The decrease is mainly due to the advance drawn for repairs of certain roads in the district not having been adjusted before the year closed and also to the lapse of the allotment for certain roads under the District Engineer.

18. Establishment.—The expenditure was in excess of that of the previous year. The increase is attributable to the entertainment of a temporary establishment, including a Supervisor and Famine Estimator, at a cost of Rs. 2,488, against Rs. 1,800 in the previous year, and also to the payment of grain-compensation allowance of Rs. 151 to the permanent establishment.

19. Tools and Plant.—The expenditure under this head was Rs. 2,015 against the Budget provision of Rs. 500. The excess of Rs. 1,515 is due to the purchase of two Bull's patent hand-dredgers and two contractor's pumps urgently wanted for the Gumra bridge-works.

20. The important works carried out during the year both under the Road Fund and Land Revenue are given below with amount spent for each:—

21. There was no change in the classification of the scheduled district and village roads under charge of the District Road Committee. During the year 42 scheduled roads with a total mileage of 832½ miles were maintained at a total cost of Rs. 23,036, against Rs. 25,456 in the previous year. Of the total length, 15½ miles were metalled and the rest unmetalled, and of the total cost Rs. 390 was spent on the former and Rs. 22,646 on the latter class. The cost per mile of metalled road was thus Rs. 25·1 and of unmetalled roads Rs. 27·7. Several important roads were improved during the year by the construction of pucca bridges and culverts and by gravelling some of the kutcha portions.

22. The total number of scheduled village roads was the same as in the previous year. Four roads with a total mileage of 33 miles were maintained at a cost of Rs. 455, the cost per mile being 13·7. No substantial improvement was effected in the present condition of the village roads. The expenditure on repairs is classified in the following table:—

23. Railway feeder roads.—The construction of new feeder roads, viz., Bhagaya-Shahabad and Tinpahar-Borio Roads, was taken up, and Rs. 8,164 and Rs. 1,328 respectively were spent during the year. Sanction to improve the Sahebgunge-Banjhi Road so as to make it passable for all manner of traffic throughout the year at an estimated cost of Rs. 26,615 was received during the year, but the work could not be taken in hand owing to the project not being sanctioned till February 1907.

24. Famine relief.—No famine-relief operations were carried out during the year, but a sum of Rs. 74 was spent in preparing projects for famine-relief works.

25. The receipts and expenditure of the three dâk bungalows under the Committee are compared with those of the previous year in the following table:—

NAME OF DÂK BUNGALOW.	RECEIPTS.		EXPENDITURE.		REMARKS.
	1905-06.	1906-07.	1905-06.	1906-07.

26. Medical.—There are no medical institutions under the Medical Committee, and there was thus no expenditure under this head. A sum of Rs. 335 and Rs. 82 was spent towards the construction of a dispensary building and Civil Hospital Assistant's quarters at Borio and for the additions and alterations of the Burhait Dispensary buildings out of the Estate Improvement Funds.

27. Village sanitation.—The scheme promulgated by Government in Circular No. 10T.-M., dated the 30th May 1903, for the improvement of sanitation of villages and rural towns was not tried in this district during the year.

28. Arboriculture.—There has been no change in the system of arboriculture in this district since preceding year's report. Special attention has been paid to filling in gaps of existing avenues and providing plants with gabions for which Rs. 373 was spent. New nurseries have been established in the compounds of several road inspection bungalows, and gumlas have been provided at most of the nurseries for planting seed during the coming rains. It is reported that 1,010 new plants were planted during the year, against 753 in the preceding year. This matter has received more attention during the previous year, but the efforts were not very successful and there is considerable room for improvements.

29. Travelling allowance of Veterinary Assistant.—Rupees 150 was paid on account of travelling allowance of the Veterinary Assistant for the first time from this Department.

30. The following table shows the amount spent on establishment and the percentage of its cost on expenditure on Civil Works:—

YEAR.	Outlay on works and repairs.	Outlay on establishment employed on works.	Percentage.	REMARKS.
1	2	3	4	5
	Rs.	Rs.
1905-06	60,086	19,175	31·91
1906-07	63,451(a)	19,931	31·41

		Rs.
Land Revenue	...	24,461
Civil Buildings	...	367
Communications	...	38,623
TOTAL	...	63,451

The percentage is high owing (a) to the accumulation of funds from the lapses of allotments made for the works and repairs; (b) to the debit of establishment of the charges on account of such petty establishment as malis, chaukidars, &c., which are properly chargeable to work. The total cost on establishment is, however, within the limit prescribed in the Cess Act, i.e., one fourth of the year's receipts, excluding the opening balance, thus:—

				Rs.
Valuation	...	...	...	203
Administration	...	...	...	1,652
Civil Works	...	...	...	19,931

which is less than one-fourth of Rs. 99,994, being the year's receipts.

31. Water-supply.—There was no outlay incurred on water-supply from the District Road Fund, except on sinking a pucca well in the compound of the newly-constructed inspection bungalow at Moheshpur in the Pakour subdivision. A sum of Rs. 2,161 was, however, spent out of the Estate Improvement Fund in sinking wells and excavating and improving tanks and bundhs in the Damin. It is reported that the water-supply is sufficient throughout the district and that existing sources were enough for ordinary purposes.

A statement showing the thana totals of Form I, prescribed in Government Circular No. 8T.—M., dated the 15th May 1896, for several subdivisions, is appended below—

The water-supply is ample for drinking purposes both in the Damin and in the zamindari tracts, but there are many unwholesome tanks and wells in the portions of zamindari tracts that lie at some distance from the Ganges. FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 19th May 1908.

RESOLUTION No. 118T.—S.R.

THE Indian Excise Committee of 1905-06 in paragraph 240 of their Report recommended that a local Committee should be appointed in Presidency towns to examine the number and location of shops for the sale of spirituous liquors. In noticing this recommendation the Government of India stated, in paragraph 5 of their Resolution No. 5086Exc., dated the 15th August 1907, that such a Committee might be suitably utilised for drawing up maximum and minimum scales of liquor shops to be licensed, and added that the Committee to be constituted might consist of (1) the Collector, the Excise Commissioner or other Chief Revenue officer; (2) the Commissioner of Police; (3) the Chairman of the Corporation; and (4) the Municipal Commissioner or Commissioners, for each Ward separately. The precise constitution of the Committee was, however, left to the discretion of the Local Government concerned.

Formation of local Committee and scope of enquiry.

* Government Order No. 316T.—S.R., dated 21st September 1907.

Government Order No. 423T.—S.R., dated 14th October 1907.

Government Order No. 627S.R., dated 14th November 1907.

2. In accordance with these recommendations and after correspondence with the Chairman of the Corporation, the Government of Bengal appointed* a local Committee consisting of the members named below:—

(1) Mr. E. Geake, I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise, Bengal, President.
(2) Sir Charles Allen, Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation.
(3) Mr. F. L. Halliday, M. V. O., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,
(4) Mr. W. C. Madge .. }
(5) Babu P. N. Mullick ... } Municipal Commissioners nominated by the Calcutta Corporation.
(6) Maulvi Badr-uddin Haidar, Khan Bahadur. }

To these were added the Magistrate of Howrah so far as the enquiries related to liquor shops in Howrah and Bally, and the Collector of the 24-Parganas so far as the liquor shops in the Suburban Municipalities of Chitpur-Cossipore and Manicktolla were concerned. The Committee were requested to report with regard to the "Calcutta area," that is the town of Calcutta and the outlying Municipal areas of Chitpur, Manicktolla, Howrah and Bally, on the matters specified below:—

(i) The number of "on" and "off" retail licenses required for country and foreign spirit, respectively.

(ii) The location and distribution of shops.

(iii) The separation of country and foreign spirit shops.

(iv) The limit of retail sale.

(v) The hours of sale.

(vi) The question of structural defects in shops.

3. The Committee circulated questions to the Press and to selected representatives of the different communities in order to elicit an expression of opinion. They examined witnesses in public and inspected a large number of liquor shops, and have submitted their report to the Board of Revenue. Having obtained the advice of the Board of Revenue, the Lieutenant-Governor now proceeds to deal with the Committee's recommendations.

Area of Calcutta, and number of shops for sale of spirituous liquors.

4. The facts with regard to the liquor shops existing within the "Calcutta area" may first be stated. As defined in section 4 of the Bengal Excise Act, VII of 1878, "the town of Calcutta" includes all places within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court. For the sake of administrative convenience, however, the jurisdiction of the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, Calcutta, has been extended from time to time, and now comprises the area of the town proper as defined in the Act, the Suburbs of Calcutta so far as the police jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Police extends, and the Municipal areas of Howrah and Bally; and the whole area is taken to be the "Calcutta district" for the purposes of the Excise law. The area thus described aggregates 53·6 square miles (viz., Calcutta town proper 7·9 square miles, suburbs 23·3 square miles, Howrah and Bally 11 square miles, and water area 11·4 square miles) with a population (in 1901) of 1,125,400.

Within this area 379 licenses ina ll for the sale of country spirits and imported liquors were sanctioned in the year 1907-08.

The details of these licenses are as follows :—

Licenses for the sale of country spirit ...	127
Ditto ditto rum ...	5
Subsidiary licenses for the sale of imported liquor held conjointly with the above	94
Licenses for the wholesale sale of imported liquor	52
Licenses for the retail sale of imported liquor	26
Combined licenses for the wholesale and retail sale of imported liquor	29
Hotel licenses	25
Restaurant licenses	20
Railway refreshment-room license	1
Total ...	379

The country spirit licenses were distributed as follows:—

Old town area of Calcutta, i.e., the area bounded by the Circular Road and the Chitpur Canal (population 542,686 in 1901)	52
Suburbs (population in 1901—406,458)	49
Howrah and Bally (united population in 1901—176,256) ...	26
Total ...	127

According to Municipal areas the country spirit shops were distributed as follows :—

Name of Municipality.	Population in 1901.	Number of country spirit shops.
Present Calcutta Municipality	876,007	91
Chitpur	40,750	6
Manicktolla	32,387	4
Howrah	157,594	22
Bally	18,662	4
Total ..	1,125,400	127

The subsidiary licenses for the sale of imported liquors were distributed as shown below :—

Calcutta Municipality	80
Chitpur ...	3
Howrah ...	10
Total	94

Leaving out of account hotels and restaurants, it may be briefly stated that in 1907-08, 126 licenses were issued for the sale of country spirit (against 127 licenses approved, as one shop was not actually opened); 4* for the sale of country rum; and 198† for sale of imported liquors, making a total of 328. As, however, 94 subsidiary licenses for the sale of imported liquor were held in respect of the premises licensed for the sale of country spirit or country rum, the number of shops actually licensed was 234. This number is exclusive of 73 tari shops and 6 pachwai licenses, which were not included in the scope of the Committee's enquiry.

* Exclusive of one shop closed during the year 1907-1908.

System of licenses in Calcutta.

5. The following is a brief description of the various kinds of licenses now in force in Calcutta for the sale of imported and country liquors:—

"OFF" LICENSES.

(1) A wholesale license authorises the sale of any one kind of imported liquor in quantities more than four imperial gallons or two dozen reputed quart bottles, or of country rum in quantities more than two imperial gallons or one dozen reputed quart bottles. The annual fee is Rs. 300.

(2) A retail bottle license authorises the sale of imported liquor to any person at one time in any quantity not more than four imperial gallons or 24 reputed quart bottles, or of country rum in any quantity not more than two imperial gallons or 12 reputed quart bottles, or of either kind of liquor in any quantity not less than one pint bottle. The annual fee is Rs. 1,000.

(3) A combined license authorises the sale of imported liquor and country rum by both wholesale and retail, and is a combination of the licenses numbered (1) and (2) above. The annual fee is Rs. 1,200.

"ON" AND "OFF" LICENSES.

(4) A country spirit license commonly called a "doasta"* license authorises retail sales up to a limit of two imperial gallons or one dozen reputed quart bottles of country spirit and country rum, by the bottle or by the glass to be drunk on the licensed premises. The fee is settled by auction.

(5) A country rum retail license authorises the sale of country rum alone under terms similar to those of license No. (4), and is also settled by auction.

(6) A subsidiary license for the sale of imported liquor is tenable by the licensee of a country spirit or country rum retail shop, and it authorizes the retail sale of imported liquor in addition. The fee for this license is Rs. 600 per annum.

"ON" LICENSES.

(7) A Hotel license is a license to sell imported liquor and the liquor sold must be drunk on the premises. The minimum annual fee is Rs. 200, but at present all the hotels actually pay annual fees of Rs. 300 each.

(8) A Bar license, which is ordinarily tenable only by the holder of a hotel license, authorizes the licensee to set up and maintain a "bar" in his hotel for the sale of liquor by the glass to be drunk on the premises. The fee for this license is Rs. 600 per annum.

No bar may be set up or maintained in a "restaurant" without a special license.

A "bar" license may also be taken out by the holder of a hotel or restaurant license for the sale of imported liquor at theatres or other places of amusement for consumption on the premises. The fee is Rs. 3 per day or Rs. 50 per month.

(9) A Late-closing license is tenable only by the holder of a hotel license and permits the hotel to be kept open later than the prescribed hour of closure. The fee is levied on a sliding scale, viz:—

	Rs.
Up till 12 (midnight)	25 a month.
Do. 1 A.M.	40 "
Do. 1-30 A.M.	50 "

(10) A Restaurant license is granted for bonâ fide restaurants in which food is supplied and in which no bedroom accommodation is provided. The fee is fixed by the Commissioner of Excise, subject to a minimum of Rs. 200 per year. The liquor supplied is drunk on the premises.

* Said to be a corruption of the Persian term "Do-atasha," i.e., twice heated by fire, or twice distilled (spirit).

It is unnecessary here to the conditions of licenses for the sale of medicated wines or of denaturalis spirits.

6. Of the matters discussed in the Report now under review, the question of separation of sale of country spirit and imported spirit may first be considered. The Indian Excise Committee of 1905-06 were emphatic in their recommendation that the system of conjoint sale, which obtains only in a few Provinces, and in this Province only in Calcutta, should be prohibited, and the Government of India in paragraph 22 of their Resolution No. 2995 Exc., dated 16th May 1907, expressed their agreement in this recommendation.

Separation of country and foreign spirit shops.

The reasons which induced the Indian Excise Committee to come to this conclusion are stated in paragraphs 109, 110, 121 and 221 of their Report, where they observe that it is not the policy of Government to allow imported liquors to become articles of common consumption among the Indian population, and that their sale should be limited to places where there is a European, Eurasian Parsi or other population that uses them. They deprecated the affording of facilities for consumption of foreign liquor to the Indian middle classes who are not usually addicted to liquor. The Indian Excise Committee further held that if foreign and country liquor are allowed to be sold on the same premises, there is danger of that which pays lower duty being substituted for that which pays higher duty. They noticed the Calcutta arrangements, and expressed the opinion that it would be found possible, without any increase in the total number of licenses, to retain the small number of shops required for sale of foreign liquor on the premises.

On the other hand, the Calcutta Committee observe on this question that upon general principles they see no objection to the vend of country spirit and foreign spirit on the same premises. In their opinion the separation proposed by the Indian Excise Committee could not be effected in Calcutta without increasing the number of liquor shops to an undesirable extent. After full enquiry the Committee find no reason to believe that liquor paying a lower rate of duty is in fact substituted for that paying a higher rate, nor do they think such a proceeding likely to be adopted by vendors with any measure of success, as consumers can easily discriminate between the two kinds of liquor. In order to diminish temptations to certain sections of the community, the Committee suggest the following modifications of the present system, viz.:—

(a) That in localities where the consumption of foreign liquor is confined to certain sections of the Indian middle classes, licenses for "on" consumption of imported liquor should not be issued;

(b) That a subsidiary license to sell foreign spirit (i.e. a license to sell both by the glass and by the bottle) which is now given on application to any country spirit vendor should only be granted in those localities where there exists a boná fide demand for imported liquor to an extent that requires a source of legitimate supply;

(c) That a foreign spirit license alone should be granted in localities frequented mostly by Europeans, Eurasians, Chinamen and others, who are not in the habit of taking country spirit.

The Lieutenant-Governor accepts these recommendations which are supported by the Board of Revenue, and effect will be given to them. It is understood, however, that the local communities are so much intermixed, especially in the urban area, that even very full compliance with these recommendations may not lead to large reductions of licenses in addition to the absolute abolition of shops to be effected in accordance with recommendations to be noticed later.

7. In paragraph 8 of their Report the Committee deal with the number of "on" and "off" retail licenses required for country spirit and foreign spirit, respectively. They have not found it practicable to suggest a maximum or minimum number of shops for Calcutta, as the information available for prescribing such a scale is not, in their opinion, sufficient. The Lieutenant-

Number of "on" and "off" retail licenses.

Governor would wish the Board to consider what steps can be taken to collect more accurate information as to the number of drinkers of country spirit. In paragraph 224 of their Report, the Indian Excise Committee suggest that in the case of town areas, the maximum and minimum limits should be fixed with reference to the population, and they propose that the maximum in force in the United Provinces, viz., one country spirit shop to 5,000 persons, should be adopted in the case of all considerable towns in India. Even after exclusion of the European population there is an Indian population exceeding 8,000 persons for each of the 127 country spirit shops licensed in 1907-1908. In the case of country spirit, separate "on" and "off" licenses are not issued in Calcutta, the same retail license authorising the sale for consumption on the premises or for removal from the premises.

In paragraphs 15 to 19 of their Report, the present Committee recommend the abolition of 19 of the 127 shops which existed in 1907-08 for the sale of country spirits. As regards the abolition of 11 of these shops the members were unanimous. The currency of the licenses expired on the 31st March 1908. Three of these shops have been closed. The remaining eight shops having been already resettled by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, the Board have ordered that the existing settlement should be allowed to run till the 1st July 1908, and that the shops should be abolished from that date. The Board have agreed with the Superintendent of Excise Revenue that the licenses of three more shops shall not be renewed after the present year, and the cases of the remaining five shops, as to which the Committee was not unanimous, will be dealt with by the Board of Revenue, after careful consideration of the circumstances of each shop.

The Lieutenant-Governor has noticed that while the Excise Commissioner has agreed with the other members of the Committee in the expediency of abolishing 11 country spirit shops for reasons specified in each case, he has expressly dissented from any general finding as to the total number of shops being in excess of the requirements of the Calcutta area, and he recommends that in cases where population has been displaced and removed to new localities, reasonable facilities should be afforded to the drinking population by establishing new shops in the newly populated areas. Each case where a proposal is made for establishment of a new shop must have individual consideration with reference to the needs of the population, the distances from the nearest existing shops and any reasonable objections brought forward. In his note of dissent, Mr. Geake appears to have fully established his contention that as regards the total number of country spirit shops, Calcutta compares favourably with the other large cities of India. The total number of country spirit shops in the Calcutta area was reduced from 137 to 127 in the year 1905, and the number of such shops now licensed in the town proper is less than it was 45 years ago when the population was much smaller.

Closure of country rum shops.

8. In paragraph 121 of their Report, the Indian Excise Committee suggested "the closure of all the rum shops in Calcutta" in order to restrict to as narrow limits as possible the number of licenses for the sale of foreign liquor for consumption on the premises. This suggestion received the general approval of the Government of India in paragraph 22 of their Resolution No. 2995Exc., dated 16th May 1907. At present there are only four shops licensed for the sale of country rum in Calcutta. The licensees of these shops hold two licenses (1) authorising them to sell country rum by the glass as well as by bottle up to the limit of retail sale, viz., 2 Imperial gallons, and (2) a subsidiary license authorising similar sale of imported liquor of all kinds, including foreign rum, up to a limit of 4 gallons. The Calcutta Committee see no objection to the abolition of the shops as rum shops, but recommend that they should be licensed for sale of foreign liquor. It is understood from the Minutes of their Proceedings that the Committee intended to recommend that the shops in question should be licensed for "on" sale of imported liquor. So far as the Lieutenant-Governor can understand, this proposal does not give effect to the recommendation of the Indian Excise Committee; and it will be necessary for the Board to consider further in the case of each of the 4 rum shops in question whether a license for "on" consumption of imported liquors is required to meet the reasonable needs of the residents of the locality.

Future licensing arrangements.

9. With regard to future requirements, the Committee have suggested that sometime before the conclusion of each settlement a similar Committee should sit in public and decide all objections to existing shops and all applications for new shops, and that the proposed tribunal should be responsible for the decision of all questions relating to the number, location and distribution of shops. Certain provisions have been inserted in the Excise Bill now under the consideration of the Government of India with regard to the publication of lists of shops for the sale of spirits and the disposal of objections to such shops. The suggestion of the present Committee will be further considered after receipt of the orders of the Government of India on the Excise Bill.

Location and distribution of shops, and acquisition of sites.

10. In connection with the question of the location and distribution of shops, the Calcutta Committee have formulated proposals in paragraph 10 of their Report in order to secure the establishment of shops on sites which are unobjectionable from the points of view of sanitation and temperance. It is often difficult in practice to secure sites for liquor shops which are free from objection; and the Committee therefore propose the acquisition of suitable sites and the construction of the necessary buildings by Government or by the Calcutta Corporation for use by licensed vendors on payment of rent. A similar proposal was made by the Commissioner of Excise in the year 1905, but it was not favourably received by the Board of Revenue on the ground that it is desirable to avoid the odium which might attach to closer association of Government with the liquor traffic. Since then the Indian Excise Committee have drawn attention, in paragraphs 194 and 237 of their Report, to the obstacles resultant from the auction system in the way of necessary changes of sites of shops, structural alterations and sanitary arrangements. The Government of India deal with these paragraphs of the Indian Excise Committee's Report, in paragraph 13 of their Resolution No. 2997Exc., dated 16th May 1907, and in paragraph 6 of their Resolution No. 5086Exc., dated 15th August 1907. In the first cited Resolution the Government of India refer to the steps taken by the Government of Burma for the acquisition in Rangoon of sites capable of being used as country liquor shops, and remark that a similar course could, if necessary, be adopted in other large towns.

The local Committee observe that the most striking defects in the country liquor shops in Calcutta at present are insufficient space and an absence of light and air, and that it is hopeless under present circumstances to expect either landlords or tenants to make the necessary improvements. They are, therefore, of opinion that the only way to secure premises free from objection on sanitary grounds is to construct them at the public expense. The Lieutenant-Governor will await further information before deciding that the precedent of the Rangoon town should be followed in Calcutta. It is observed that one member of the Committee has expressed dissent from the recommendation made by the majority on the grounds (1) that the cases of difficulty in securing sites are not numerous, and (2) that the acquisition of sites by Government would involve permanent location of a shop in a site which might become objectionable owing to the development of the locality. The Superintendent of Excise Revenue, however, has furnished many instances of difficulty experienced by licensees in obtaining sites, and it is clear that this difficulty stands in the way of the structural arrangements of shops. The other objection is met by the answer that Government would order discontinuance of the use of acquired premises for sale of liquor when the altered conditions of a locality so require. The object in view is to minimise temptation, mitigate nuisance, and facilitate control and supervision, and to prevent landlords from intercepting an undue share of the profits of the monopoly of supply of liquor. In view of the strong recommendation of the Calcutta Committee, the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to receive proposals from the Board in special cases for construction, at the cost of Government, of a certain number of model buildings to be used as liquor shops. Care should be taken to select the least objectionable sites for the construction of such buildings, and if, in course of time, the sites become unsuitable for liquor shops owing to change of local conditions, the buildings would cease to be used as such.

Structural defects in shops.

11. With regard to the sitting rooms attached to the existing liquor shops, the Committee observe in the 30th paragraph of their Report that such rooms in their present condition are almost all objectionable on sanitary grounds, and are not sufficiently open to inspection. The Committee recommend that there should be no means of entrance into, or exit from, such rooms, except through the main shops, that they should be so constructed as not to afford undue facilities for secluded drinking, and that there should be no means of communication between such rooms and any residential apartments, or any staircase leading to the roof. The Lieutenant-Governor accepts the recommendations made by the Committee under these heads, and His Honour desires that effect should be given to them by the local authorities.

Strength at which country spirit is sold.

12. In paragraph 26 of their Report the Committee observe that country spirit is usually retailed at such high strengths in Calcutta that it is more injurious to the consumer than imported spirit. In former years the authorised maximum strength of country spirit issued from the Calcutta distilleries was 25° U. P., whereas, at present, the average strength of spirit issued is nearly 17° U. P. The present Committee strongly recommend a gradual reversion to the former practice. In paragraph 258 of their Report the Indian Excise Committee have specified 30° U P. as the highest strength which should be ordinarily issued, and the Government of India, in paragraph 13 of their Resolution No. 5086Exc., dated 15th August 1907, while accepting the view that the absolute prohibition of the sale of country liquor above a fixed low strength will not be effective in preventing drunkenness, approve the suggestion that where spirit is now sold at strengths exceeding 30° U. P., a reduction of the strength should be carried out in such a manner as not to provoke illicit practices. The Lieutenant-Governor is advised that a sudden reduction of the average strength of country liquor in Calcutta would be likely to drive the consumer to illicit practices or to have recourse to imported spirit. The Board have directed that the maximum issue strength of country spirit from the Calcutta distillery shall be limited from the 1st July 1908 to 20° U. P. The Lieutenant-Governor approves this order as a cautious step in the direction suggested.

Limit of retail sale.

13. In paragraph 27 of their Report, Mr. Geake's Committee recommend a reduction of the limit of retail sale of country spirit in Calcutta from 12 bottles to 6 bottles. Under section 17 of the Bengal Excise Act the limit of private possession is the same as the limit of retail sale. The Indian Excise Committee also in paragraph 248 of their Report have held that illicit sale of spirits in Calcutta is facilitated by the present high limit of private possession. In Calcutta shops for the sale of country spirits are not far distant from the houses of the consumers, and it is not necessary therefore for consumers to lay in large stocks. No. where in the mufassal districts of Bengal, except in the Sadar Sub-division of the 24-Parganas and in two sub-divisions of the Sonthal Parganas, is so large a limit of possession allowed as in Calcutta. In these circumstances the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the Committee's recommendation and approves the orders of the Board, which have been communicated by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue to the vendors, that this change will come into effect from 1st July 1908.

Hours during which shops for sale of spirits, hotels and restaurants may be kept open.

14. As regards the prescribed hours of sale of spirits in licensed premises the Committee observe in paragraph 28 of their Report that while the present closing hour of liquor shops, viz., 9 P.M., should not be generally extended, the Board should be empowered to extend up to 10 P.M. the time of closing in the case of shops situated in localities where, owing to late shifts at mills, docks, &c., the labouring classes do not leave work until a late hour. This power is already vested in the Board under section 23 of the Bengal Excise Act.

In this connexion the Committee also recommend in paragraph 29 of their Report that late closing licenses should no longer be ordinarily given to hotels as at present, and that they should be issued only in favour of respectable restaurants which cater for the theatre-going public. They also recommend that no open "bar" should be maintained in such restaurants. They advise that hotel licenses (as distinguished from late-closing licenses) should only be given to premises possessing bonâ fide residential accommodation.

The conditions under which hotel licenses are granted in Calcutta and under which late-closing licenses are issued have been carefully considered by the Board of Revenue. The existing orders on the subject date from 1884. The privilege of late-closing hitherto enjoyed by the hotels, as distinguished from the restaurants, appears to be based on the view that residential, or sleeping, accommodation adds to the respectability of the premises, and that late-closing arrangements are necessary for the convenience of hotel residents. The Calcutta Committee have, however, taken quite another view of the requirements of the public, and recommend that the demand for suppers and light refreshments after the theatres and places of amusement are closed should be met by granting special licenses to a few respectable and bonâ fide restaurants where food is supplied, to remain open up to 1 A.M.

While entirely accepting the recommendation of the Committee that hotel licenses should only be given to premises possessing bonâ fide residential accommodation, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that an absolute rule refusing late-closing licenses and bar licenses to hotels is not required. The case is well put in a note by Mr. Baboneau, which is appended to the papers herewith published. There does not seem to be sufficient reason for entire reversal of the rule which has obtained in Calcutta for the last 25 years, and for refusing to hotels what has hitherto been refused to restaurants. The grant of the privilege, whether to hotels or restaurants, should be carefully controlled by the local officers; and it is their duty not only to refuse a late-closing license, but also to refuse a hotel license, or a bar license to premises not properly conducted.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor takes this opportunity of thanking the Chairman and Members of the Committee for the careful enquiries made by them and for the valuable suggestions contained in their Report.

16. Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution and of the Committee's Report be forwarded to the Chairman and Members of the Committee, and that these papers be published in the Calcutta Gazette; also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue for information and favour of further necessary action.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. A. OLDHAM,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Note by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, Calcutta, on the subject of licenses issued for Hotels, Restaurants and Bars and on "late-closing" licenses.

A Bar or Restaurant attached to a hotel is subordinate to the hotel and it follows as a natural consequence that a late-closing license held by a hotel covers its Bar or Restaurant or both as the case might be.

The rule (Section IV, Rule 9, page 91, Volume I, Excise Manual) requires that a hotel fee shall not be less than Rs. 200 and that the fee shall be fixed by the Commissioner of Excise in each case. Possibly from a desire to avoid invidious distinctions Rs. 300 has come to be the fee adopted for all hotels.

Bar fees are fixed by the rules (Rule 12 idem) at Rs. 50 a month or Rs. 600 a year for permanent bars and Rs. 3 per day for temporary bars. These rates are strictly adhered to for bars.

The late-closing fee is at a sliding scale from Rs. 25 to Rs. 50 per month according to the hours of closure. The Police have, however, consistently refused to sanction a later closing hour than 1 A.M., for permanent bars, the fee for which being fixed at Rs. 40 a month it has come about that Rs. 480 a year is paid by all these establishments, which naturally strive to keep open to the latest possible hour.

Rule 14, Section IV, page 92 of the Excise Manual, Volume I, deals with restaurant fees: no minimum is fixed as in the case of hotels unless the words "in the same way" should be held to include such a minimum. Rs. 300 and Rs. 400 are the general rates paid for these establishments. The two notable exceptions to the rule are the two cases where the fees are Rs. 120 and Rs. 2,000.

Rupees 120 was the fee fixed by a former Commissioner as a special case for the restaurant at the Zoo where the attendance is more or less restricted.

The origin of the very high fee of Rs. 2,000 a year paid for the restaurant at the Municipal Market is obscure. That fee has been paid for many years. Apparently the establishment originally held what was then known as a glass license subject to sale by auction and when it was changed to a restaurant license the then proprietor offered or agreed to pay Rs. 2,000 a year in spite of the fact that the hour of closure was fixed at 9 P.M. That was some 15 or 17 years ago and the same conditions have continued to the present day. The restaurant also has a bottle license at a fee of Rs. 1,000 a year which admits of sales by the bottle. The hour of closure for a bottle license being 9 P.M., the restaurant has to close at that hour or there would be illicit sales under the bottle license which it would be impossible to check.

Three restaurants are held at fees of Rs. 200 each. Two are in conjunction with hotels and other licenses and a slight concession was made to them in consideration of the fact that they were paying other fees for the same establishment. The third license at Rs. 200 is held by the Royal Exchange. The fee was, it seems, fixed in consideration of the fact that the restaurant is not maintained for a profit but for the benefit of the members thus partaking somewhat of the nature of a club.

As observed by the Hon'ble Member, the ordinary fee for restaurant ranges from Rs. 300 to Rs. 400 and the exceptions to the rule have been explained.

Of the 4 Bar licenses the Bristol Hotel Bar is the only one covered by a late-closing license. This is due to the fact that the parent license i.e., the Hotel license is supplemented by a late-closing license. The remaining three Hotels, Great Eastern Hotel, Grand Hotel, Spence's Hotel having bar licenses have not a late-closing license.

The recommendations of the Calcutta Excise Committee do not seem to be confined to the Bristol Hotel in particular but are apparently intended to include all the hotels in Bentinck Street and its neighbourhood. To these they have alluded as the "so-called" hotels. These hotels have no recognized bar at present but every one of them has a room or rooms usually on the ground floor where drinks are served to casual visitors. Every one of these hotels formerly had bar licenses and employed Barmaids. When the prohibition to the employment of barmaids was introduced some years ago they resigned the bar licenses retaining the hotel and late-closing licenses only. As, however, these hotels continued to serve drinks to casual visitors in rooms set apart for the purpose the proper course would have been for the then Excise authorities to have taken action under rule 15, Section IV, page 91 of the Excise Manual and to have declared these rooms to constitute "Bars" or "Restaurants" which could be maintained only under a proper license. If these hotels are now deprived of their late-closing licenses under the proposed transfer of such licenses to restaurants alone everyone of them will be obliged to close down, for the drinks supplied by them to casual visitors at night represent a substantial portion of their profits. They are poor hotels and their profits from the hotel proper portion of their business are in themselves too small for their maintenance. They nevertheless meet a substantial demand and if forced to close down at an early hour, the class for which they cater will undoubtedly be driven for their drinks to less desirable places, viz., to the low European brothels where drinks are freely sold without licenses.

I quite agree with the Committee's recommendation that hotel licenses should be given to establishments possessing bonâ fide residential accommodation. Establishments not having such accommodation and catering for casual customers should be classed as Restaurants. I maintain also that an establishment having both residential accommodation and catering for casual customers should have both a "Hotel" and a "Restaurant" license. In all recent cases I have enforced this as far as possible. I found both Spence's Hotel and the Continental Hotel doing both a hotel and a restaurant business whilst holding only a hotel license. I insisted on their taking out restaurant licenses in addition. The Palace Hotel wanted only a hotel and late-closing licenses but as they clearly intended conducting a restaurant business also they were obliged to take out a restaurant license as well. The Temple Bar Hotel was a restaurant pure and simple without a single room for lodgers but had for some years been allowed a hotel and late-closing license. A restaurant license was substituted and the late-closing license withdrawn as under the existing rules it is not admissible. The proprietor has been nearly ruined in consequence. As a matter of fact the distinction between a Hotel and a Restaurant had for some years been lost sight of, and they were treated as synonymous terms resulting in a somewhat anomalous condition of things. It has not been possible to rectify the errors in all cases.

I cannot, however, agree with the Committee's recommendation that the late-closing license should be confined to Restaurants alone. Undoubtedly it is the Restaurant more than the Hotel that requires a late-closing license, but there are cases in which a late-closing license for a Hotel becomes necessary, and if the rules do not admit a remedy it will follow that attempts will be made as in the past, to circumvent the rules. Hitherto the complaint has been that establishments which should be classed as Restaurants have taken out Hotel licenses in order to secure the late-closing license. If the Committee's recommendation is adopted of confining such licenses to Restaurants alone it may be said that the complaint of the future will be that Hotels not having bonâ fide Restaurants have taken out such a license merely to secure the privilege of late-closing. I am therefore strongly of opinion that the privilege of taking out a late-closing license should be extended to Restaurants and not confined to them alone, i e., that late-closing licenses may be admissible to both Hotels and Restaurants. This would seem to be in accordance with the views of the Indian Excise Committee. The Hotels have long had the privilege of a late-closing license and there seems to be no reason why they should be deprived of it to admit of its extension to Restaurants. The granting of late-closing licenses to suitable establishments should be properly controlled by the local officers.

J. T. BABONEAU,

Superintendent, Excise Revenue, Calcutta.

The 1st April 1908.

Report of the Local Committee appointed to consider and report on the number, location and distribution of licenses for the sale of spirituous liquor in Calcutta and the Suburbs (including Howrah).

No. 202E., dated Calcutta, the 29th February 1908.

From—The President and Members of the Local Excise Committee, Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.

In accordance with the instructions contained in Government Order No. 315T.—S.R., dated the 21st September 1907, a copy of which was forwarded with the Board's memorandum No. 483B.—T., dated the 23rd idem, we have the honour to submit the following report on the matters referred to us for enquiry.

2. The original Government order appointing this Committee and prescribing the manner of its composition, was issued on 21st September 1907. Certain modifications were introduced by a letter, dated the 14th October 1907, but it was not until the 14th November that the nominations made by the Calcutta Municipality were finally accepted.

The Committee, as finally constituted, comprised the following members:—

Commissioner of Excise	Chairman.
Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation	Members.
Commissioner of Police, Calcutta
Mr. W. C. Madge, Babu Priya Nath Mallik and Maulvi Badr-ud-din Haidar, Khan Bahadur, nominated by the Calcutta Corporation

3. In all 18 formal meetings were held. A set of questions was framed (Appendix C) and circulated to the Press and to representatives of the different communities in order to elicit an expression of opinion. The proceedings of the Committee were public and were partly reported in the newspapers. All the Temperance Associations were invited to communicate their views on the subject. The Committee visited and inspected more than 50 shops in Calcutta and the Suburbs, including all those against which objections had been preferred. Thirty-three witnesses were orally examined; and a large number of objections and representations received in writing were carefully considered.

4. As it took considerable time to work up the required material, and as the members could not spare time for continuous and protracted sittings, the Committee found it impossible to submit their report within the time-limit set by Government, viz., by the end of December. It was felt, moreover, that in a matter upon which opinions are so diverse, and the public in general so little informed, the fullest opportunity for discussion and investigation should be afforded.

* * * * * * *

7. The following matters were referred to the Committee for deliberation and advice:—

(i) The number of "on" and "off" retail licenses required for country and foreign spirit, respectively.
(ii) The location and distribution of shops.
(iii) The separation of country and foreign spirit shops.
(iv) The limit of retail sale.
(v) The hours of sale.
(vi) The question of structural defects in shops.

The Committee proposes to deal with each of these matters so far as may be separately.

8. (i) The number of "on" and "off" retail licenses required for country and foreign spirit, respectively.—It appears to the Committee to be impracticable to prescribe any maximum or minimum number of shops for Calcutta. The material and the information available are not sufficient to furnish adequate data for determining any such abstract figures. All that the members are in a position to do is to indicate the number of shops which they consider sufficient for present requirements, so far as these have been ascertained. They are not prepared to say that no additional shops may, in the future, be required, and they believe that the most efficient check upon the under multiplication of shops will be found, not in imposing a hard and fast maximum number which must under no circumstances be exceeded, but in providing a suitable tribunal for scrutinizing proposals for the establishment of additional shops. In other words, where a proved demand may in future be found to exist which cannot adequately be supplied by any of the existing shops, they would not oppose the creation of a new shop after exhaustive local enquiry and full consideration of all local objections by an independent tribunal established upon the lines recommended in paragraph 20 below.

9. (ii) The location and distribution of shops.—The location and distribution of the Calcutta liquor shops is a subject to which the Committee has devoted very careful consideration. The view was strongly urged by the Temperance Association' that the shops are too numerous, and that they occupy too conspicuous sites, thereby offering undue temptation to the casual drinker. Upon a careful consideration of these general objections [and of special objections preferred against many of the licenses, and after visiting each of such shops, the Committee has come to the conclusion that the sites of many of the Calcutta shops are open to one or more of the following objections :-

(1) Too close proximity one to the other, drinkers being thereby encouraged to visit shop after shop in succession. Shops should not, in the opinion of the Committee, occupy sites less than a quarter of a mile apart.
(2) Occupation of corner sites, and sites on main thoroughfares, or specially prominent sites, with the result that undue temptation is offered to passers-by and to casual drinkers.
(3) Unsuitability for local reasons, e.g., proximity to school, college, public building or place of worship, or as offending the prejudices of neighbouring residents.
(4) Unsuitable construction, and in particular bad ventilation.
(5) That they afford access to private quarters or back lanes, with the result that illicit sales after hours are encouraged.

9. The Committee would desire to close several shops for one or more of the above reasons, but they are faced with the following difficulties :—

(a) If one or more shops are closed in a locality, it is probable that contiguous shops will become overcrowded.
(b) Under the present system of auction sales, the successful bidder is responsible for obtaining a site, and this leads to site monopoly. The practical difficulties of obtaining suitable sites under the present arrangements are explained at length in a note by Mr. Baboneau, Superintendent of Excise Revenue, which is appended to this report (Appendix B); and in view of the facts which it discloses, it would seem to the Committee to be impossible to arrive at a satisfactory solution of the problem of location under the present system.

10. In the opinion of the Committee premises for "on" sales of intoxicating liquor ought to satisfy the following conditions:—

(1) The shop should be situated upon a street which affords facilities for supervision.
(2) The site should not be upon a thoroughfare crowded by passers-by, as such a position affords undue temptation to casual drinkers.
(3) It should not occupy a corner site for the same reason.
(4) No two shops should be situated within a quarter of a mile of each other.
(5) The shop must not be situated in a residential neighbourhood where its existence will cause offence, nor in proximity to a school, college or place of worship.
(6) The building should be airy, clean and well ventilated, and so constructed as to afford complete facilities for inspection, while opportunities for secluded drinking and for illicit transactions should be avoided.
(7) It should be situated only in a locality where a bona fide demand exists.

11. Now, even a cursory examination of the Calcutta shops will show that very few of them satisfy all the above conditions, and in the case of most of them nothing short of removal to a new site to be selected for the purpose will remove the cause of objection.

The number of satisfactory sites is, moreover, extremely limited, and even if the licensing authority had a free hand in the selection of sites, it would be difficult to secure localities which would satisfy all the above conditions. Under present arrangements, hoevwer, the licensing authority is at the mercy of the vendors, who would themselves find it impossible to select suitable sites even if they desired to do so. The vendor in possession is able to prevent his rival from obtaining any site at all in the neighbourhood and under the present system the authority must either close the shop altogether or permit it to continue upon its objectionable site.

12. For these reasons the Committee believe that the only satisfactory solution of the difficulty will be found in a root and branch change of system, and they recommend that the Government or Municipality concerned should be empowered to acquire suitable sites, erect buildings and lease them to the vendors. They do not overlook the objections which may be preferred to this proposal on the ground that the Government or municipal authority would in this manner become too intimately and patently associated with the liquor traffic, but they consider that this objection is outweighed by the advantages which would accrue from the scheme suggested.

13. The Committee is encouraged to put forward this proposal by the sympathetic views expressed towards it by the Government of India in the Resolution No. 2997 Excise, dated the 16th May 1907. If the proposal is accepted, it will be possible, in the opinion of the Committee, to effect reduction in the number of shops, and to reduce the temptations now offered to the casual drinker. They desire to point out moreover that the proposal does not involve any unremunerative outlay of public funds; on the contrary, after the original cost of construction and the expense of maintenance are recouped by a sufficient percentage on the outlay in the shape of rent, a large addition would be secured to the revenue from license fees, which would represent the difference between the excessive monopoly rents now paid for private premises, and the lower rents payable, as determined above, for the new buildings.

14. While, however, the Committee is strongly impressed by the advantages which the scheme offers, and while the members believe that it affords the only satisfactory solution of the difficulties which present themselves, they have not considered themselves justified in confining their proposals to this suggested reform, but have carefully considered the best means of dealing with the existing shops so as to remove the principal causes of objection.

15. When considering the particular shops that must be retained as well as those that might be abolished without prejudice to the legitimate needs of habitual consumers, the Committee has dealt with each ward separately, full consideration being, however, given to the fact that shops in one ward may supply the residents of an adjacent ward or of other wards.

Ward No. I.

This contains five shops. The only one which, in the opinion of the Committee, appears superfluous is that located at No. 11, Shambazar Bridge Road. This is in close proximity to the shop at the end of Circular Road. It is said that the former is frequented by sweepers and low-class consumers, whereas the latter has a more respectable clientele. This may be so, but the existence of two shops at one of the principal entrances to Calcutta is to be deprecated.

Ward No. II.

There are only two shops, and these appear to be necessary.

Ward No. III.

There are six shops in this ward, three on Chitpur Road, one at Maniktola Road, one in Halsi Bagan and one on Circular Road. The majority of the Committee consider that two on Chitpur Road and one in Halsi Bagan might be abolished, the reason in the former case being that licenses in that neighbourhood are congested, and in the latter that the sale is small and the demand could be met from the Circular Road shop. The suggestions are that No. 154 Upper Chitpur Road, and No 40, Guranhatta Street, should be abolished. The Temperance Federation proposes the retention of No. 40, Guranhatta Street, and the substitution of a Foreign liquor license for the other two shops in Chitpur Road. The President has no objection to a reduction of shops in Chitpur Road, but he cannot admit that any valid reason has been shown for abolishing the shop in Halsi Bagan, which even the Temperance Federation has not objected to.

Ward No. IV.

This has only two shops, and both appear necessary.

Ward No. V.

There are five shops. This is a densely-populated ward, largely inhabited by prostitutes, and the Committee does not find that any of the shops can be dispensed with.

Ward No. VI.

There are eight shops, and they have been subjected to more criticism than possibly any other shops in the town. The majority of the Committee recommend the abolition of the shops No. 14 Upper Chitpur Road, and No. 206-1, Cornwallis Street. These happen to be two out of the three shops which the Temperance Federation would wish to retain. The Committee carefully considered and visited all the shops in this ward. Those in Cornwallis Street are in proximity to respectable houses and to some students hostels. Whilst fully admitting the desirability of removing liquor shops from a street of this class, the Committee cannot overlook the existence of a large bonafide demand for both classes of spirit in this locality. Hence the necessity for shops is obvious, but the Committee thinks that the shop at No. 206-1 might be converted into an imported liquor license for consumption "off" the premises and the shop at No. 196 removed, if possible, to a less prominent situation in an off street on the eastern side. The President has no objection to the abolition of a shop in Chitpur Road, but considers that the sales in the Cornwallis Street shops show the necessity for the existing shops—at the same time he quite agreed to their removal to less prominent sites.

Ward No. VII.

There is only one shop in the ward and its retention is considered necessary.

Ward No. VIII.

There are four shops. The Committee is of opinion that one should be abolished, either No. 60, Lower Chitpur Road, or No. 85, Colootola Street, on the ground that they are within quarter mile of each other, and the Department itself recommended the conversion of the former into an imported liquor shop. The President does not consider that licenses in this locality are congested; and in view of the density and character of the population and the demand for liquor, he thinks that both shops are required.

Ward No. IX.

There are six shops, the intervening distance is adequate and the consumption indicates the necessity for retention.

Ward No. X.

There are four shops. The Committee is of opinion that No. 82, Bow Bazar Street, should be abolished because there is another shop in Wellington Street, at a distance of a hundred feet only, which offers very much superior accommodation; but as there appears to be a large demand for foreign liquor in the locality, the Committee would recommend the substitution of an imported liquor "off" license for the country spirit license at 82, Bow Bazar.

Wards XI and XII.

These have now no shops, the demand being met by shops situated on the borders of adjacent wards.

Ward XIII.

This has eight shops and includes the disreputable locality of Collinga Bazar. The Committee recommends the abolition of the shop No. 27, Wellesley Street (at the corner of Marquis Street), on account of its proximity to the shops in Collinga Bazar, as also on account of objections by the Police and the Ward Commissioner. The other shops are considered necessary to meet the demand.

Ward XIV.

Of the six shops in this ward, there are only two that call for adverse comment. These are situated on Circular Road at the corners of Dharamtolla and Corporation Streets, respectively. It is recommended that these should be combined into one shop and removed either lower down in Dharamtolla or northwards up the Circular Road, so as to avoid a spot where so many entrances into the town converge.

Wards XV, XVI, XVII, and VIII.

These wards contain only one shop, with which there is no reason to interfere.

Ward XIX.

This has five shops. The Committee has no improvement to suggest, except that the shop No. 32, South Road, Entally, should be shifted a little to the eastwards, so as to place it further from the existing shops.

Ward XX.

There are three shops. The number is not excessive and is justified by the demand.

Ward XXI.

There are three shops, of which one has remained closed for the last two years owing to the inability of the vendor to secure a site free from objection. The Excise authorities and the vendor have proposed a site near the Old Ballygunge Road and Bandel Road, and the Superintendent states that a vendor is willing to pay a fee of Rs. 200 for such a shop. Three members of the Committee consider that the population in that locality is scanty, and that the existence of an adequate demand is not proved to their satisfaction. Two, including the President, consider that a shop could be suitably located in the proposed locality, and that the reasons adduced justify the transfer of the shop now closed to that spot. The majority considers that the closed shop should be abolished altogether.

Ward XXII.

There are ten shops in this ward, and they have nearly all been subjected to many objections and much criticism. The Committee visited each shop and discussed the position locally. The majority of the Committee propose to abolish three shops, viz., (a) No. 113, Russa Road, on the ground that it is a corner shop, is the subject of local objection and has other shops on the east and west within a quarter of a mile; (b) No. 42, Russa Road, on the ground that it is situated in the midst of a respectable quarter and at a halting place for tramcars, that ladies have to pass it on the way to bathe, and that there is another shop not far off opposite Chakerbere Road; (c) No. 104, Kalighat Road, as being in the immediate vicinity of the temple and in a spot frequented by respectable females. It is also recommended that it would be better if the shop at No. 34, Elgin Road, could be removed further to the east. The President concurs in the opinion that the shops of this ward are badly situated. As regards local objections, he finds that other shops, notably 34, Elgin Road, and the shop behind the Hospital, are opposed quite as strongly or upon just as good grounds as those upon which the others have been selected for removal. He has no objection to the reduction of two shops in this ward, but considers that the new bustis formed in the ward require consideration. If the proposals of the majority be accepted, there would only remain two shops on the Russa Road, a distance of two miles, with a dense and mostly low class population. Four members voted against the proposal to transfer one of the objectionable shops to a new site near the junction of Hazra Road and Russa Road, where the Department reported the existence of a demand.

Wards XXIII and XXIV.

These wards containing three shops were not considered to require any alteration.

Ward XXV.

Ward XXV contains seven shops; this ward includes the Kidderpore Docks, and it is alleged that sailors frequent the shops, get drunk and create disturbances. The Commissioner of Police subsequently stated that after personal enquiry he was satisfied that the sailors were not in the habit of drinking country spirit. The majority of the Committee decided to recommend the abolition of two out of the three shops on Circular Garden Reach Road, leaving intact the shops on Watgunge Road, as being more under the control of the police-station. The President agrees with the other members in thinking that one country spirit shop on the road between Kidderpore Bridge and the Docks is sufficient, but he would also accept the view of the Temperance Federation that No. 144-1, Circular Garden Reach Road, should be converted into an imported liquor shop instead of being abolished altogether. It need not necessarily be placed near the bridge or at the junction of three roads as at present, but it is useless to deny all facilities to the sailors and expect them thereby to become total abstainers. They can get into Bentinck Street for an anna by tram and would only add to the congestion already existing there.

16. In addition to dealing with the liquor shops in Calcutta, the Committee also considered the state of affairs in the outlying Municipalities of Howrah, Bally, Chitpur-Cossipore, and Manicktolla. In connection with the two former, the Magistrate of Howrah and in connection with the two latter, the Collector of the 24-Parganas joined the Committee.

Howrah Municipality contains 22 liquor shops. The only shops which were the subject of local objections are those situated in the Chandmari Road and at the extremity of the Hurrogunge Road. It appears that the former has already been transfered by the local authorities to a new locality, and the Committee agreed that the shop at 154, Hurrogunge Road, might be abolished, as the Vice-Chairman of the Municipality, as well as other respectable residents, objected to it. The local demand is also supplied by another shop at no great distance. Further, the Committee found that the shop at 101, Dobson's Road, is situated just opposite the shops at 26, Tindall Gardon Road; and as they had already adopted the principle of ½ mile distance between shops, they thought that an Imported liquor "off" license should be substituted for one of these shops. The Magistrate of Howrah, Mr. Forrest, saw no objection to these two shops being situated close together. He said there was a large local demand, and that the two shops could be easily controlled. He did not consider that consumption would be affected either way. The Committee came to the conclusion that 101, Dobson's Road, might be abolished.

17. There are four shops in Manicktollah and four shops in Bally. The Committee has no reason to consider any change necessary.

18. In Cossipore-Chitpur there are six shops and a population of 50,000, mostly composed of the labouring classes. Only one shop at No. 114, Cossipore Road, was objected to, and the Committee is divided in opinion regarding its retention. Three voted for abolition and two for retention. Mr. Bompas, Collector of the 24-Parganas, declined to offer an opinion. The reasons for abolition were that the Municipality and neighbouring mill owners raised objections to the shop. Against this it was urged that the shop showed the largest consumption in Chitpur, and that there was no other shop in the immediate vicinity, that the residents were coolies who required drink and would have it, and that no adequate reasons were shown for depriving them of this convenience.

19. If these proposals are accepted, the number of shops in Calcutta and the suburban municipalities will be as follows:—

Statement comparing number of shops now proposed with existing number.

Name of locality.		Existing numbers of Calcutta and Suburban shops.	Number proposed for abolition.	Number to be retained after abolition.	Remarks.
Calcutta proper	...	52	8	44
Suburbs	.	39	8	31
Manicktollah	Municipality	4	.	4
Cossipore-Chitpur	ditto	6	1	5
Howrah	ditto	22	2	20
Bally	ditto	4		4
Total		127	19	108

20. This is the number of shops the Committee considers necessary at present. With regard to future requirements, the Committee would suggest that some time before the conclusion of each settlement a Committee should sit in public and decide all objections to existing shops and all applications for new shops. The Committee attach much importance to the desirability of conducting such enquiries in public. The proposed tribunal should be responsible for the decision of all questions relating to the number, location and distribution of shops. It is suggested that the Committee might comprise the Excise Commissioner, the Chairman of the Corporation, the Commissioner of Police, and three representatives of the public to be appointed by Government from different classes of the public.

21. With regard to retail "off" licenses for the sale of imported spirits, there is no evidence before the Committee to show that the existing numbers of licenses is anywhere in excess of the requirements, nor has any local objection been raised except by certain members of the Marwari community residing near Harrison Road.

22. In connection with the sale of imported liquor, the Committee has considered a suggestion put forward by the Excise Committee that rum licenses should be abolished. There are at present only four of such shops within the Calcutta Excise jurisdiction, and the Committee see no objection to the proposed abolition, though they think it will be necessary to substitute a license for foreign liquor.

23. The separation of Country and Foreign Spirit shops.—Upon general principles the Committee sees no objection to the vend of country and foreign spirit on the same peemises. They have after full enquiry no reason to believe that liquor paying a lower rate of duty is in fact substituted for that paying a higher rate, nor do they think such a proceeding likely to be adopted by vendors with any measure of success, as consumers can easily discriminate between the two descriptions of liquor. Moreover, the Committee are of opinion that the separation cannot be effected without increasing the number of places where liquor can be procured, to an extent which the Committee consider undesirable.

24. There is, however, some evidence before the Committee that the facilities for obtaining imported spirit offer a temptation to certain sections of the Indian middle classes to indulge in drink, which they might not do if none but county spirit were available. The Committee therefore considers that in localitiss where the consumption of foreign liquor is confined to such classes of the population, licenses for "on" consumption of imported liquor should not be issued.

25. They would recommend that the subsidary license to sell foreign spirit, which is now given on application to any country spirit vendor, should only be granted in those localities where a bonâ fide demand for foreign spirits exists to an extent that requires a source of legitimate supply. Upon the other hand, a foreign spirit license alone should be granted in localities frequented mostly by Europeans, Eurasians, Chinamen and others who are not in in the habit of taking country spirit.

26. Apart from the question of the temptation that imported liquor may hold out to the inexperienced drinker, country spirit as retailed would appear to be far more deleterious in its effects. It has been demonstrated to the Committee that country spirit is usually retailed at a high strength and drunk neat without dilution, whereas the cheaper brands of imported spirit are of a comparatively low alcoholic strength and are usually considerably diluted before consumption. It is now generally admitted that the injurious effects of spirituous liquors depend for all practical purposes upon the amount of alcohol they contain, and it would appear to be inadvisable therefore to diminish the facilities for obtaining imported spirits in comparison with those that exist for obtaining county spirit. It appears that in former years the maximum legal strength of country spirit issued from distilleries was 25° U.P., whereas at present spirit of the strength of 17° U.P. is commonly issued. The Excise Committee specified 30° U.P. as the highest strength which should be ordinarily issued, and a gradual reversion to the former practice is a reform that the Committee would strongly recommend.

27. (iv)) The limit of retail sale.—The Committee would advise a reduction in the limit of retail sale of country spirit to six bottles, instead of 12 bottles as now obtains, as they believe that such a restriction would tend to check illcit sales. They cannot, however, recommend a further reduction in the limit in view of the consideration that, there being no limit to the retail sale of imported liquor, any differential treatment detrimental to country spirit may possibly result in an increased demand for foreign, which it is the declared object of Government to discourage. It may be observed that whatever limit is adopted for retail sale will apply equally to the possession of country spirit.

28. (v) Hours of sale.—The Committee have considered the question of extending the closing hour to 10 P.M. and are prepared to admit that sufficient grounds exist for believing that early closing tends to encourage illicit sales in houses of ill-fame. At the same time they do not recommend an extension of the hour because they believe that such illicit sales would still continue, though possibly to a smaller extent, and the extra hours would induce people to continue drinking at the shops They recognise, however, the necessity for some concession in the case of localities, where, owing to late shifts at mills, docks, &c., the labouring classes do not leave work until a late hour, and they see no objection to a modification of the existing rule by which the Board should be empowered to extend the term of closing in the case of particular shops up to 10 P.M.

29. The Committee has given careful consideration to the complaint which has reached them regarding the evils of late closing in so-called hotels in Bentinck Street and its neighbourhood, which are licensed for sales up to so late an hour as 1 A.M. Some of these "hotels" appear to depend for their profits mainly on open drinking bars, and the Committee is of opinion that these should be closed at 11 P.M., instead of being allowed to remain open up to 1 A.M as at present. At the same time the Committee recognizes that a public demand exists for suppers and light refreshments after the theatres close, and recommends that this be met by granting licenses to remain open up to 1 A.M to a few bonâ fide restaurants where food is supplied and which are respectably conducted. This should be regarded as a special concession, and such restaurants should not be allowed to maintain an open bar. The Committee further considers that hotel licenses should only given to premises possessing bonâ fide residential accommodation.

30. (ii) Structural defects.—The most striking defects at present are an absence of light and air and insufficient space. Overcrowiding at certain hours, an accumulation of filth, and a general air of dilapidation are the results of the precarious tenure which makes the tenant reluctant to incur expenditure that he may be unable to recover or from which he may derive no benefit. It may be admitted that the liquor shops are no worse in these respects than other shops in their immediate vicinity, or even than the dwelling-houses of the classes for which they cater. The Committee considers it hopeless under present circumstances to expect either landlords or tenants to make the necessary improvements, and the difficulties that beset any attempt by a private individual to extend his premises, or to acquire a new site, are such that it would be inequitable to make the grant of a license conditional upon the construction of model premises. In the opinion of the Committee the only way to secure premises free from objection on sanitary grounds is to construct them at the public expense, a reform which has already been advocated upon other grounds.

31. The Committee is not prepared on general principles to condemn the existence of of sitting rooms attached to the shops, but such rooms in their present condition are almost all open to serious objections on sanitary grounds, and as not being sufficiently open to inspection. There should also be no means of entrance into or exit from such rooms, except through the main shop, and they should be so constructed as not to afford undue facilities for secluded drinking. There should moreover be no means of communication between such rooms and any reside tial apartments and a staircase leading to the roof, which has been noticed in some shops, is open to the same objection.

32. A note, which deals with the salient point of Excise administration in Calcutta and the neighbourhood from the earliest times, is attached to this report for reference (Appendix A). The modern history of excise administration may be said to date from 1872 when the present auction system was introduced. Since that date the tendency has always been in the direction of a reduction in the number of shops, which are now fewer by 10 than they were 35 years ago, though the drinking population has very largely increased during this period. Indeed it is clear from the facts and figures contained in the Appendix that at no time in the history of Calcutta have the facilities for obtaining intoxicating liquor been fewer than at the present day. At the same time the rate of duty has been largely increased with the object of checking consumption, and the present price of a bottle af country spirit represents the price at which a gallon could have been purchased fifty years ago.

Note by Mr. W. C. Madge.

I attach so much importance to the two recommendations made by the Committee, viz, the Government or Corporation's ownership of shops and the appointment of a licensing Committee giving due representation to public opinion as the only means of keeping the liquor traffic under proper control that I do not think it is of very much moment whether the Committee is of one mind about the exact number of shops which should at once be closed. Otherwise I should have pressed for the closure of a few more. On these grounds I agree to the report as it stands.

Note by Babu Priya Nath Mallik.

I sign the report with the following reservations:—

Selection of site.

That in the selection of sites for shops for the sale of spirituous liquors local option should be allowed. This is not a new thing in Calcutta. After the 1st February 1794, when Statute 33, George III, Chapter 52, relating to the Municipal administration of Calcutta, came into operation, "no spirituous liquors and arrack" were allowed to be sold except under a license from the Justices of the Police (Article 159). Various suggestions have been made to determine the suitability of sites, but the best thing would be to leave the selection to the Corporation or rather the District Special Committees and the Ward Commissioner.

Acquisition of site.

2. The acquisition of sites for shops by the Government or the Municipality is unnecessary and objectionable. The difficulty of finding sites has been overestimated, as only two cases have been pointed out by the Superintendent of Excise Revenue. On the other hand the acquisition of sites means the permanent location of shops at different places which is much to be deprecated. A particular site may be unobjectionable in the year 1908, but it may be highly objectionable in 1918 as localities often change its character. I remember that 25 or 30 years before there was a shop at No 1, Russa Road (North), namely, at its junction with Lower Circular Road which was not objected to by any one. Can anybody now propose the same site? The big bustee that existed there has gone and the demand has vanished. The case of No. 1 Chuckerberia Road (North) is also in point. There is now absolutely no demand for a country spirit shop at or near the place, as the locality which previously consisted of bustees has been converted into sites for masonry residential houses. I may also refer to the Theatre Road shop before and after the bustees at Nos. 7 and 8 had been built upon.

Shop at 196, Cornwallis Street.

3. The objections to the shop at No. 196, Cornwallis Street, have been under-rated. It is in the midst of a very respectable residential quarter and opposite the Oxford Mission and has been strongly objected to. Whatever demand there is can easily be met by the shop at the junction of Cornwallis Street and Baranosee Ghose's Street and at No. 134, Manicktollah Street, which are going to be retained.

Shop at 34, Elgin Road.

4. I am glad that the Committee are unanimous in recommending the reduction of two shops from my ward (No. 22), viz, the one at No. 42, Russa Road (North), and the other at No. 104, Kalighat Road. I however strongly object to the site of the one at No. 34, Elgin Road. It certainly should be removed further to the east and for which purpose I pointed out two sites to the Committee. I am also glad that the recommendation for the removal of No. 113, Russa Road (North), is unanimous. No. doubt there is a good demand there as the sales show, but the present position of the shop is extremely objectionable, and I suggested to the Committee that it may be removed to No. 10, Russa Road (North), or thereabouts. This is the more necessary, as not only this but also the one at No. 42, Russa Road (North), have been unanimously recommended for removal. To my mind the one at No. 34-2, Russa Road (North), and the other at No. 171, Kalighat Road, will not meet the legitimate demand.

Note of Dissent by the President.

I sign this report subject to the following reservation: I regret that I cannot accept the views of my colleagues regarding the number of shops required in Calcutta. Even so far back as 1864, when the number of country spirit shops in Calcutta proper was 72 against 52 at present, the Board wrote: "Much has been said by the Commissioner of the Calcutta Police and others against the attempts of the Excise Department to increase the revenue at the sacrifice of public morality, by the establishment of an increased number of spirit shops." At any rate, the attempts of the Department have been singularly unsuccessful, for the Abkari Superintendent writes. "The number of shops to sell by the glass are, and no doubt very properly, limited in Calcutta, but considering the area of this city and its mixed population, they are by no means too many: for although the population has largely increased within the last 20 years, the shops are still confined to the original places they occupied in 1844."

I am unable to find from the evidence adduced before this Committee any justification for the theory that the number of shops is in any degree excessive or beyond the legitimate requirements of a town like Calcutta. It is clearly established that in spite of a rapidly growing population, largely caused by an influx of the labouring classes, the efforts of the responsible authorities have been always directed towards preventing any increase in the facilities for procuring drink. There is nothing in the recorded evidence to give ground for apprehension that the drink habit in general is increasing or that classes previously abstinent are in any danger of falling victims to that habit. The testimony of those who are in a position to know goes to show that a very distinct reaction against indulgence in drink has set in among the respectable classes generally and students in particular. The labouring classes in Calcutta are largely free from home restraints, and probably spend more in dissipation than they would in their native villages. If it be admitted that in certain localities the number of shops is unnecessarily large, there is nothing to show that drunkenness or crime is more prevalent in these localities than in other parts of the town. The recent Excise Committee, which heard evidence of a similar nature to that placed before this Committee, came to the conclusion that the number of shops in Calcutta was not excessive, but that they might be redistributed with advantage owing to the movement of population. With this view I fully concur. For a population like that of Calcutta the proportion of one shop to ten thousand persons is, in my opinion, moderate and reasonable. Madras, with a population of 771,800, has 108 country spirit shops and 62 taverns for the "on consumption of imported spirit, which includes toddy spirit. Bombay, with a population of 976,000 and double the consumption of Calcutta, has 294 country spirit shops and 49 taverns. Thus with regard to country spirit shops alone, Madras has one to 7,000 and Bombay one to 3,300 persons. Calcutta with only one to 10,000 compares very favourably with any other city in India. It is worthy of note that 75 years ago when licensing and administration were in the hands of Justices of the Peace and a high fixed license fee was imposed on all shops (a policy that is now advocated by some professed authorities), the number of shops in Calcutta proper was exactly the same as now, and so far as I can gather, with about half the present population, the consumption was considerably greater. The majority of the Committee propose to abolish 8 shops in Calcutta proper, thus reducing the above number to 44, which on a population of 5½ lakhs would give only one shop to 12,500 persons. The monthly consumption of the shops proposed for abolition comes to 2,454 L. P. gallons, as shown in the margin. Surely no further evidence is needed to show that these shops supply an actual legitimate demand. I see no justification for imposing hardship upon habitual consumers, who for generations have procured their supplies at a particular shop, by making them travel a longer distance to satisfy their requirements. Of course the inarticulate masses have no voice on this Committee. It behoves us therefore to be all the more careful in depriving them of any facilities which they already enjoy. It savours of class tyranny to cut down the shops that cater for the poor and maintain those that supply the higher classes. If we dictate a standard for the lower classes, we ought to be prepared to enforce the same in the case of establishments patronized exclusively by the higher classes and not be deterred by the fact that the latter can voice their grievances more readily. I am quite prepared to accept a ¼ mile limit between shops as providing reasonable facility, but I would enforce this rule not merely with a view to abolition, but in order to secure better distribution. Both the Excise authorities and the vendors have pointed out localities where a demand exists and where a shop could be located without any infringement of this rule, e.g., Radha Bazar, Old Ballygunge, Amherst Street, Dum-Dum Road, Hazra Road, Kakurgachi, Ultadinghi, Dakuria, Matiabruj, but the members appear to be averse on principle to placing a shop where none existed before, in spite of altered circumstances. The population of Calcutta owing to the demolition of bustis has largely migrated to these localities, and in my opinion some of the existing shops might suitably be removed to these sites without any alteration in the total number. Local objections to any new site are of course sure to be numerous, but local option can hardly be considered as within the range of practical politics until every adult male concerned has a vote or some adequate means of making known his desires. The number of shops is already so small that the trade is largely controlled by a ring of men belonging to the same caste and closely related. Any further reduction would enable a small wealthy syndicate to corner the whole trade. It is a popular belief that a large number of shops stimulates the demand, whereas a small number tends to a lower consumption. This theory is superficially attractive, and has often been carried into practice, but the results have rarely equalled expectation. Before the recent Royal Commission in England, 1898, it was shown that a high ratio of public houses was by no means concident with a high ratio of drunkenness, but rather the reverse; and that although in 50 years there had been an enormous reduction in the number of licenses in proportion to population, still the increase in the consumption per head had been very considerable The Commission definitely found that they were not satisfied as to there being any necessary connection between the proportion of licenses to the population and the amount of drunkenness. The opinion was freely expressed that as the desire for company is one of the incentives to frequentidg public houses, increased drinking was the result of concentrating customers in a few houses.

It was also admitted that undue reduction of licensed premises led to the formation of drinking clubs, and this has also been our experience in the endeavour to extirpate opium smoking. The abolition of licensed premises has led to the formation of smoking clubs, which, as private institutions, are exempt from control. In 1894, Mr. Gladstone is reported to have stated his opinion that the mere limitation of number is, if pretending to the honour of a remedy, little better than an imposture. It was eventually decided that in spite of the statistics which showed that drunkenness was not diminished by the reduction of public houses still the reduction increased the facility of control, and this in itself might tend to diminish drunkenness; hence where a congestion of licenses existed, reduction was advisable in order to provide for due control and to improve the character of the premises and the status of the publican. About 20 years ago the Commission, upon whose report the liquor legislation of Switzerland is based, stated as a proved fact that the evil effect of alcoholism was most prevalent in the localities where the number of drinking places was smallest, and recorded the opinion that reduction in the number of such places did not tend to restriction of the consumption of alcohol. On the other hand the absence of facilities led to excessive home consumption, and the substitution of strong for light drinks. Taxation was declared to be the chief remedy for excessive use of ardent spirits, which should be taxed as high as is compatible with the possibility of collecting the tax. Whatever differences of opinion may exist regarding the value of reduction in number as a temperance measure, the evils of an insufficient number of shops have been amply demonstrated in numerous instances. Illicit manufacture and illicit sales become prevalent. Impunity breeds a contempt for law and a spirit of lawlessness in the mass of the people. Instead of being checked and controlled by heavy taxation, the demand is created and stimulated in secret gatherings.

Intoxicating liquor or drugs can be procured illicitly so easily and cheaply in this country that a curtailment of the facilities for licit supply does not affect the consumer to the extent of inducing him to forego indulgence. Reduction in the number of liquor shops may affect licit consumption, though even that much is doubtful, but it will certainly not reduce the actual consumption, except possibly by deflecting the taste of consumers to less desirable stimulants.

The Excise Committee suggested that one shop for 5,000 inhabitants might be a suitable standard in large towns. I am totally unable to support any proposal to reduce the number of shops in Calcutta below the standard of one to 10,000.

E. GEAKE,
Commissioner.

APPENDIX A.

A brief history of the Excise Administration in Calcutta and the neighbourhood from the earliest times.

For the purposes of this enquiry it will suffice if we go back for 150 years and trace the history of the liquor traffic in Calcutta during that period At present the Excise jurisdiction of Calcutta includes most of what was formerly known as Punchannogram. This name represents the 55 villages of which Mirjafar renewed the grant in 1758. From 1794 to 1888 the area of Calcutta proper, which lay within the Mahratta ditch, remained unaltered at 5,000 acres approximately. This area includes practically the first 18 out of the 25 wards into which the present Municipality is divided. In the later year, by the inclusion of part of the suburbs, the area was increased to over 13,000 acres. Up to 1831 the population of Calcutta proper did not exceed 200,000. By 1851 it had increased to about 400,000, and in 1881 it only slightly exceeded that number. In 1901 it had reached 542,000; of course the earlier estimates had no pretence to accuracy. Although mention of the Coomar Mehal is to be found in earlier accounts, the Company does not appear to have turned it to profitable account. In 1758 the arrack farm was leased at public outcry to a Mr. Hurdle for Rs. 400, and when it was discontinued, he was given the office of "Public Scavenger" in compensation! The first attempt at regulating the traffic appears to have been made in 1760 when a Committee was appointed for the purpose of "lodging the sole liberty of distilling and vending in the hands of one person by farm, because the present unlimited privilege of distilling and vending arrack by the inhabitants of this place injuriously affects the health of the army and shipping and causes riot and disturbances."

Accordingly the so-called "Coomar Mehal," both of Calcutta and Punchannogram (the suburbs), was farmed by auction. In 1772 we find the farm of Calcutta held by a Mr. Levett on an annual rental of Rs. 10,000, but he complained of unlicensed sale by Europeans, and that he was only able to dispose of a very small proportion of the total importations of arrack. He eventually had to resign the monopoly as he could not enforce it. At the time of resignation he had opened 81 shops, but apparently he only dealt in rum.

In 1782 all shops within 10 miles of Calcutta were prohibited. This prohibition affected 164 shops, excluding 15, which were held by Mr Levett under the abovementioned grant. The order was not strictly carried out, and in 1786 Government called for an explanation and enforced the abolition of shops in Punchannogram. The prohibition was rescinded in 1790, in which year the Collector gives a list of 286 shops in Calcutta proper, and says that three years previously 500 shops were found to exist in Calcutta and Punchannogram.

In 1790, Government first took drastic measures to deal with the liquor traffic. Attention was drawn to the large number of shops and the low price of spirit, and the right of collecting duties on spirits and drugs throughout the Province was resumed from the zamindars. The prevalence of drunkenness and the disorderly character of the shops are cited in justification of this action. A regulation of 1791 forbade manufacture or sale without license and fixed the closing hour as 9 P.M.

In 1790 we find three sorts of spirit being consumed in Calcutta: (i) Double distilled rum imported from distilleries situated outside Calcutta and sold at 17 annas per gallon; (ii) country rum distilled after native methods from molasses and rice, fermented with bakhar, sold at 12 annas per gallon; (iii) cheap country spirit distilled from grain sold at 9 annas per gallon. The duty on the best rum was only half an anna per gallon and on the inferior spirits a prohibitive duty of four annas was imposed. Rum was principally manufactured by Europeans in Nadia and 24-Parganas. The army contract for rum deliverable in Calcutta in 1790 amounted to 120.000 gallons, which was taken from three distilleries, and the lowest rate was Re. 1 per gallon. The sale of rum was confined to the Calcutta market and to export. The consumption, exclusive of supplies to the garrison, was estimated at 120,000 gallons.

In 1793 there were 396 shops existing in Calcutta proper, and in 1794 the control of Excise in Calcutta was vested in the Justices of the Peace and the principle of a daily tax on each shop according to the importance of the locality was adopted. At this time the town of Calcutta was limited to the area south of Chitpore nalla, west of the Circular [illegible] (including Halsi Bagan) and north of Tolly's Nalla. Within this area there are now 53 country spirit shops and 4 rum shops. It represented the Supreme Court's jurisdiction, which, created in 1773, formed a privileged territory governed by English law and exempted from the territorial and revenue regulations. The Justices controlled Excise within this area up to 1847, when the control over Excise revenue was transferred to the Collector, but the Justices countersigned licenses up to 1850, when they were superseded by the Municipal authorities and Commissioner of Police. The Suburbs of Calcutta were defined in Act XXI of 1857. From 1862 the Excise administration of the Suburbs and Howrah was placed under the Collector of Calcutta, and this arrangement still continues. So from that time it becomes possible to furnish a set of figures dealing with one and the same area.

The Justices of Peace at first imposed a daily fee of Re. 1-8 upon all vendors of Native spirits and upon punch houses. They licensed 85 Native shops and 11 punch houses owned by Portuguese, Italians and such like. Common arrack sold at 6 pice a quarter. In 1800 the fee was raised to Rs. 2-8 and the daily sale for consumption restricted to 12 gallons. In 1801 the fee was raised to Rs. 5 subject to the same restriction, and in 1803, to Rs. 6. This gave a taxation of 8 annas per gallon, at which it remained for more than 50 years, and in consideration of this high tax, the vendors were also allowed to sell rum and imported spirit, but the privilege was rarely used as the Natives who frequented the shops preferred country spirit. The Justices frequently complained of the low rates prevalent in Punchannogram, and in that locality the business was evidently profitable, for it is recorded in 1793 that 1,207 applications were received on account of 30 shops.

In 1802 the Native dealers in rum (12 in Radha Bazar) were required to pay a daily fee of Rs. 5. This, however, included the privilege of selling foreign spirits which had paid a Customs duty of 3 annas per gallon.

In 1803 there were at least 8 first class hotels and taverns in Calcutta. From 1800 to 1846 the administration of Excise in Calcutta was entirely in the hands of Mr. Blaquiere, a Justice of the Peace. He caused all spirit required for consumption in the town to be distilled at Coolea. Each vendor had a still, the capacity of which was not to exceed 60 seers, hence he could not produce more spirit than was required for the daily consumption of his shop. From 1813 the Central distillery system was generally introduced and the maximum legal strength of country spirit was fixed at 25 U. P.

The still head duty on rum was 6 annas per gallon from 1802 up to 1856, when it was raised to Re. 1. For retail sale a consolidated duty of 8 annas per gallon was, however, realised by the following method: Vendors had to pay a daily fee of Rs. 5 which entitled them to sell up to 300 gallons in a month, and on any quantity in excess up to 380 gallons they had to pay 4 annas a gallon. In 1818 the gross revenue from the Abkari duties realised in Calcutta was Rs. 2,17,286, including Rs. 63,787 on account of rum; the returns for 1815 were almost identical.

In 1834, it is stated that under Mr. Blaquiere's management the revenue of Calcutta had increased in 30 years from Rs. 99,100 to Rs. 2,42,556. About that time there were 89 licensed vendors of imported spirits and 53 country spirit vendors; there were only 5 punch houses and 8 rum shops in the neighbourhood of Radha Bazar. Records of actual consumption are not forthcoming, but if each shop was able to sell the full amount of liquor which the vendor was entitled to manufacture, the consumption of country spirit alone would have been about 230,000 gallons By 1846 the number of country spirit shops had risen to 72. Up to 1849 the boarding-houses, hotels and taverns sold imported liquor freely, but were not required to take out retail licenses. All retail vendors of rum or imported spirits had then to pay Rs. 5 per diem in addition to the Customs duty, but the punch houses only took out temporary licenses during the time that shipping frequented the port. The Coolea distillery was closed in 1849 and the Calcutta shops were supplied from a new distillery at Maniktolla. In 1854, 72 Calcutta shops were so supplied, each vendor having a separate still, and in 1860 the number had risen to 93. By this time 36 shops were paying a daily fee of Rs. 7 and over, and this high fee entitled them to the concession of selling rum without any further fee. The country spirit shops paying a smaller fee could obtain separate licenses either for rum or imported spirits by paying a license fee of Rs. 17 monthly; and only six out of the total number in Calcutta failed to avail themselves of this privilege.

Even in 1830 the competition of imported spirit was seriously affecting the revenue from country spirit. Between 1794 and 1833 the price of imported liquors fell enormously. Claret fell from Rs. 12 to Rs. 2 per dozen, Maderia from Rs. 12 to Rs. 4, Brandy from Rs. 6 to Re. 1-8 per gallon; Beer from Rs. 7 to Rs. 2 per dozen; imported rum in 1833 could be had at 12 annas per gallon. It was prohibited from 1841 to 1863, and rum was defined as spirit manufactured from pure molasses without admixture of rice or other grain. It was stated in 1842 that smuggled rum was sold in Calcutta at 7 annas a gallon, whereas the country spirit cost from 14 annas to Re 1-4 per gallon. Imported spirits paid a duty of 10 per cent. at the Customs and 3 annas a gallon to the Excise, which together exceeded the still head duty (6 annas) on Bengal rum.

From 1830 the manufacture of sugar and rum was encouraged. In 1838 the exportation of rum was 170,000 gallons. In 1842 there were 21 rum distilleries within 20 miles of Calcutta, of which seven were owned by Natives. In 1845-46 over 800,000 gallons were exported and 148,000 consumed in Calcutta. Commercial depression soon followed, and the sugar factories began to close By 1854 only nine distilleries remained, of which three were owned by Natives, still the total issue for the first six months of that year amounted to 333,000 gallons.

In Punchannogram the revenue fell from Rs. 80,000 in 1827 to Rs. 60,000 in 1840, although the number of shops remained at about 40. The cheapness of imported liquor is said to have caused many of the respectable inhabitants to have recourse to that stimulant, and men from the suburbs resorted to Calcutta in order to drink.

In 1824 the boundaries between Punchannogram and the 24-Parganas were defined. Punchannogram remained a separate Excise jurisdiction under the Collector of Calcutta until 1848, when it was joined to the 24-Parganas, and the Excise of both districts was managed from the Calcutta Collectorate until 1853, when the Excise Department of the 24-Parganas was transferred to its own district.

In 1838 the Punchannogram shops got their supplies from distilleries at Chitpore and Alipur. The consumption was about 82,000 gallons The cost of manufacture was 5 annas and the retail price Re. 1-4 per gallon. The strength was supposed to be 25 U. P, but dilution in shops was common. The material used was molasses and a little rice, fermented with bakhar. Along the suburban side of Circular Road there were no less than 15 shops under the Collector of Calcutta, and these formed a bone of contention between him and Mr Blaquiere, who resented their low fees on behalf of the Calcutta vendors. A few years later we learn that there were 11 shops on the Calcutta side and 19 on the Punchannogram side of Circular Road. In 1842 the Native distillers appear to have begun manufacturing spirit from gur only in imitation of rum. From 1850 the license fee for retail sale of rum was fixed at Rs. 17, and subsequently raised to Rs. 20, at which rate it remained up to 1870.

In 1845 a duty of Re. 1-8 per gallon was imposed on imported spirits.

In 1849 the limit of retail sale for both rum and country spirit was fixed at 1 seer.

From 1860 the duty on country spirit was raised from annas 8 to Re 1-4 per gallon, and in 1861 the duty on both rum and country spirit was equalised at Rs. 2-4 per gallon.

Within 25 years, viz, by 1887, the duty on country spirit was progressively increased to Rs 5, which rate has recently been raised to Rs. 5-10.

The equalisation of duty led to a great displacement of country spirit by rum. In 1861-62 the total consumption was 218,765 gallons, of which 116,221 were country spirit and the revenue was Rs. 3,86,797. In 1863-64 the total consumption was 220,454, of which only 41,116 were country spirit and the revenue was Rs. 7,00,022 From 1870 country spirit steadily gained ground, and in 1871 the consumption exceeded that of rum. By 1882 the consumption of country spirit had increased to 226,902 gallons, whilst that of rum had shrunk to 13,605 gallons. From 1860 the number of licenses for rum and country spirit always exceeded 200. There was a heavy reduction in 1872, from which date rum was sold under country spirit licenses. In that year the present auction system was introduced with the avowed object of reducing the number of licenses and of checking consumption, but so far back as 1850 there was a sort of auction with a minimum guarantee, the shop being settled with the bidder who agreed to pay the highest rate of daily tax. From 1860, when the duty was raised, the fixed fee system was again enforced, and both rum and country spirit were sold under the same license subject to a fee of Rs. 20 per month.

In 1873 there were in the area under the Collector of Calcutta 137 country spirit licenses and 19 separate rum licenses. Since that date up to the present the number has remained much the same, but the tendency has always been in the direction of reduction, whilst the taxation has increased from seven lakhs to nearly twenty-five lakhs.

In 1886-87 the combined consumption was over 240,000 gallons. In 1906-07 the combined consumption was just under 340,000 gallons.

In 1883-84 the Bengal Excise Commission found that 1 in 4 of the total population of Calcutta might be considered as belonging to a drinking class, the number of consumers was accordingly estimated at 187,000. The census of 1901 returned the population of the present Excise jurisdiction as 1,125,400. Allowing an increase of population in the past six years up to 1,200,000, a similar calculation would give 300,000 as the present number of consumers. This would give an average consumption of a little over a gallon per head, whereas the Excise Commission found it to be a fraction under that quantity.

The following enumeration of the drinking classes in 1901 gives a total of 209,750. Women belonging to the following castes are generally accustomed to drink:—

Bagdi, Bauri, Dom, Muchi, Mehter, and Jalia: also women belonging to aboriginal stocks settled in Calcutta and its neighbourhood, such as Sonthals, Dhangars and Kols.

APPENDIX B.

Note by Mr. J. T. Baboneau, Superintendent of Excise Revenue, showing the practical difficulties of obtaining suitable sites for liquor shops in Calcutta.

In a metropolitan town like Calcutta where the trade and commerce of the whole province may be said to be centred, the selection of sites for Excise shops has always been attended with many difficulties. These difficulties have given rise to serious abuses which are more diverse and far reaching than are apparent on the surface. An Excise shop, it may be observed, stands on a very different footing to other shops devoted to ordinary commercial transactions. The latter may be said to be free agents, whilst the former are hedged round with an elaborate code of rules and regulations having for their object the prevention of abuses, but which have unfortunately, as has just been remarked, given rise to other abuses which militate seriously against the administration of the department, rendering it both laborious and harassing to a degree inconceivable to a mere casual observer. The direct effect of these difficulties may be summarised as follows:—

(1) Landlords are enabled to charge exorbitant rents and exact heavy salamis from Excise vendors.
(2) People of the locality are able to, and do often, blackmail the vendors.
(3) Vendors by a little manœuvring are able to secure monopolies for themselves by keeping rival vendors out of all available sites.
(4) Vendors desirous of backing out of their transactions entered into at the auction sales have a ready means for so doing, by themselves working up fictitious local objections.

Whilst these may be said to constitute the principal drawbacks of the existing conditions there are several minor incidental evils to which they necessarily give rise. It thus comes about that a vendor determined to open a shop at a certain locality can do so in spite of strong opposition, if he is prepared to spend sufficient money in (1) satisfying the extortionate demands of the landlord, (2) paying local objectors to withdraw their objections, (3) paying fees to persons who, they think, might support their cause. I shall refer, by way of illustration, to a recent case that came under my notice. A site selected was in the neighbourhood of a private school. The landlord of the site, as usual, demanded a rent about 50 per cent. above its usual market value. The Secretary of the school and Head Master were objectors, but it was said had hinted that the objections might be withdrawn on "suitable" payments being made. Unfortunately the demands did not end there, even the "Darwan" of the institution wanted to know what he would get and suggested Rs 50 as being a modest price. It is needless to say the shop was not opened. This is only one of many illustrations that [illegible] persons. Liquor vendors themselves similarly misuse the rules to their own advantage by keeping out rival vendors and competitors at the auction sales.

Apart from other considerations, the sites of liquor shops are acquired only by the payment of heavy salamis, and are held under long leases rendering it almost impossible for the landlord to eject the tenant even when he desires it. These difficulties are further enhanced by the fact that the rules regarding the selection or sanction of a liquor shop site are very stringent, and practically confine the choice of a site to very narrow limits as will be seen from a reference to rule 2, section III of the Excise Manual. For Calcutta again, there is a special procedure laid down which requires that the Commissioner of Police and local opinion should be consulted at every step before a shop can be established at a particular site. Under rules 38 and 39, section III of the Excise Manual, what is sold to a vendor is only the right to open a shop at a particular locality, and it is distinctly enjoined that any vagueness of description of such locality should be carefully avoided. The definition of the term "site" in rule 9 (4), section III, so far as Calcutta is concerned, confines it to the exact spot where a shop is situated as distinguished from its definition in rule 5 of the same section, which in the mufassal includes a space within a certain radius. Then, again, the location of a shop within 2 miles of the boundaries of another district is prohibited. The result is that the rigidity of the rules stands very much in the way of selection of new sites, either by the vendors or by the Department, and, as has been said, there is a "wise reluctance" on their part in this direction. Whenever a shop has to be shifted from its existing site, even from one room to another of the same premises, all the elaborate formalities of the rules have to be observed, and it is needless to say that groundless objections are sometimes taken to such measures not only by the public at large, but even by the police and temperance associations. Cases have often arisen in which the objections have, after careful and prolonged enquiries, been found to be not only groundless but to proceed solely at the instance of interested parties.

In illustration of this, two very recent cases may be cited: One is shop No. 149-2-6, Bowbazar Street, and the other is shop No. 40, Guranhatta Street. In the former case the shop in question existed for a long time at No. 170, Old Boitakhana Bazar Road, and was carried on by one Datri Kumar Sha and his brothers. This site was in front of a Church, but was never objected to on that score. In fact the Church authorities never noticed that there was a liquor shop in such close proximity. At the settlement before last one Upendra Nath Shah purchased the shop; and as the old vendor G. N. Sha retained the sanctioned site, he proposed No. 149-2-6, Bowbazar Street, which was further away from the Church. As a matter of fact, the proposed site was far less objectionable on excise grounds; but as soon as the customary notice for the opening of a shop there was published strong objections were taken against it, not only by the Church authorities but also by the Police, in the former case presumably at the instance of the ousted vendor. The question was satisfactorily settled, only after prolonged investigation by the shop being allowed to be opened at the proposed site. The Church authorities when told that the shop had really been removed from the vicinity of the Church, saw the futility of their objection and withdrew it.

In the other case a liquor shop existed at No. 1, Goranhatta Street, for several years. This site was directly opposite the "Oriental Seminary," but in the midst of a number of houes of ill-fame. The old vendor having been ousted at the last settlement, a new man secured the shop, and proposed a site about 100 feet away from the old place, thus removing it from the immediate vicinity of the Seminary. Curiously enough, the Police and the school authorities objected to the proposed site on the ground of its proximity to the school, and the matter was even taken before His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, who, overruling the Police objection, sanctioned the site. The sequel to this case was more interesting. The shop was subsequently surrendered by the new man and again put up to auction. The second purchaser, Noni Lal Sha, proposed No. 40, Goranhatta Street, which was nearer to the school than the other site which had been previously objected to by the Police. This was found to be unobjectionable although it brought the shop back almost to its original site and within a stone's throw of the Seminary. These examples will show how lightly objections are taken against a liquor shop site, and how flimsy and groundless they often are although they [illegible] a new vendor to unnecessary trouble and expense.

There is again considerable force in the argument that to the auction system are largely due the present difficulties in the way of selecting unobjectionable sites in Calcutta, inasmuch as under that system the licensees are bound from year to year or period to period to find private premises within which to exercise the rights they have purchased for high prices. Thus it very frequently happens that the holder of a license before the termination of one settlement takes up leases not only of the old shop premises, but also of the other possible sites in the locality (the number of which is very limited) in the hope of scaring away competition from the shop which has been the means of his subsistence and to which he naturally clings. He therefore leaves no stone unturned in case the shop is secured by a rival vendor, and puts every difficulty in his way in regard to the selection of a site. Two examples elucidating the difficulties in this direction are given below:—

At the last triennial settlements, shop No. 354, Upper Chitpur Road, was purchased by one Karam Chand Lall, who ousted the old vendor. The latter, however, had taken a lease of the old site, and also secured all the other possible sites in the vicinity. The auction purchaser proposed several sites, none of which was sanctioned. The settlement had to be cancelled and the shop resold to a man belonging to the ousted vendor's party, who opened it at the old site. In another case one Bhusan Chandra Sha purchased a shop at No. 115, Circular Garden Reach Road, which used to be carried on by I. C. Shah, under whom Bhusan was a servant. Having found that Bhusan has played him false, Issur secured the old site, and wherever Bhusan proposed a site, he set up objections to it so successfully that the shop had ultimately to be closed.

Another factor deserving mention in this connection is that the selection of a site is practically left in the hands of the auction purchaser who, when other interests are concerned, is not always very willing to find a site for a shop which he has been obliged to take up at a high fee.

All these difficulties are more or less accentuated according to the circumstances of each particular case, and the different quarters from which objections are set up have been well described at page 99 of the Excise Committee's Report, an extract from which is given below for ready reference:—

"Experience has shown that they (objections) are often prompted by evil or unreasonable motives. Some of them are made simply and solely for the purpose of extorting blackmail from the licensees. More are got up by disappointed competitors for the licenses, and many are made by fanatical temperance reformers, whose real objection is not to the unsuitability of any given site, but to any liquor shop being opened anywhere. A new licensee has generally to find a fresh site for the shop, and objections are invariably made to every change of site. It is obvious that the number of suitable sites in any place is limited."

Apart from these considerations, there is the factor of local objections to be taken into account; this constitutes one of the most uncertain elements in the selection of a site, and may very easily be worked up at little or no cost. Objections by the vendors, who happen to hold licenses in the locality where a new site is proposed, have also to be considered. It is needless to add that the location of a shop at a new site does not necessarily create a drinking community, but merely attracts to it the custom of another shop not so favourably placed, and as such it supplies a local want. Indeed the objections taken to the location of shops or the multiplication of shops in certain localities may be said to be due to a mistaking of the effect for the cause. It is the presence of a drinking population, and the consequent demand for liquor that has led to the establishment and the congregation of shops in certain specified localities. Thus it comes about that there are large areas within the town limits where no vendor will take a shop even at a nominal figure in the hope of ultimately securing custom by creating a demand which does not already exist. The mere presence of a liquor shop does not create a demand, but it is the demand that creates the shop. In this the liquor traffic merely follows the general principle of demand and supply observed in all other branches of trade, and it can no more be said with truth that the mere presence of liquor shops creates a demand than it can be said that the presence of a singularly large number of boot and shoe shops in Bentinck Street creates an undue demand for those articles amongst the people of that locality.

The case of Narain Chandra Sha illustrates the different phases of the question, and is briefly stated below:—

Narain Chandra Sha held licenses for two shops in Cornwallis Street, Nos. 196 and 206. At the last auction one of his antagonists S. N. Sha tried to outbid him, but his offers not being accepted by the then Superintendent, the shops were secured by one Narain Chandra Sha. His rival however succeeded in securing one of the sites No. 206, Cornwallis Street, and eventually turned Narain Chandra Sha out of the premises by process of law. It was however doubtful whether Narain did not leave this loophole for Satya Nibaran, with a view to confine the custom of the two shops to one and thereby derive a double profit by paying only the fees for one shop. Narain retained the license although the shop was closed, and his subsequent conduct showed that his object was to monopolise and confine the business of the locality to the one shop by ridding himself of the second license.

Before doing this, however, Narain Chandra Sha proposed several sites, two in the same locality, and others in different places, viz.—

19-1, Cornwallis Street.
12, ditto.
8 and 10, Dum-Dum-Cossipore Road.
189 and 8-39, Maniktollah Road.

The two first sites were near the old site and ostensibly unobjectionable. But the local residents, apparently put up by the ousted vendor, objected to them, and they had to be given up. The next two sites, although in a new locality, were objected to by the Police on the ground of their alleged nearness to the Cantonment Bazar and Railway station. The remaining sites were objected to by the vendors of the locality whose interests were at stake, and who induced the men of the locality to object to them. The result was that the settlement with Narain was cancelled and the shop resold at a considerably reduced fee to a partisan of Satya Nibaran, who had retained the old site, No. 206, Cornwallis Street. This resulted in an unnecessary loss to Government of about Rs. 6,000.

The steady progress of business in the town and the growth of residential localities diminish the number of suitable sites, and it is due to this cause that some of the good shops of Calcutta had to be abolished and others forced to remain closed. The Theatre Road shop and the Lansdowne Road rum shop, and the shop at 1, Chackerbere Road, may be mentioned as instances of this.

The acquisition of large areas by railways and private persons also not unfrequently reduces the number of suitable sites for liquor shops, and as an instance, the case of the liquor shop at No 141-1, Belliaghatta Road, may be quoted. The site of this shop has been acquired by the Eastern Bengal State Railway authorities, and the shop will have to be closed if a suitable site is not sanctioned before the next settlement.

Besides these there are other minor difficulties, and among them may be mentioned defects in the construction of the shop premises, the boundary and quarter mile rules, and the market value of a shop. A locality may be suitable for a liquor shop, but no premises answering the purpose of a shop may be available there. There were instances in which good sites had to be given up on account of objections from the Collectors of neighbouring districts, viz , Old Ballygunge, Kamardanga.

The selection of a site for a shop again depends on the price for which it has been purchased, and a man who has paid a high fee naturally wishes to open his shop in a place where he can command good custom. Shop value therefore is also a very important factor in this direction.

It seems that all these difficulties received consideration, and it has been remarked that in towns it is practically impossible to secure sites fulfilling all the conditions required by the present rules unless they are acquired by Government.

APPENDIX C.

Questions regarding the conditions of liquor traffic in Calcutta.

(i) The number of "on" licenses in Calcutta and Howrah, excluding hotels and restaurants, is 127. This represents roughly one shop to 10,000 of the population and to half a square mile. Is that proportion excessive and would a reduction affect the legitimate requirements of the moderate consumer?

(ii) On what basis should the requirements of the consuming population, so far as the number of liquor shops is concerned, be calculated?

(iii) Can you specify any particular locality in Calcutta, now without a shop, but in which a shop, if licensed, would work well and not interfere unduly with the custom of other shops?

(iv) If consumers of a certain class now utilise the private rooms and the sitting accommodation attached to shops, where will they go to drink if such accommodation is no longer provided? What restrictions on the use of private rooms are necessary?

(v) Should the holder of an "on" license be allowed to sell all sorts of liquor or restricted to the sale of plain spirit manufactured in this country only?

(vi) Is concentration of the trade in a few larger shops better than spreading it over a number of small shops?

(vii) Would not the site value of such large shops rise very high?

(viii) How would the public secure a share in that site value, unless the sites were owned by Government or a public body?

(ix) Does closing at 9 P.M. inflict any hardship on any particular class of consumers?

(x) What would be the effect of reducing the limit of retail sale and possession of country spirit, which is now 12 bottles?

(xi) Might it not tend to promote the use of foreign spirit?

(xii) Is there any connection between the number of shops in a locality and the prevalence of drunkenness and crime?

(xiii) Is the amount actually consumed at a shop a sufficiently reliable and accurate index of local demand? If not, how can the bonâ fide demand be ascertained?

(xiv) Is drunkenness increasing in Calcutta, and if so, among what classes?

(xv) What proportion of the general population, or of the better classes and of labourers taken separately, can be taken as not drinking at all?

(xvi) Can you recommend any practical measures for obtaining genuine public opinion regarding the opening or closing of liquor shops without encouraging ca[illegible]?

(xvii) Would Sunday closing and early Saturday closing do any go[illegible]

(xviii) Is it preferable to have shops on the main thoroughfares [illegible] secluded localities?

THE HON'BLE MR. W. C. MACPHERSON, C.S.I.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the fourth quarter of the year 1907-08, comprising the months of January, February and March 1908.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 26,04,712 maunds, as compared with 26,65,577 maunds in the previous quarter, and 28,00,087 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The net amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 24,06,420, as against Rs. 24,38,337 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 35,47,980 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The subjoined Table I shows in detail the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter, as compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the two previous years:—

The stocks remaining in the golas at the close of the quarter were less than those of the previous two quarters, but considerably greater than those of the quarters January to June 1907.

5. The figures showing the despatches of salt from Calcutta by different routes during the quarter under report will be published as usual in the Calcutta Gazette by the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence when they are available.

6. The quantity of salt despatched during the quarter by the East Indian Railway to stations beyond Buxar amonted to 810 maunds, as against nil in the previous quarter and 405 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

7. The quantity of saltpetre salt excised in the refineries of Bengal during the quarter amounted to 8,332 maunds, as compared with 1,863 maunds in the previous quarter, and 8,961 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE JAIL DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1907.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

JAILS.

Dated Darjeeling, the 21st May 1908.

RESOLUTION No. 502J.—D.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department for the year 1907.

Read also—

The Reports for the years 1905 and 1906 and the Resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

The report under review has been submitted by Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. Buchanan, I.M.S., who was in charge of the Department throughout the year.

2. The total population of the jails of Bengal at the beginning of the year was 15,695 against 14,872 in the preceding year. Of these 14,109 were convicted prisoners. The total number of prisoners at the close of the year was 15,264 and the daily average population was 15,274 as against 15,774 in 1906.

3. The death-rate calculated on the daily average number of all classes of prisoners was 17·5 per mille against 23·7 in the preceding year. This is by far the lowest death-rate on record, the previous best being 19·5 in 1904. While congratulating the Department on this figure, of which the officers may well be proud, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to record his sense of the earnest and unremitting attention given by Colonel Buchanan to this matter, and of the loyal support he has received from the officers of the Department. The figures of the mortality in the Bengal jails showing a continuous improvement from 6? per mille in the five years 1875-1879 to 26 per mille in the five years 1900-1904, 24 per mille in 1905, 23 per mille in 1906 and 17·5 per mille in 1907, afford, as the Inspector-General remarks, eloquent testimony as to what can be done by persistent and commonsense attention to sanitation. The object-lesson of what sanitation can do even in a tropical malarial province is exceedingly valuable. The mortality in the 5 jails, viz., Midnapore, Darjeeling, Naya Dumka, Purulia and Chaibassa, which in 1906 showed a death-rate of more than 40 per mille, was in every case below that figure in 1907. In Midnapore the death-rate fell from 55·2 in 1906 to 17·9 in the past year. A specially satisfactory feature in connection with this jail is the remarkable decline in the mortality from dysentery from 25·8 per mille in 1906 to 3·8 in 1907. There seems no reason to doubt that this decline is due to the investigations by Captain W. E. H. Forster into the causation of the disease and to the method of vaccine therapy introduced by him in the Midnapore jail. This officer has not yet submitted his final report on the subject, but a brief summary of the interim conclusions arrived at by him are given in paragraph 62 of the report under review. In the meanwhile the Lieutenant-Governor is glad of this opportunity of acknowledging his valuable services. The Krishnaghar and Angul jails show the highest death-rates during the year, viz., 50·0 and 77·8 per mille respectively, the chief cause being the very unhealthy condition of the prisoners on admission.

4. Although the number of cases of malarial fever increased from 4,853 in 1906 to 4,928 in 1907, the number of fatal cases was less than in the previous year. The figures in fact show a steady decrease in mortality since 1880, when the number of deaths was 6 per mille of the average jail population as against 1·1 per mille in 1907. The Inspector-General hopes for still better results from the extended use of quinine in the form of tablets. The figures for tubercle of the lungs are 218 admissions to hospital with 45 deaths, against 271 admissions and 64 deaths in 1906. The proposal to turn the present

Berhampore Lunatic Asylum into a special jail for the treatment of tuberculous cases is still awaiting the construction of the new Asylum at Ranchi.

5. There was overcrowding on the daily average strength of convicts in 15 jails and also in undertrial wards in 13 jails. Some measure of relief was obtained by the constant transfer of prisoners to less crowded jails, and steps have been taken wherever necessary to provide increased accommodation. The difficulties due to want of accommodation in subsidiary jails are still serious, but they have to a great extent been overcome by the removal of convicted prisoners to district jails daily or twice or thrice a week as circumstances permit, instead of only once a week as formerly. This system has worked well, though it throws additional work on the Police Department in providing escorts.

6. The attention of all District Magistrates has recently been drawn to the question of the treatment of juvenile offenders appearing before the criminal courts, and the importance of saving casual criminals of tender years from contact with hardened offenders and the contaminating influences of jail life has been impressed on them. It is hoped that it may be possible to start during the current year a special juvenile jail in the building now used as the Alipore Reformatory School. In the meantime the juvenile wards at the Bhagalpur and the Hazaribagh Central Jails have been developed, and every effort is being made to deal with juvenile prisoners on proper lines.

7. The total earnings from manufactures in all jails amounted to Rs. 5,37,106-1 against Rs. 6,32,678-10 in 1906. The total cash earnings amounted to Rs. 3,50,581 as compared with Rs. 3,14,325 in the preceding year. The average earnings per head were Rs. 40-7 against Rs. 46-12 in 1906. It is reported that in the Alipore Central Jail, the divergence in the figures relating to net earnings for the years 1906 and 1907 was due to the fact that in the accounts for the year 1906 the value of goods in process of manufacture was erroneously taken into account as goods in stock

8. The total number of offences committed by convicts was 25,707 against 25,268 in 1906, while the punishments inflicted by Superintendents numbered 25,859, as compared with 2?,384 in the preceding year. Three thousand and fifty-four major punishments were imposed. Corporal punishments have further decreased during the year under review, being only 83 as against 113 in 1906, 145 in 1905 and 182 in 1904. The ratio of floggings to the total number of punishments was 0·32 as against 0·44 in 1906. The jail showing by far the highest ratio of punishments is the European jail at the Presidency, where a very difficult and troublesome class of prisoners is received. Fourteen convicts escaped during the year, 8 from inside and 6 from outside the jails. Of these 11 were recaptured, criminally prosecuted and convicted.

9. The figures for the year under review show that out of a total of 25,682 offences (excluding subsidiary jails), 10,136 or 39·47 per cent. were committed by A class prisoners, and 15,546 or 60·53 per cent. by the B or habitual class. A scheme is now under consideration for the separation of selected habitual and dangerous criminals in one of the central jails where they will be under specially rigid discipline. This is an important matter, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the Inspector-General's proposals will shortly be ready for the orders of Government.

10. During the year under review sanction was given as a tentative measure to the introduction in the Presidency Jail of a scheme under which prisoners are allowed to earn certain privileges by good behaviour and industry alone. These privileges are enumerated in paragraph 26 of the report. The question of extending this system to other jails will be considered when the experiment has been given a fair trial.

11. The Inspector-General's proposals for the revision of the warder establishment and the modification of the leave rules applicable to warders have been carefully examined by this Government and will shortly be submitted for the consideration and orders of the Government of India.

12. The average period of detention of undertrial prisoners in jails in both "Sessions" and "Other cases" was 27·46 and 15·63 days respectively, against 29·12 and 17·84 days in 1906. In subsidiary jails the average period was 15·63 days as compared with 15·21 days in the preceding year.

13. The Prisoner's Aid Society which works in connection with the Presidency Jail is reported to have proved useful in the case of European prisoners in Calcutta. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that a similar society has been formed at Ranchi, but it is too early at present to pronounce an opinion as to how far such societies will be able to help Indian prisoners.

14. Goods manufactured in several jails were exhibited at the Industrial exhibition held at Calcutta in the cold weather of 1906-1907 and a certificate was granted to the Department. As a result of his observations of different types of hand-looms displayed at the exhibition, the Inspector-General has introduced in certain jails looms of the type used by the Salvation Army. His report on the working of these looms will be awaited with interest.

15. The names of the officers specially commended by the Inspector-General have been noted, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires to congratulate Colonel Buchanan very specially upon his able and successful administration of the Department during the past year and upon the excellent results obtained.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons for information and guidance.

ORDERED also that a copy of this Resolution and a copy of the Report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department, and that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

* The report is for the week ending the 16th May 1908.

General Summary.—During the week under report the rainfall was fairly general in Lower Bengal in the Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions and in North Bihar. The fall was heavy in Cooch Bihar and in parts of Midnapore, Darjeeling and Burdwan, where the rain recorded amounted to 10·38, 5·48, 4·20 and 3·13 inches respectively. In Birbhum, Bankura, Muzaffarpur, and Manbhum the rain received was between 1 and 2 inches. In Orissa and South Bihar and also in Murshidabad, Saran and Palamau little or no rain fell. The recent rain has been beneficial, facilitating the cultivation of lands and the sowing of the bhadoi crops. More rain is still needed, especially in Lower Bengal, for jute sowings which are in progress. China and sugarcane are doing well in Bihar. Prospects of boro paddy and other standing crops are unfavourable in Murshidabad for want of rain. The mango crop has been damaged to a large extent by storms in Purnea and by hail in Angul. The price of common rice is stationary in most districts; it has risen in Midnapore, the 24-Parganas, Patna, Balasore, Palamau and Hazaribagh, and has fallen in Gaya. Stocks of food-grains continue to be reported insufficient in Nadia, Murshidabad, Balasore and Palamau. Scarcity is still apprehended in Nadia and Palamau. The water-supply is scarce in most districts of the Burdwan, Presidency and Orissa Divisions, and also in parts of the Sonthal Parganas and Manbhum. Fodder is insufficient in Burdwan, Bankura, Cuttack and Balasore. The condition of cattle is bad in the last-named district, where in some tracts they are dying for want of fodder and water. Cattle-disease is prevalent in Khulna, Patna, Champaran, Darbhanga, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. The number of persons on test-works in Bankura, Murshidabad, Jessore, Hazaribagh and Ranchi was 6,085 and in the Orissa districts 8,823. Gratuitous relief was given to 25,396 persons, of whom 19,178 belong to Orissa.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundsen's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in [th]e Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for [24] hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, dark gloomy; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; <, lightning; [d], drizzling rain; /, strong wind.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the first Monday in July. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Examiner, Public Works Accounts (including Railway and Telegraph), in Bengal, Assam, and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts, not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age (baptismal or of birth) not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ.

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Examiner of Accounts qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Examiner of Accounts, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Examiner of Accounts will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Examiner of Accounts. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

7. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination, at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Accountant-General, Public Works Department.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College, not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of rupees ten.

(ii) affect the right of the landlord to resume a resumable tenure.

(6) The mere registration of a transfer, or the mere receipt of a registration-fee, under this section, shall not be deemed to imply a consent to, or permission to make, the transfer, within the meaning of section 13; and the landlord shall not be bound by the terms or conditions of any such transfer.

Procedure on refusal of landlord to register transfer of tenure.

12. If any landlord refuses to admit to registry or otherwise to give effect to any such transfer as is mentioned in section 11, the transferee or his successor in title may make application to the Deputy Commissioner; and the Deputy Commissioner shall thereupon make such inquiry as he considers necessary; and, if no sufficient grounds are shown for the refusal, shall pass an order enjoining the landlord to admit to registry and otherwise give effect to such transfer:

14. Every raiyat who, immediately before the commencement of this Act, has, by the operation of any enactment, or by custom or usage or otherwise, a right of occupancy in any land, shall, when this Act comes into force, have a right of occupancy in that land notwithstanding the fact that he may not have cultivated or held the land for a period of twelve years. [1885, s. 19(1). Bill of July, 1907, cl. 4, new s. 6.]

Definition of "settled raiyat."

15. (1) Every person who, for a period of twelve years, whether wholly or partly before or after the commencement of this Act, has continuously held as a raiyat land situate in any village, whether under a lease or otherwise, shall be deemed to have become, on the expiration of that period, a settled raiyat of that village. [1879, s. 6, paras. 1, 2, 3. 1885 s. 20. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 4, new s. 6B.]

(2) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have continuously held land in a village notwithstanding that the particular land held by him has been different at different times.

(3) A person shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have held as a raiyat any land held as a raiyat by a person whose heir he is.

(4) Land held by two or more co-sharers as a raiyati holding shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have been held as a raiyat by each such co-sharer.

(5) A person shall continue to be a settled raiyat of a village as long as he holds any land as a raiyat in that village and for three years thereafter.

(6) If a raiyat recovers possession of land under section 71, or by suit, he shall be deemed to have continued to be a settled raiyat notwithstanding his having been out of possession more than three years.

(7) If, in any suit or proceeding, it is proved or admitted that a person holds any land as a raiyat, it shall, as between him and the landlord under whom he holds the land, be presumed, for the purposes of this section, until the contrary is proved or admitted, that he has for twelve years continuously held that land or some part of it as a raiyat.

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter IV.—Occupancy-raiyats.—Clauses 16—18.)

Bhuinhars and Mundari khunt-katti-dars to be settled raiyats in certain cases.

13. The following classes of persons, namely :—

[Bill of July 1907, cl. 4, new ss. 6C and 6D. Ben. Act II 1869.]

(a) where any land in a village, other than land known as manjhihas or bethkheta, is entered in any register prepared and confirmed under the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869,—all members of any Bhuinhari family holding land in such village, and

(b) where any village contains land not forming part of a Mundari khunt-katti lari tenancy, and an entry of Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancies or of Mundari khunt-kattidars in such village has been made in any record of-rights as finally published under this Act, or under any law in force before the commencement of this Act—all male members of any Mundari khunt-kattidari family holding land in such village, shall be deemed to be settled raiyats for the purposes of this Act, in regard to the raiyati land which they cultivate in such village; and the provisions of sub-sections (4), (5) and (6) of section 15 shall apply to such persons.

Settled raiyats to have occupancy rights.

17. (1) Every person who is a settled raiyat of a village within the meaning of section 15 or section 16 shall have a right of occupancy in all land for the time being held by him as a raiyat in that village.

(2) Every person who, being a settled raiyat of a village within the meaning of section 15 or section 16, held land as a raiyat in that village at any time between 1st January, 1907, and the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have acquired a right of occupancy in that land under the law then in force; but nothing in this sub-section shall affect any decree or order passed by any Court before the commencement of this Act.

Effect of acquisition of occupancy right by landlord.

18. (1) When the immediate landlord of an occupancy holding is a proprietor or a permanent tenure-holder, and the entire interest of the landlord and the raiyat in the holding become united in the same person by transfer, succession or otherwise, such person shall not retain a right of occupancy in the holding, but shall hold the same as a proprietor or permanent-tenure holder, as the case may be; but nothing in this sub-section shall prejudicially affect the rights of any third person.

[1885, s. 22. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 4, new s. 7.]

(2) If an occupancy right in land is transferred to a person jointly interested in the land as proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, he shall be entitled to hold the land subject to the payment to his co-proprietors or joint permanent tenure-holders of the shares of the rent which may be from time to time payable to them; and, if such transferee sub-lets the land to a third person, such third person shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder or a raiyat, as the case may be, in respect of the land.

Illustration.—A, a co sharer landlord, purchases the occupancy holding of a raiyat X. A is entitled himself to hold the land on payment to his co-sharers of the shares of the rent payable to them in respect of the holding. A sub lets the land to Y, who takes it for the purpose of establishing tenants on it; Y becomes a tenure-holder in respect of the land. Or A sub-lets it to Z, who takes it for the purpose of cultivating it himself; Z becomes a raiyat in respect of the land.

(3) A person interested in any estate, tenure, village or land, whether solely or jointly with others, as a temporary tenure-holder, ijaradar or farmer of rents or as a mortgagee in possession shall not, during the period of his lease or mortgage, acquire by purchase or otherwise a right of occupancy in any land comprised in his lease or mortgage:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall prohibit the acquisition of occupancy rights by any tenure-holder or farmer of rents who by established custom or usage has a right to acquire the same.

Explanation.—A person having a right of occupancy in land does not lose it by subsequently becoming jointly interested in the land as proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, or by subsequently holding the land in ijara or farm.

(b) that he has broken a condition, consistent with the provisions of this Act, and on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected.

(b) if it is fair and equitable;

but not otherwise:

Provided that, where the rate of rent lawfully payable by an occupancy-raiyat for his holding has been made an issue in any suit for arrears of rent, and the Court has arrived at a finding on that issue, the rate of rent so found shall be lawfully payable by the raiyat for the holding.

Methods in which rent of occupancy-raiyat may be enhanced.

25. (1) From and after the commencement of this Act,—

(a) in any area for which a record-of-rights has not been finally published under this Act or under any Act in force before the commencement of this Act, or for which an order has not been issued under this Act or under any Act in force before the commencement of this Act for the preparation of such a record, the money-rent of an occupancy-raiyat whose rent is liable to enhancement may be enhanced only by order of the Deputy Commissioner passed under section 27; and

(c) may, upon consideration of all the circumstances set forth in the application, and after hearing any objection advanced by the raiyat, by order, fix such enhanced rent, or otherwise vary the rent for the said land, as to him may seem fair and reasonable, for such period, not being less than ten nor more than twenty years, as he may think fit :

[U. P. Act II of 19 1 s. 43 (1)]

Meaning of "enhancement."

29. The word "enhancement" (with its grammatical variations), as used in sections 24 to 28, shall not include an increase of rent in respect of land held by a raiyat in excess of the area for which rent has previously been paid by him, or in respect of the conversion of upland into korkar; but shall include any commutation of rent payable in money into rent payable wholly or partly in kind. Provided that an increase of rent shall not be ordered where it would contravene any local custom or usage prohibiting an increase of rent in respect of the increase in area of a holding.

(2) When any increase has been so ordered, it shall be payable from the commencement of the agricultural year following that in which the order is passed, and may be recovered from the raiyat in any suit instituted against him for arrears of rent.

Reduction of Rent.

Application to Deputy Commissioner for reduction of rent.

33. (1) Any occupancy-raiyat wishing to claim a reduction of the rent previously paid by him may present an application to the Deputy Commissioner to assess the rent on the land in respect of which such reduction is sought and (if necessary) to measure the land. (2) Every such application shall specify—

(2) The rent as so fixed or varied shall be payable by the raiyat from the commencement of the agricultural year following the year in which the order is passed, and may be recovered in any suit instituted against him for arrears of rent.

Commutation of Rent payable in Kind.

Application for commutation of rent payable in kind.

(2) Such application may be made to the Deputy Commissioner or a Revenue-officer.

(3) When any such application is made, the Deputy Commissioner or Revenue-officer may determine the sum to be paid as money-rent, and may order that the raiyat shall, in lieu of paying his rent in kind or otherwise as aforesaid, pay the sum so determined.

(4) In making the determination, the said officer shall have regard to—

(a) the average money-rent payable by occupancy-raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity;

(d) improvements effected by the landlord or the raiyat in respect of the holding.

(5) The order shall be in writing, and shall state the grounds on which it is made and the time from which it is to take effect.

(6) When any such order is made by a Deputy Commissioner, it shall be subject to appeal as provided in Chapter XVI.

(7) When any such order is made by a Revenue-officer, an appeal shall lie, in the prescribed manner, to the Commissioner, or to any officer appointed by the Local Government to hear such appeals.

(8) If the application is opposed, the officer shall consider whether, under all the circumstances of the case, it is reasonable to grant it, and shall grant or refuse it accordingly. If he refuses it he shall record in writing the reasons for the refusal.

(9) Nothing contained in this section shall bind or authorize any officer acting hereunder to assess on any holding any amount in excess of a fair and equitable rent.

Period for which commuted rents are to remain unaltered.

[1885, s. 40A. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 15, new s. 24B.]

36. (1) Where the rent of a holding has been commuted under section 35, it shall not, except on the ground of a landlord's improvement or of a subsequent alteration of the area of the holding, be increased for fifteen years; nor shall it be reduced for fifteen years, save on the ground of alteration in the area of the holding or on the ground that the soil of the holding has, without the fault of the raiyat, become permanently deteriorated by a deposit of sand or other specific cause, sudden or gradual.

(2) The said period of fifteen years shall be counted from the date on which the order takes effect under sub-section (5) of section 35.

CHAPTER V.

CHAPTER VI.

Initial rent and lease of non-occupancy raiyat.

[1879, 1885, s. 42. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 5, new s. 9.]

38. Subject to any local custom or usage, a non-occupancy raiyat shall, when admitted to the occupation of land, become liable to pay such rent as may be agreed on between himself and his landlord at the time of his admission, and shall be entitled to a lease only at such rates and on such conditions as may be so agreed on.

Effect of acquisition by landlord of the right of a non-occupancy-raiyat in his holding.

39. The provisions of section 18 shall apply in the case of the right of a non-occupancy-raiyat in his holding, in the same way that they apply to an occupancy-right.

41. A non-occupancy raiyat shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be liable to ejectment on one or more of the following grounds, and not otherwise, namely:—

[1879, ss. 31, 32A. 1885, s. 44, Bill of July, 1907, cl. 4, new s. 9B.]

(a) on the ground that he has failed to pay an arrear of rent;

(b) on the ground that he has used the land comprised in his holding in a manner which is not authorized by local custom or usage and which materially impairs the value of the land or renders it unfit for the purposes of the tenancy;

(c) on the ground that he has broken a condition, consistent with this Act, on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected;

(d) where he has been admitted to occupation of the land under a registered lease, on the ground that the term of the lease has expired;

Conditions of ejectment on ground of refusal to agree to pay a fair and equitable rent.

42. (1) A suit for ejectment on the ground of refusal to agree to pay a fair and equitable rent shall not be instituted against a non-occupancy raiyat unless the landlord has tendered to the raiyat an agreement to pay the rent which he demands and the raiyat has, within six months before the institution of the suit, refused to execute the agreement.

[1885, s. 146 (1) to (9) Bill of July, 1907, cl. 4, new s. 9C (1) to (9).]

(2) A landlord desiring to tender an agreement to a raiyat under this section may either—

(a) file it, in the office of such Court or officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, for service on the raiyat, or (b) send it to the raiyat direct, either by registered post or by any other means.

(3) When an agreement has been filed, under clause (a) of sub-section (2), in the office of any Court or officer, such Court or officer shall forthwith cause it to be served on the raiyat in the manner provided by section 252 for the service of notices.

(4) When an agreement has been served on a raiyat under sub-section (3), or when it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that an agreement has been sent to a raiyat by registered post, or, if sent to him by any other means referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (2), has duly reached him, the agreement shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been tendered.

(5) If a raiyat on whom an agreement has been served under sub-section (3), or to whom an agreement has been sent under sub-section (2) clause (b), executes it, and within one month from the date of service files it in the office from which it issued, it shall take effect from the commencement of the agricultural year next following.

(6) When an agreement has been executed and filed by a raiyat under sub-section (5), the Court or officer in whose office it is so filed shall forthwith cause a notice of its being so executed and filed to be served on the landlord.

(7) If the raiyat does not execute the agreement and file it under sub-section (5), he shall be deemed, for the purposes of this section, to have refused to execute it.

(8) If a raiyat refuses to execute an agreement tendered to him under this section, and the landlord thereupon institutes a suit to eject him, the Court shall determine what rent is fair and equitable for the holding.

(9) If the raiyat agrees to pay the rent so determined, he shall be entitled to remain in occupation of his holding at that rent for a term of five years from the date of the agreement, but on the expiration of that term shall be liable to ejectment under the conditions mentioned in section 41, unless he has acquired a right of occupancy.

(10) If the raiyat does not agree to pay the rent so determined, the Court shall pass a decree for ejectment.

Decree for ejectment when to take effect.

43. A decree for ejectment passed under this Chapter shall take effect from the end of the agricultural year in which it is passed.

(2) Where there is more than one tenant paying rent to the landlord whose interest is transferred, a general notice from the transferee to the tenants, published in the prescribed manner, shall be a sufficient notice for the purposes of this section.

who holds land in such village.

Such consent to be deemed to have been given when ejectment not sought.

65. Where the consent of the landlord is required by section 64 for the conversion of land into korkar, such consent shall be deemed to have been given if, within two years from the date on which the cultivator commenced such conversion, the landlord has not made an application to the Deputy Commissioner for the ejectment of the cultivator.

[Bill of Jany. 1907, cl. 3, last proviso. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 3(2).]

67. Nothing in sections 64 and 65 shall authorize any cultivator to convert into korkar any land which is cultivated land or homestead land in the direct possession of any other person.

72. (1) Any raiyat may relinquish the land held or cultivated by him, provided he gives written notice of his intention to the landlord or his agent in or before the month of Paush of the year preceding that in which the relinquishment is to have effect. [1879, s. 29. Cf. 1885, s. 86.]

(2) If a raiyat fails to give such notice, and the land is not let to any other person, he shall continue liable for the rent of the land.

(3) If the landlord, or his agent, refuses to receive any notice given under sub-section (1) and to sign a receipt for the same, the raiyat may make an application to the Deputy Commissioner, who shall thereupon cause the notice to be served on such person or his agent, in the manner provided by section 252.

Abandonment of land by raiyat.

73 (1) If a raiyat voluntarily abandons the land held or cultivated by him, without notice to the landlord, and ceases either himself or through any other person to cultivate the land and to pay his rent as it falls due, the landlord may, at any time after the expiration of the agricultural year in which the raiyat so abandons and ceases to cultivate, enter on the holding and let it to another tenant or take it into cultivation himself. [1885, s. 87(1) to (3).]

(2) Before a landlord enters under this section, he shall send a notice to the Deputy Commissioner, in the prescribed manner, stating that he has treated the holding as abandoned and is about to enter on it accordingly; and the Deputy Commissioner shall cause a notice of the fact to be published in the prescribed manner.

(3) When a landlord enters under this section, the raiyat shall be entitled to apply to the Deputy Commissioner for the recovery of possession of the land at any time not later than the expiration of six years, in the case of an occupancy-raiyat, or, in the case of a non-occupancy raiyat, one year, from the date of the publication of the notice; and thereupon the Deputy Commissioner may, on being satisfied that the raiyat did not voluntarily abandon his holding, order recovery of the possession, on such terms (if any) with respect to compensation to persons injured and payment of arrears of rent as to him may seem just.

Explanation.—The word "tenure" in this section includes all revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings within a local area, estate or tenure

Effect of proceedings in certain cases had in Courts pending final publication of record-of-rights

95. When an order has been made, under section 79 or under any law in force before the commencement of this Act, directing the preparation of a record-of-rights by a Revenue-officer,

[Bill of Jany. 1907, cl. 11, Bill of July, 1907, cl. 18, new s. 28F.]

then any judgment, decree or order passed by any Court in any suit or proceeding between the making of such first-mentioned order and the final publication of the record-of-rights, and relating to any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the existence, non-existence, extent or value of customary rights in waste-land or jungle-land in the area to which the record-of-rights applies, or

(b) the amount of rent payable in respect of any tenancy therein, or

(c) the question whether any land which is the subject of dispute is included in the tenancy of a raiyat or is the khas land of the landlord, may be received in evidence in any inquiry made by such Revenue-officer in the course of preparing such record-of-rights, if such judgment, decree or order relates to matters relevant to such inquiry;

but no such judgment, decree or order shall be conclusive proof of that which it states, either in the Court of such Revenue-officer or in any other Court, Civil, Criminal or Revenue, subsequent to the final publication of the record-of-rights.

Power of Revenue-officer to give effect to agreement or compromise

96. In framing a record-of-rights, and in deciding disputes, under this Chapter, the Revenue-officer shall give effect to any lawful agreement or compromise made or entered into by any landlord and his tenant:

[1885, s. 109B (1), (3), and Notfn.]

Provided as follows:—

(a) the Revenue-officer shall not give effect to any agreement or compromise the terms of which, if they were embodied in a contract, could not be enforced under this Act; and

(b) where the terms of any agreement or compromise are such as might unfairly or inequitably affect the rights of third parties, the Revenue-officer shall not give effect to such agreement or compromise unless and until he is satisfied by evidence that the statements made by the parties thereto are correct.

Illustration.—A, a proprietor, agrees that B, his tenant, shall be recorded as an occupancy-raiyat. This affects the rights of the tenants of B. The Revenue-officer must, under proviso (b), inquire whether B is a tenure-holder, or a raiyat, within the meaning of section 5 or section 6. If he finds, on the evidence, that B is a raiyat, he may give effect to the agreement. If he so finds that B is a tenure-holder, he must not give effect to the agreement.

Date from which settled rent takes effect.

97. When a rent is settled by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter, it shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the date of the decision finally fixing the rent. [1885, s. 110.]

Revision of record-of-rights, and new settlement of rents, under orders of Local Government.

98. (1) The Local Government may at any time, either of its own motion or on the application of any landlord or tenant, direct that any record-of-rights which has been finally published under this Act or under any law in force before the commencement of this Act, or any portion of any such record-of rights, be revised, in the prescribed manner, but not so as to affect any rent entered therein. [1885, 104G. (2) and Notfn. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 18, new s. 28E.]

(2) At any time after the expiration of the period of—

(a) fifteen years from the date of the certificate of the final publication of a record-of-rights, when such publication was made after the commencement of this Act, or

(b) seven years from the date of the certificate of the final publication of a record-of-rights, when such publication was made before the commencement of this Act, and thereafter at intervals of periods of fifteen years, the Local Government may, of its own motion or on the application of any landlord or tenant, direct—

(i) that such record-of-rights or any portion thereof be revised, in the prescribed manner, in so far as it relates to rents, and

(ii) that a settlement of rents payable by tenants be made under section 84.

(3) The foregoing sections of this Chapter shall, subject to any rules made in this behalf under section 256, apply to every revision and settlement referred to in sub-section (1) or sub section (2).

Validation of directions given, before the commencement of this Act, for the record of certain rights.

99. Where a direction has been given, in any order made under section 101 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, before the commencement of this Act, for the record of any rights of the kind mentioned in clause (n) of section 80 of this Act, such direction shall be deemed to be as valid as if the said clause had been enacted before such order was made. [Bill of Jany., 1907, cl. 9, new s. 28A. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 18, new s. 28B.] VIII of 1885.

CHAPTER XIII.

PRÆDIAL CONDITIONS, AND THE COMMUTATION AND RECORD THEREOF.

Prohibition against new prædial conditions.

100. (1) From and after the commencement of this Act,— [1897 s. 10 (1). Bill of July, 1907, cl. 9, new s. 11A, (a) (b) (c).]

(a) no tenancy shall be created with any prædial condition attached, other than rent-free tenancies with the sole condition of rendering personal service; and

(b) no new prædial condition shall be imposed on any tenancy in existence at the time of such commencement.

(2) If any landlord creates a tenancy with a prædial condition attached, or imposes a prædial condition on an existing tenancy, in contravention of sub-section (1), he shall not be entitled to enforce the observance of such condition.

Liability of tenant when original conditions of tenancy cannot be ascertained.

101. When the original conditions of a tenancy cannot be ascertained, the tenant shall not be liable to any prædial conditions other than or in excess of those to which, by established custom or usage, the general body of the class to which he belongs in the village, tenure or estate in which the lands of the tenancy are situated, is liable: [Bill of July, 1907, cl. 9, new s. 11B.]

Provided that, in any case in which prædial conditions have been observed by a tenant for a period of five years continuously, any Revenue-officer acting under this Chapter may, when commuting such conditions under this Chapter, presume that the same are observeable in accordance with established custom or usage or in accordance with an express or implied contract made at the commencement of the tenancy.

Method of calculating present value of prædial condition.

102. When, in any proceedings under this Act, it becomes necessary for a Court to calculate the value of any prædial condition, such value shall be taken to be its average value during the ten years immediately prior to the proceedings, or during any shorter period for which evidence may be available. [Bill of Ju 1907, cl. 9, new s. 11C.]

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XIII.—Prædial Conditions, and the Commutation and Record thereof.—Clauses 103—106.)

Procedure in suit to recover value of prædial conditions.

103. When, in any suit for the recovery of rent, it is sought to recover the value of the prædial conditions appurtenant to a tenancy, an issue may be framed as to whether the value of the prædial conditions, when added to the rent payable in respect of the tenancy, exceeds a fair rent; and, if it is found that the resulting amount exceeds a fair rent, the Court shall decree the rent and so much (if any) of the value of the prædial conditions as, together with the rent, will not exceed a fair rent. [18th of July, 1907, cl. 9, new s. 11D.]

Voluntary commutation of prædial conditions.

104. (1) When any land is held subject to any prædial conditions, the tenant or the landlord may apply in writing to a Revenue-officer for commutation of such conditions. [1897, s. 4.]

(2) The Revenue-officer shall thereupon cause a notice to be served on the landlord or the tenant, as the case may be, and shall fix a day for considering the application; and on such day, or any day thereafter to which the hearing may be adjourned, shall proceed to inquire into the matter and to determine the amount which, in his judgment, is fairly and equitably payable in commutation of such conditions.

(3) In calculating the said amount, the Revenue-officer shall have regard only to the conditions to which the tenant is liable in accordance with established custom or usage or with any contract made when the tenancy commenced, and to the money value of such conditions at the time of making such calculation, and shall follow the procedure prescribed in section 102:

Provided that the amount payable in commutation shall be so fixed that the total annual rent of the land, including such amount as aforesaid, shall not exceed the rent which would be fair and reasonable if the land were not held subject to any prædial conditions.

Power to order record of prædial conditions, with or without commutation.

105. (1) The Local Government may, in any case in which it is, in its opinion, expedient so to do, make an order directing either— [1897, s. 5.]

(a) that a record of all prædial conditions to which the lands within any local area or any estate, tenure or part thereof are subject shall be prepared, and a commutation of such conditions made, by a Revenue-officer; or

(b) that a record as aforesaid be made by a Revenue-officer without commutation of such conditions as aforesaid.

(2) A notification in the Calcutta Gazette of an order under this section shall be conclusive evidence that the order has been duly made.

(3) The record of prædial conditions shall be prepared in the prescribed manner.

Preparation of record.

106. (1) Whenever an order is made under section 105, the Revenue-officer shall thereupon proceed to prepare a record containing the following particulars, namely:— [1897, s. 6.]

(a) the name of each tenant;

(b) the name of his landlord;

(c) the rent payable for the lands held by each tenant at the time the record is being prepared;

(d) the prædial conditions to which all or any of such lands are subject;

(e) the amount which, in the judgment of the Revenue-officer, may fairly be deemed payable in commutation of such conditions, and

(f) such other particulars as the Board may direct.

(2) In calculating the amount payable in commutation of such conditions, the Revenue-officer shall be guided by the provisions of section 104, sub-section (3).

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XIII.—Prædial Conditions, and the Commutation and Record thereof.—Clauses 107—110.)

Publication of record.

107. (1) When the Revenue-officer has prepared a record under section 106, he shall cause a draft of the same to be locally published in the prescribed manner and for the prescribed period, and shall receive and consider any objections which may be made to any entry therein or to any omission therefrom during the period of publication. [1897, s. 7.]

(2) When objections have been considered and disposed of in the prescribed manner, the record shall be finally framed and published in the prescribed manner.

(3) Separate drafts or records may be published under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) for different local areas, estates, tenures or parts thereof.

Appeal from orders of Revenue-officers.

108. (1) An appeal from any order of a Revenue-officer under this Chapter shall lie to the Deputy Commissioner, or to such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf. [1897, s. 8.]

(2) When an appeal has been disposed of under sub-section (1), a further appeal shall lie to the Commissioner.

(3) The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals shall, as nearly as may be, apply to all appeals under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2). XIV of 1882.

(4) If the Commissioner does not concur with the lower appellate authority, an appeal shall lie to the Board from the order of the Commissioner.

(5) Every appeal under sub-section (1) must be presented within three months, and every appeal under sub-section (2) or sub-section (4) must be presented within one month, from the date of the order appealed against.

Revision by Commissioner or Board.

109. The Commissioner or the Board may direct the revision of any record prepared under this Chapter, or any portion of such record, at any time within two years from the date of the final publication of the record, but not so as to affect any decision from which an appeal has been preferred under section 108: [1897, s. 9.]

Provided that no such direction shall be made until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Procedure where a survey and record-of-rights are being made.

110. In every local area, estate, tenure or part thereof, in which a survey is being made and a record-of-rights is being prepared under this Act or under any law in force before the commencement of this Act, [1897, s. 9A. Bill of Jany., 1907, cl. 18. Bill of July, 1907, cl. 32.]

and in which a record of prædial conditions is being prepared and a commutation thereof is being made under an order issued under section 105, the following provisions shall have effect, instead of those contained in sections 106 to 109, namely:—

(1) The Revenue-officer shall, at the time of attesting the preliminary record, ascertain all the prædial conditions to which, by established custom or usage or by contract made when the tenancy commenced, each tenant is liable, and the cash values of such conditions; and shall prepare a statement, in such form as the Board may direct, showing the conditions and values so ascertained.

(2) In calculating the cash value of such conditions, the Revenue-officer shall be guided by the provisions of section 104, sub-section (3).

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XII.—Prædial Conditions, and the Commutation and Record thereof.—Clauses 111—113.)

(3) The Revenue-officer shall enter in the khatiyán of each tenant the cash value of the prædial conditions (if any) to which such tenant is liable, as ascertained under clause (1).

(4) If any tenant is liable, by established custom or usage or by contract made when the tenancy commenced, to any prædial conditions other than those to which the general body of tenants are liable, or is not liable to all the prædial conditions to which the general body of tenants are liable, the Revenue-officer shall also specify in the khatiyán the prædial conditions to which such tenant is liable.

(5) The statement prepared under clause (1), and the entries in the khatiyán, shall be published in draft in the same manner and for the same period as the record-of-rights.

(6) Objections as to entries or omissions in the statement or khatiyán relating to prædial conditions may be made under the same conditions as objections to entries in or omissions from the record-of-rights, and shall be disposed of in the same manner as such objections.

(7) After the disposal of objections, the said statement, and the entries in the khatiyan relating to prædial conditions, shall be finally published at the same time and in the same manner as the record-of-rights.

(8) At any time within three months from the date of the certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights, a suit may be instituted before a Revenue-officer, for the decision of any dispute regarding any entry in the record relating to prædial conditions or regarding any omission to enter any such conditions in the record; and the Revenue-officer shall hear and decide the dispute.

(9) In all such suits the Revenue-officer shall, subject to any rules made in this behalf under section 256, adopt the procedure laid down in Chapter XVI for the trial of suits.

(10) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner from any decision of a Revenue-officer under clause (8), if presented within three months from the date of the decision.

Note of decisions in record-of-rights.

111. A note of every decision made by the Revenue-officer under clause (8) of section 110, or by the Commissioner under clause (10) of that section, shall be made in the record-of-rights as finally published under section 82, and such note shall be considered as part of the record.

Decision of question as to whether a payment in kind is a prædial condition or a payment of rent in kind.

112. Where, in any proceeding under this Chapter or under section 35, a question arises as to whether a payment in kind is a prædial condition or a payment of rent in kind, the Revenue-officer acting under this Chapter, or the officer acting under section 35, as the case may be, shall, after such inquiry as he may consider necessary, decide whether in fact the payment is a prædial condition or not.

Commencement and effect of commutation.

113. (1) When the commutation of any prædial conditions is settled under this Chapter, for any local area or estate, tenure or part thereof, the settlement shall take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the final publication of the record. [1897, s. 10.]

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XIII.—Prædial Conditions, and the Commutation and Record thereof.—Chapter XIV.—Record of Landlords' Privileged Lands.—Clauses 114—117.]

(2) The amount determined by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter to be payable by a tenant in commutation of prædial conditions shall be deemed to be part of the rent payable by the tenant, and shall be recoverable accordingly.

Expenses of voluntary commutation.

114. (1) The Revenue-officer may require any person applying for commutation under section 104 to deposit in advance the whole or any part of the estimated amount of the expenses to be incurred thereunder. [1897, s. 11.]

(2) When in any case the proceedings under section 104 have been completed, the Revenue-officer shall apportion the total expenses thereof between the landlord and tenant in such proportion as, having regard to all the circumstances, he may deem fit; and the amounts so apportioned shall be recoverable as an arrear of land-revenue.

(3) If the amount deposited by any person in pursuance of sub-section (1) exceeds the sum apportioned to him under subsection (2), the excess shall, when the proceedings have been completed, be refunded to him.

Expenses of record and compulsory commutation.

115. (1) The expenses incurred by the Government in carrying out in any local area or any estate, tenure or part thereof any order made under section 105, or such part of those expenses as the Local Government may direct, shall be defrayed by the landlords and tenants of land in that local area, estate, tenure or part, in such proportions as the Local Government, having regard to all the circumstances, may determine. [1897, s. 12.]

(2) The portion of the aforesaid expenses which any person is liable to pay shall be recoverable by the Government as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due in respect of the said local area, estate, tenure or part.

Explanation.—The word "tenure" in this section includes all revenue-free and rent-free tenures and holdings within a local area, estate or tenure.

Saving of right to claim reduction or enhancement of rent.

116. No proceedings under this Chapter shall bar the right of any tenant or landlord to claim a reduction or enhancement of rent under this Act after such proceedings have been completed. [189 , s. 12A.]

CHAPTER XIV.

(a) lands—

(i) which are cultivated by the proprietor himself with his own stock or by his own servants or by hired labour, or are held by a tenant under a lease for a term of years or from year to year, and which were, by custom, recognised, before the first day of January, 1905, as privileged land in which occupancy-rights could not accrue, and

(ii) which are entered in a record prepared by a Revenue-officer under this Chapter after he has satisfied himself that they rightly fall under sub-clause (i) of this section, and

(b) lands which are entered as manjhihas or bethkheta in any register prepared and confirmed under the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869. [Ben. Act II of 1869.]

120. In any inquiry as to whether any land is or is not a landlord's privileged land, a Revenue-officer acting under this Chapter shall proceed in the prescribed manner, and shall presume that such land is not a landlord's privileged land until the contrary is proved.

[1885, s. 120 (2). Bill of July, 1907, cl. 5, new ss. 9H, 9K (2).]

Issue of warrant of execution.

183. (1) A warrant of execution may be issued against either the person or the moveable property of a judgment-debtor, but shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. [1879 s. 99.]

(2) Every warrant of execution against the person or moveable property of a judgment-debtor shall be in the form set forth in Schedule I or Schedule J, as the case may be, or in a form to the like effect.

Indication of moveable property to be seized.

184 (1) Any moveable property required to be seized under a warrant of execution shall, if practicable, be described in a list to be furnished by the judgment-creditor; but, if the creditor is unable to furnish such list, he may apply for a general seizure of the debtor's effects to the amount of the judgment and costs. [1879, s. 100.]

(2) In either case, the property to be seized shall be pointed out by the creditor or his agent to the officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant.

Duration of warrant of execution.

185. Every warrant of execution shall bear the date of the day on which it is signed by the Deputy Commissioner, and shall continue in force for such period as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, not being more than sixty days from such date. [1879, s. 101.

Second and successive warrants of execution.

186. Second and successive warrants of execution may be issued, by order of the Deputy Commissioner, on the application of the judgment-creditor, after the expiration of the period fixed for the continuance in force of a previous warrant. [1879, s. 102.]

Notice when to be given before issue of warrant of execution.

187. (1) A warrant of execution shall not be issued upon any decree or order without previous notice to the party against whom execution is applied for, if, when application for the issue of the warrant is made, a period of more than one year has elapsed from the date of the decree or order, or from the date of the last previous application for execution. Imprisonment of defendant after passing of decree.

188. If a decree or order is for the payment of arrears of rent, or for money, or for the delivery of papers or accounts, and if the defendant has been committed to the civil jail under section 152, sub-section (1), or appears pursuant to the conditions of any security-bond given under section 152, the Deputy Commissioner may order that he be detained in, or committed to, the civil jail, there to remain for such time, not exceeding six months, as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, unless in the meantime he pays into Court the amount of the decree, with costs, or otherwise complies with the terms of the decree or order. [1879, s. 96.]

Procedure when judgment-debtor is arrested.

189. (1) If a warrant is issued against the person of a judgment-debtor, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall bring him with all convenient speed before the Deputy Commissioner. [1879, s. 106.]

(2) If the decree in execution of which the judgment-debtor was arrested is a decree for money, and if he does not immediately deposit in Court the full amount specified in the warrant, or make arrangements, satisfactory to the judgment-creditor, for the payment of the same, or satisfy the Deputy Commissioner that he has no present means of paying the same, the Deputy Commissioner shall send him to the civil jail, there to remain for such time as may be directed by warrant addressed to the keeper of the jail, unless in the meantime he pays the said amount:

Provided that no judgment-debtor shall be imprisoned in execution of a decree under this Act for a longer period than six months or (if the decree is for the payment of a sum of money not exceeding fifty rupees) six weeks ;

(3) If the decree in execution of which the judgment-debtor was arrested is a decree for the delivery of papers or accounts, and if the papers or accounts are not immediately delivered by him to the Deputy Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner may commit him to the civil jail, there to remain for such time, not exceeding six months, as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, unless in the meantime he delivers the papers or accounts according to the terms of the decree.

No second imprisonment under the same decree or order.

190. (1) When any judgment-debtor has been discharged from the civil jail, he shall not be imprisoned a second time under the same decree or order. [1879, s. 107.]

(2) If the amount due under such decree or order does not exceed fifty rupees, the Deputy Commissioner may declare such discharged person to be absolved from liability thereunder.

(3) In other cases the discharge shall not extinguish the liability of the discharged person under such decree or order, or exempt property belonging to him from attachment in execution thereof.

Diet-money for subsistence of prisoners.

191. (1) Any person who applies for a warrant for the arrest of a defendant under section 150, or for a warrant of execution against the person of a judgment-debtor under section 183, shall deposit in Court, at the time of the issue of the warrant, diet-money for thirty days, at such rate as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, for the subsistence of the prisoner. [1879, s. 108.]

(Chapter XVI.—Judicial Procedure in matters cognizable by the Deputy Commissioner—Clauses 192—196.)

(3) All diet-money spent in providing subsistence for any prisoner shall be added to the costs in the suit; and any diet-money not so spent shall be returned to the person who paid it. [1879, s. 110.]

Execution of decree or order for ejectment or re-instatement of cultivator.

192. (1) If the decree or order is for the ejectment of any cultivator from land occupied by him, or for the re-instatement of any cultivator in the occupancy of land from which he has been ejected, the decree or order shall be executed by giving the possession or occupancy of the land to the person entitled by the decree or order to such possession or occupancy. [1879, s. 4.]

(2) If any opposition to the execution of the order for giving such possession or occupancy is made by the party against whom the order is made, the Deputy Commissioner shall, in the exercise of his powers as a Magistrate, give effect to the order.

Execution of decree or order for cancelment of lease, or for ejectment or re-instatement of tenant not being an actual cultivator.

193. If the decree or order is for the cancelment of any lease, or the ejectment of any tenant (not being an actual cultivator), or for the re-instatement of any tenant (not being an actual cultivator) in the possession of a tenancy from which he has been ejected, the decree or order shall be executed— [1879, s. 95.]

(a) by proclaiming its substance to the cultivators or other occupants of the tenancy by beat of drum, or

(b) by notification reciting the substance of the decree or order and affixed in some conspicuous place within, or adjacent to, the tenancy, or

(c) in such other manner as may be prescribed by rule made in this behalf under section 256.

Execution against judgment-debtor's surety.

194. If the judgment-debtor has given security for his appearance, and is not present when judgment is pronounced, and if his surety fails to deliver him into custody when required so to do, a warrant of execution may be issued against the surety, for the sum due under the bond, in the same manner as if a decree for that sum had been passed against the surety. [1879, s. 97.]

Execution of decree for rent given in favour of sharer in undivided estate or tenure.

195. If a decree is given by the Deputy Commissioner under this Act in favour of a sharer in a joint undivided estate or tenure for money due to him on account of his share of the rent of any tenure comprised in such undivided estate or tenure, [1879, s. 127.]

application for the sale of such tenure shall not be received unless execution has first been taken out against any moveable property which the judgment-debtor may possess within the district in which the suit was instituted, and unless the sale of such property (if any) has proved insufficient to satisfy the decree; and such tenure may then, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, but not otherwise, be sold, in execution of the decree, in the manner in which any other immoveable property may be sold in execution of a decree for money under the provisions of sections 196 and 209.

Execution against immoveable property in certain cases, if judgment not satisfied.

196. In the execution of any decree or order by the Deputy Commissioner under this Act for the payment of money, not being money due or recoverable as an arrear of rent, [1879, s. 128.]

if satisfaction of the decree or order cannot be obtained by execution against the person or moveable property of the debtor within the district in which the suit was instituted, the judgment-creditor may apply for execution against any immoveable property belonging to such debtor; and such immoveable property may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, but not otherwise, be brought to sale in the manner provided in section 209.

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XVI.—Judicial Procedure in matters cognizable by the Deputy Commissioner—Clauses 197—203.)

Sales in Execution of Decrees of the Deputy Commissioner.

Notification of intended sale of moveable property, and custody of property.

197. (1) For the purpose of executing a warrant of execution issued by the Deputy Commissioner under this Chapter against the moveable property of a judgment-debtor, the officer charged with the execution of the warrant shall prepare a list of the property pointed out by the judgment-creditor; and shall publish a proclamation specifying the day upon which the sale is intended to be held, and a copy of the said list, at the intended place of sale and at the residence of the debtor. [1879, s. 111.]

(2) A copy of the said list and proclamation shall be transmitted to the Deputy Commissioner, and shall be affixed in his office.

(3) Until the day of sale, the said property shall remain in the custody of the officer executing the warrant.

Interval between seizure and sale.

198. No sale of any moveable property seized in execution under this Chapter shall be made until the expiration of a period of ten days after the day on which the property was so seized. [1879, s. 117.]

Place and manner of sale.

199. (1) Such sale shall be held at the place where the property is deposited, or at the nearest market or other place of public resort if the officer executing the warrant thinks it is likely to sell there to better advantage. [1879, s. 112.]

(2) The property shall be sold by public auction, in one or more lots as the officer executing the warrant may think advisable; and if the judgment-debt, and the costs of the execution and sale, are realised by the sale of a portion of the property, the execution shall immediately be withdrawn with respect to the remainder.

Prohibition of purchase by officers.

200. Officers executing warrants for the sale of property under this Chapter, and all persons employed by, or subordinate to, such officers, are prohibited from purchasing, either directly or indirectly, any property sold by such officers. [1879, s. 116.]

Postponement of sale if fair price be not offered.

201. If, on the property being put up for sale, no price which the officer executing the warrant considers fair is offered for it, and the owner of the property, or some person authorized to act on his behalf, applies to have the sale postponed until the next day, or the next market day if a market be held at the place of sale, the sale shall be postponed until such day, and shall then be completed at whatever price may be offered for the property. [1879, s. 113.]

Payment of purchase money.

202. (1) The price of every lot shall be paid in ready money at the time of sale, or as soon thereafter as the officer executing the warrant may think necessary; and, in default of such payment, the property shall again be put up and sold. [1879, s. 114.]

(2) When the purchase-money has been paid in full, the officer executing the warrant shall give the purchaser a certificate describing the property purchased by him and stating the price paid.

Application of proceeds of sale.

203. (1) From the proceeds of the sale, the officer executing the warrant shall make a deduction, at the rate of one anna in the rupee, on account of the costs of the sale, and shall transmit the amount to the Deputy Commissioner in order that it may be credited to the Government. [1879, s. 115.]

(2) The said officer shall then pay to the judgment-creditor the expenses incurred by the judgment-creditor in securing the execution of the decree, to such amount as, after examination of the statement of expenses furnished by the judgment-creditor, he thinks proper to allow.

(3) The remainder shall be applied to the discharge of the debt for which the sale was made, with interest thereon up to the day of sale; and, if there be any surplus, it shall be delivered to the person whose property has been sold.

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XVI.—Judicial Procedure in matters cognisable by the Deputy Commissioner—Clauses 204—207.)

Procedure where third party claims interest in property seized.

204. (1) If, before the day fixed for the sale, a third party appears before the Deputy Commissioner and claims a right or interest in any of the moveable property seized in execution, the Deputy Commissioner shall examine such party or his agent according to the law for the time being in force relating to the examination of witnesses; and, if he sees sufficient reason for so doing, may stay the sale of such property. [1879, s. 118.]

(2) The Deputy Commissioner shall, after taking evidence, adjudicate upon such claim, and shall make such order thereupon as he thinks fit. [1879, s. 119.]

(3) If the claimant fails to establish his right to the property seized in execution, the Deputy Commissioner may, by his order under sub-section (2), award to the judgment-creditor against the claimant, in addition to the costs of the proceedings, such sum as the Deputy Commissioner may consider sufficient to cover any loss of interest or any other damage which the judgment-creditor has sustained by reason of the postponement of the sale. [1879, s. 120.]

(4) The party against whom any order is passed by the Deputy Commissioner under this section may, at any time within one year from the date of the order, bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right: [1879, s. 121.]

Provided that, if the order be for the sale of the property, the suit shall not be for the recovery of the property, but for damages against the judgment-creditor by whom the property was brought to sale.

Irregularities not to vitiate sale.

205. No irregularity in publishing or conducting a sale of moveable property under a warrant of execution issued under this Chapter shall vitiate such sale; but nothing contained in this section shall bar any person who sustains damage by reason of any such irregularity from recovering damages by suit in the Civil Court, if instituted within one year from the date of the sale. [1879, s. 122.]

Sale of tenure or holding in execution of decree for arrears of rent.

206. (1) When a decree passed by the Deputy Commissioner under this Act is for an arrear of rent due in respect of a tenure or holding, the decree holder may apply for the sale of such tenure or holding, and the tenure or holding may thereupon be brought to sale, in execution of the decree, according to the provisions for the sale of under-tenures contained in the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865; and all the provisions of that Act except sections 13 and 14 shall, as far as may be, apply: [1879, s. 123, paras. 1 to 4.] Ben. Act VIII of 1865.

Provided that the Commissioner may, by order, in any case in which he may consider it desirable so to do,—

(a) prohibit the sale of any tenure or portion thereof, or

(b) stay any such sale for any period specified in the order:

Provided also that any sale of a resumable tenure under this section shall not affect the right of the grantor or his successor in title to resume such tenure, but shall be made subject to such right.

(2) When a warrant of execution has been issued under this Chapter against the person or moveable property of the judgment-debtor, no application shall be received under sub-section (1) while such warrant remains in force.

Sale of other property in execution of decree for arrears of rent of tenure or holding.

207. (1) If, after the sale of a tenure or holding in pursuance of section 206, any portion of the amount decreed remains due, process may be applied for against any other property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the judgment-debtor. [1879, s. 123, para. 5.]

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XVI.—Judicial Procedure in matters cognizable by the Deputy Commissioner—Clauses 208, 209.)

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), a decree-holder may, with the permission of the Deputy Commissioner, granted for reasons to be recorded in writing, proceed against any other property, moveable or immoveable, of the judgment-debtor, without first making application for the sale of the tenure or holding in respect of which the arrear has accrued.

(3) Property referred to in sub-sections (1) and (2) may be brought to sale— [1879, s. 123, para. 5.]

(a) if moveable, in the manner provided in sections 197 to 203, and

(b) if immoveable, in the manner provided in section 209.

Procedure where third party claims to be in lawful possession of tenure or holding.

208. (1) If, before the day fixed for the sale of any tenure or holding under this Chapter, a third party appears before the Deputy Commissioner and alleges that such third party, and not the person against whom the decree has been obtained, is the holder of such tenure or holding and was in lawful possession of the same at the time when the decree was obtained, [1879, s. 125.]

the Deputy Commissioner shall examine such party according to the law for the time being in force relating to the examination of witnesses; and if he sees sufficient reason for so doing, and if such party deposits in Court or gives security for the amount of the decree, the Deputy Commissioner shall stay the sale, and shall, after taking evidence, adjudicate upon the claim:

Provided that no such adjudication shall be made if the Deputy Commissioner considers that the claim was designedly or unnecessarily delayed:

Provided also that no transfer of a tenure shall be recognised unless it has been registered in the office of the landlord or sufficient cause for non-registration is shown to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner.

(2) The party against whom judgment is given by the Deputy Commissioner under sub-section (1) may, at any time within one year from the date of the judgment, bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right. [1879, s. 126.]

Execution against buildings, under-tenures and estates.

209. (1) If the immoveable property against which execution is applied for under this Chapter is a building, process shall be issued in the same manner as for the seizure and sale of moveable property; and the provisions of sections 197 to 203 shall, so far as may be practicable, be applicable to the execution of such process. [1879, s. 129.]

(2) If the property is a saleable tenure, it shall be sold under the provisions of the law for the time being in force in Bengal applicable to the sale of such tenures for demands other than those for arrears of rent due in respect thereof.

(3) If the property is an estate or a share of an estate, it shall be sold under the provisions of the law for the time being in force in Bengal applicable to the sale of estates for the recovery of demands recoverable by the same process as arrears of land-revenue.

(4) If, before the day fixed for the sale of any immoveable property referred to in this section, objection is offered to the sale on the ground of such property not belonging to the judgment-debtor, the Deputy Commissioner shall examine the party making the objection, according to the law for the time being in force relating to the examination of witnesses; and, if satisfied that there is sufficient ground for so doing, shall stay the sale, and shall, after taking evidence, adjudicate upon the objection. [1879, s. 130.]

(5) The party against whom judgment is given by the Deputy Commissioner under sub-section (4) may, at any time within one year from the date of the judgment, bring a suit in the Civil Court to establish his right.

Application to set aside sale of immoveable property, on deposit of debt and compensation to purchaser.

210. (1) When any immoveable property has been sold under this Chapter in execution of a decree, any person who owned such property immediately before the sale, or who claims an interest therein under a title lawfully acquired before the sale, may, at any time within a period of thirty days from the date of the sale, apply to have the sale set aside on his depositing in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner,— [1879, s. 130A (1).]

(a) for payment to the purchaser—a sum equal to five per centum of the purchase-money, and

(b) for payment to the decree-holder—the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation and sale, have been received by the decree-holder:

Provided that, if a person applies under section 211 to set aside the sale of his immoveable property, he shall not be entitled to make an application under this section. [Act XIV of 1882, s. 310A. prov.]

(2) If the said deposits are made within the said period, the Court shall pass an order setting aside the sale, and the provisions of section 315 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply in the case of a sale so set aside. [1879, s. 130A (2).] XIV of 1882.

Application to set aside sale of immoveable property on ground of irregularity.

211. (1) When any immoveable property has been sold under this Chapter in execution of a decree, the decree-holder or the person who owned such property immediately before the sale may apply to the Deputy Commissioner to set aside the sale on the ground of a material irregularity in publishing or conducting it; but no sale shall be set aside on the ground of irregularity unless the applicant proves to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner that he has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity. [Act XIV of 1882, s. 311.]

(2) If such application be made, and if the objection be allowed, the Deputy Commissioner shall pass an order setting aside the sale. [Act XIV of 1882, s. 312. para. 2.]

Grounds on which suit to set aside sale may be instituted.

212. No suit shall be entertained in any Court to set aside, or to modify the effect of, any sale made under this Chapter, save under section 210 or section 211 or on the ground of fraud or want of jurisdiction.

Appeals.

(c) orders passed after decree and relating to the execution thereof, or

(d) orders passed under section 204, section 208 or section 211, sub-section (4),

[1879, s. 137.]

(2) When any such suit in which, if tried and decided by a Deputy Commissioner, the judgment of the Deputy Commissioner would be final, is tried and decided by a Deputy Collector, an appeal from the judgment of the Deputy Collector shall lie to the Deputy Commissioner. [1879, s. 139.]

Appeal to Deputy Commissioner when to be presented.

217. Every petition of appeal to the Deputy Commissioner under section 216, sub-section (2), shall be presented within thirty days from the date of decree appealed against: [1879, s. 140.]

(2) If, on the day fixed for hearing the appeal, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the appellant does not appear in person or by agent, the appeal shall be dismissed for default.

(3) If on such day the appellant appears and the respondent does not appear in person or by agent, the appeal shall be heard ex-parte.

Re-admission of appeal.

219. If an appeal is dismissed for default of prosecution, the appellant may, within fifteen days from the date of the dismissal, apply to the Deputy Commissioner or the Commissioner, as the case may be, for the re-admission of the appeal; and, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner or the Commissioner, as the case may be, that the appellant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing, the Deputy Commissioner or the Commissioner, as the case may be, may re-admit the appeal. [1879, s. 142.]

Judgment in appeal.

220. After hearing the appeal, the Deputy Commissioner or the Commissioner, as the case may be, shall give judgment in the manner provided in section 171 for giving judgment in original suits; and his judgment shall be final. [1879, s. 143.]

(2) If the party against whom any such judgment has been given appears, either in person or by agent,—

(a) if a plaintiff, within thirty days from the date of the Deputy Commissioner's order, and,

(b) if a defendant, within thirty days after any process for enforcing the judgment has been executed,

(2) Before consenting to any such transfer the Deputy Commissioner shall satisfy himself that the landlord is adequately compensated for the transfer, and, where only part of the land comprised in the tenancy is transferred, may, if he thinks fit, apportion between the transferee and the original tenant all dues payable for the tenancy.

(3) An appeal against any order of a Deputy Commissioner consenting or refusing to consent to any such transfer shall lie to the Commissioner, if presented within one month from the date of the order.

240. (1) When an arrear of rent accrues in respect of a Mundari khunt-kattidari tenancy for which a record-of-rights has been prepared under this Act or under any law in force before the commencement of this Act, [1879, s. 155.]

no suit shall be maintainable in any Court for the recovery of the arrear; but the landlord may apply in writing to the Deputy Commissioner to make a certificate authorising the recovery thereof, with simple interest at six-and-a-quarter or (in the case of money recoverable under the Cess Act, 1880,) twelve-and-a-half per centum per annum, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895. (3) The person in whose favour any such certificate is made shall be deemed to be the decree-holder for the amount mentioned in the certificate, and the person against whom the certificate is made shall be deemed to be the judgment-debtor for the said amount; and all proceedings taken by the Certificate Officer for the recovery of such amount shall be taken at the instance of the first-mentioned person, and at his cost and on his responsibility, and not otherwise.

(4) Every such certificate shall have the same effect as a certificate made under section 7 of the said Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895; and the following portions of that Act shall be applicable, namely, the proviso to section 7, sub-section (1) section 9, sub-sections (2) and (3); section 10, sub-section (1); and sections 11 to 14, 18, 19, 22 and 24 to 33: [Ben. Act I of 1895.]

(a) a certificate made under this section may be enforced only by the attachment and sale of the moveable property of the person against whom the certificate is made, or by the attachment and realisation of rent or other debts due to him, or by execution against his person in the manner provided by Chapter XVI, or by any two or more of these processes; and

(b) no objection by any third person to the attachment or sale of crops shall be entertained, except—

(i) an objection, by a mortgagee holding under a bhugut bandha mortgage, that the judgment-debtor has other moveable property or assets from which the sum due can be realised; or

(ii) an objection, by a lessee holding under a mukarrari lease as described in section 236, clause (a), that the land in respect of which the arrear accrued is included in his lease, and that the judgment-debtor has other moveable property or assets from which the sum due can be realised; or

(iii) an objection, by a cultivator, that he is in possession of the land in respect of which the arrear accrued, that the land is recorded in the record-of-rights as being in the possession of himself or of some person from whom he has lawfully acquired such possession, and that the judgment-debtor has other moveable property or assets from which the sum due can be realised; or

(iv) an objection, by such third person, that the land on which such crops were or are standing is entered in the record-of-rights as being in the possession of himself or of some person from whom he has lawfully acquired possession, and that such land does not form part of the tenancy in respect of which the certificate was made.

The Chota Nagpur Tenancy and Settlement Bill, 1908.

(Chapter XVIII.—Special provisions with respect to Mundari Khunt-Kattidars.—Clauses 241—246.)

(5) The provisions of sections 182 to 205 shall, so far as they may be applicable, apply to proceedings under sub-section (4).

(6) If no appeal is presented under section 32 of the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, or if any such appeal is decided against the judgment-debtor, the certificate shall become absolute, and shall have the same force and effect as a final decree of a Civil Court.

Ben. Act I of 1895.

(7) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Deputy Commissioner may, in any case, by written order setting forth the reasons therefor, refuse to make a certificate as aforesaid, or stay for any specified period the execution of any certificate which has been made.

(8) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner from any order made under sub-section (7), if presented within one month from the date of the order.

(2) A decree or order made in any such suit may be enforced only by the attachment and sale of the moveable property of the defendant, or by the attachment and realisation of rent or other debts due to him, or by execution against his person in the manner provided by Chapter XVI, or by any two or more of these processes.

Joinder of parties in proceedings under section 240 or 242.

and an objection to the making of a certificate under section 240, or to the execution thereof, or to the maintenance of a suit under section 242, is made on the ground that all the khunt-kattidars have not been made parties to the proceedings, the objection shall not be entertained if it be shown that other khunt-kattidars could not be made parties without undue delay or expense.

Recovery of money due to the Government.

244. Where a decree, or a certificate under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, has been made against a Mundari khunt-kattidar for any money due to the Government, the Deputy Commissioner may attach the land occupied by him and make such arrangements as the Deputy Commissioner may consider suitable for liquidating the debt.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE objects of this Bill are—

(1) to consolidate, simplify and re-arrange the greater part of the statute law relating to landlord and tenant in Chota Nagpur;

(2) to secure raiyats in Chota Nagpur in the enjoyment of their existing rights, both statutory and customary, to ameliorate their condition, and to ensure in cases of necessity their protection against oppressive landlords;

(3) to safeguard the interests of landlords in their khas privileged lands, and their interests in certain other directions, and to protect them against fraudulent complaints made by raiyats, and

(4) to remove, as far as possible, ambiguities, defects and anomalies which are known to exist in the present law.

2. The existing statute law relating to landlord and tenant in Chota Nagpur (except the district of Manbhum) is to be found mainly in the following Acts of the Bengal Council:—

Bengal Act I of 1879,	Bengal Act V of 1903, and

and in certain provisions of Act VIII of 1885 (the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885) which were extended to Chota Nagpur (except the district of Manbhum) by Notification No. 1379L.R., dated the 5th March 1908, viz., sections 3(1), (2), (15), (17), 101(1), (3), (4), 102, 102A, 103A, 103B, 104G(2), 108A, 109B(1), (3), 111, 111A, 114, 148 (b), (b1), (b2), 189(1), (2), 190 and 195 (a), (f).

3. In 1906 certain proposals to amend Bengal Act I of 1879 were made, and an amending Bill was drafted, circulated for consideration, and introduced in the Bengal Council, and was referred to a Select Committee of the Council in February, 1907. The opportunity has now been taken of incorporating the clauses of that Bill (subject to certain modifications and additions) with the sections of the Acts at present in force, and of re-arranging the law relating to landlord and tenant in the manner adopted in the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. It is hoped that the new arrangement of the sections and the division of the Act into Chapters dealing with separate subjects will render the law more readily intelligible and easy of reference.

4. The important principles of the Bill in regard to its second object, namely, the improvement of the position of raiyats in Chota Nagpur, are the following:—

(1) The principle of the settled raiyat, which has been accepted in the rest of Bengal since 1885, is recognized in Chota Nagpur (clause 15). No objections of any kind have been made to this proposal, and no reason exists why raiyats in Chota Nagpur should be placed in a less advantageous position in this respect than raiyats in the rest of Bengal. At the same time, where by custom or usage raiyats in Chota Nagpur have rights superior to those conferred by the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, these have been safeguarded.

(2) All enhancements of rents of occupancy-raiyats by private contract in future have been distinctly prohibited [clause 25(2)]. Section 21 of Bengal Act I of 1879 provides for this to some extent already, but opinions have not been unanimous as to the proper interpretation of that section, and moreover, in practice, private enhancements have been frequent, and in many cases excessive, and hence the question has been dealt with fully in the present Bill (clauses 25 to 28). The Bill (clause 24) legalises existing enhancements where the enhanced rents have been paid continuously for a period of seven years; and for enhancements in future provides that rents shall only be enhanced, in areas where a record-of-rights has not been prepared, by order of the Deputy Commissioner, and, in areas where a record-of rights has been published, by periodical revisions of that record by Settlement-officers. A record-of-rights is being prepared for the whole Division, and it is therefore hoped that, in the course of a few years, rents of occupancy-raiyats will only be liable to enhancement at periodical revisions of Settlement all over the Division. In preparing records-of-rights after the commencement of this Bill, Settlement-officers have also been given the power of settling fair rents (clause 84), and, when once fair rents have been settled and a record prepared, no revision of the same is allowed for a period of fifteen years (clause 93).

(3) The term "enhancement" has been distinguished from an increase of rent on account of increase of area (clause 29). An increase of rent on the ground of an increase in the area of a tenancy is allowed at any time if sanctioned by the Deputy Commissioner on an application made to him, or by a Revenue-officer engaged in preparing a record-of-rights; and, in addition to this, landlords are allowed, under the Bill, to settle separate new lands with any raiyat by private contract (clauses 30 to 32). Provision has also been made for the payment of increased rent where uplands are converted into rice lands, without the intervention of any Government officer [clause 32(b)].

(4) There exists in the present law no provision for the commutation of rents in kind into money-rents. This has been provided for in the Bill (clause 35), on the lines of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

(5) All raiyats have been protected from ejectment from their holdings, except in execution of a decree or of an order of a competent Court (clause 70). The provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act regarding abandonment have also been inserted in the Bill (clause 73).

(6) The position of non-occupancy raiyats has been very much ameliorated by the present Bill, and such raiyats have been given very much the same rights as non-occupancy raiyats in the rest of Bengal (Chapter VI). No objections to this proposal have been made at the various discussions of the Bill.

(7) The customary rights of the raiyats in regard to the conversion of jungle and waste lands into rice lands have been clearly and specifically recognized (clauses 64 to 69).

(8) Lastly, provision has been made that the Local Government may, in any particular area in which such a course is found necessary, cause to be prepared a record-of-rights of village headmen and other classes of tenants, which record shall be final and conclusive (clauses 123 to 127). Aboriginal cultivators have in certain areas been protected already to some extent by the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, and by Bengal Acts V of 1903 and V of 1905; but similar protective measures are necessary in the case of other aboriginals in many parts of the Division, and it is to meet the cases of these men that the present proposals contained in clauses 123 to 127 of the Bill have been made. It is not proposed to extend the provisions of these clauses to any area where inquiry does not show that the preparation of such a record is advisable, but it is necessary that the Local Government should have power to protect these aboriginals in areas in which the necessity for such protection is proved to exist. In many parts of the Division aboriginal raiyats are entirely unable to meet the expense of civil litigation, and are also not sufficiently intelligent or educated to be able to secure their rights in their lands in the ordinary Civil Courts. The result of the Bhuinhari agitation was the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, by which Act certain classes of aboriginal raiyats in Ranchi were partially protected. The result of repeated risings on the part of the Mundas was the special legislation of 1903 and 1905 to which reference has been made. The discontent that prevails among more law-abiding classes of aboriginals at the want of any protective measures securing them in the enjoyment of their rights is the more to be regretted in that it has given rise to a feeling that the best method of securing redress of any grievances is violent and unlawful political agitation. It is obviously undesirable that any such false impression should exist.

5. The interests of landlords have been equally considered in the Bill in many most important matters, as follows:—

(1) Provision has been made for the preparation of a record of all landlords' privileged lands, i.e., lands in which, by custom, no occupancy-rights can accrue (clauses 117 to 122). In Bengal the only persons who can own lands of a similar character are proprietors of estates; but in Chota Nagpur the fact has been recognized that such privileged lands can be, and often are, held by tenure-holders. The register of such lands will be prepared by Deputy Commissioners, on application made, in areas in which a record-of-rights is not prepared after the commencement of the Bill, and by Settlement-officers during the course of ordinary settlement proceedings in areas where a record-of-rights is prepared after the commencement of the Bill.

(2) Settlement-officers preparing records-of-rights in future have also been given power to settle fair rents in all cases at any time before final publication of the record-of-rights (clause 84) and Revenue-officers are authorized, in areas in which a record-of-rights has been prepared before the Bill comes into force, to assess rents on lands recorded as assessable with rent, but on which no rent has actually been assessed [clause 93 (1) proviso]. Under the existing law no application for assessment of rents on such lands can be entertained, to the very great prejudice of landlords.

(3) Authority has also been given to Revenue Courts to grant compensation to landlords in cases in which false or vexatious allegations of non-delivery of rent receipts are made by raiyats (clause 55).

6. All amendments of any importance which it is proposed by the Bill to make in the existing law are mentioned in the subjoined notes on clauses.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clauses 1 and 2.—The Bill is declared to extend, like the enactments and notifications which are entered in Schedule A for repeal, to the whole of the Chota Nagpur Division except the district of Manbhum. Power is taken to extend the whole or any portion of the Bill, when it becomes law, to the district of Manbhum or any part thereof; and it is declared that when such extension is made the enactments specified in Schedule B shall be deemed to be repealed. Manbhum has long been governed, in tenancy matters, by special enactments, most of which were repealed in the rest of the Chota Nagpur Division by Bengal Act I of 1879; and it is expected that in course of time it will be possible to bring the Bill into force in that district, so that the whole Division may be subject to the same law.

Clause 3 (vi).—It is proposed to authorise the Local Government to empower any other officer to discharge the functions of the Commissioner or the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur in any particular area to which the Bill applies.

Clause 3 (viii).—The Deputy Commissioner has power, under the present law, to transfer his functions to any Deputy Collector. It is proposed to extend this provision by authorising him to transfer any of his functions to any Revenue-officer.

Clause 3 (xi) defines "korkar," that is, shortly, land reclaimed from waste or jungle for the preparation of rice. This term is used in the existing Act (Bengal Act I of 1879), but, owing to the want of a definition of it, very considerable difficulty has arisen in dealing with cases in which such land is in dispute.

Clause 3 (xvi).—This explanation of the words "pay," "payable" and "payment" is new. It is taken from the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and is inserted with reference to the payment of rent in kind (cf. clause 35 of the Bill).

Clause 3 (xvii).—This definition of "permanent tenure" is new. It is taken from the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Clause 3 (xviii).—This definition of "praedial conditions" is taken from Bengal Act IV of 1897, with amendments designed to meet difficulties that have arisen in connection with the subject in commutation proceedings.

Clause 3 (xxii).—This definition of "rent" is taken, with very slight modifications, from the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. Provision has been made that the value of personal services, locally known as begari, shall not be included in "rent." In practice in most Courts, at present, the value or price of such services is not deemed to be a portion of the rent.

Clause 3 (xxvii).—This definition of the word "village" is based on section 3(10) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, but does not exactly follow it. Where a survey and record-of-rights have been prepared, the declaration in the record is adopted, subject to any modification made by a competent Court after final publication of the record. It is necessary, however, to have some definition for areas for which such a survey has not been made, and hence sub-clause (b) has been added. In most cases the area of a village is well known and will not be disputed. In cases where disputes arise, provision has been made for a determination of the question. It is not apprehended that sub-clause (b) will often be needed in practice.

Clause 4 is new. It merely describes the various classes of tenants dealt with in the Bill, and follows the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, section 4.

Clause 7 defines "raiyat having khunt-katti rights"; that is, a raiyat who is one of those who founded a village and originally cleared the jungle, or is a descendant in the male line of such a raiyat. The term "khunt-katti" is used in section 19 of the existing Act (Bengal Act I of 1879), but no definition of the expression is given in that Act.

Clause 9 reproduces section 18 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with the substitution of "tenure-holder" for "dependent talukdar or other person possessing a permanent transferable interest in land, intermediate between the proprietor of an estate and the raiyat." It is understood that the expression "tenure-holder", as defined in clause 5 of the Bill, includes all the persons referred to in the said section 18.

Clause 10 is based on section 19 of Bengal Act I of 1879, which provides for the enhancement of rents of bhuinhars whose tenures are less than 20 years old. No bhuinhars whose tenures are registered under the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, are liable to enhancement under the existing law, since their tenures are all more than twenty years old. Their exemption from enhancement is definitely stated in clause 10. Tenants of a similar description whose lands are not so registered are protected by clause 37 of the Bill.

Clause 11(1) reproduces the first paragraph of section 34 of Bengal Act I of 1879, but the words "or otherwise" have been inserted so as to extend the paragraph to transfers of all kinds.

Clause 13 (b) is new. It protects a raiyat or any other cultivator in his rights when the tenure within which his land is comprised is resumed. The word "cultivator" has been used advisedly, in order to protect village headmen and others who might not technically be "raiyats" as defined in clause 6 of the Clauses 14, 15, 16 and 17 are almost entirely new. They deal with the question of the settled raiyat and occupancy-rights. The provisions of sections 19, 20 and 21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, have been followed, with some modifications, those of importance being as follow:—

(a) in clause 15 (5) and (6) three years have been substituted for one year, because raiyats in Chota Nagpur are in the habit of moving temporarily to the labour districts in Bengal and Assam for periods of more than a year, in search of labour;

(b) clause 16 gives to Bhuinhars and Mundari Khunt-kattidars the rights of settled raiyats. The reasons for this are obvious. If a raiyat, by cultivating lands for 12 years in a village, acquires any status of advantage in the village, the same privilege should a fortiori be accorded to any raiyat holding land in the village who is one of the family of the original reclaimers of the village; and this is exactly the position of Bhuinhars and Mundari Khunt-kattidars.

The provision in section 6 of Bengal Act I of 1879 which bars the acquisition of occupancy-rights in lands locally known as mán or saika is not reproduced in the present clauses. Such lands are dealt with elsewhere. Where they are landlords' privileged lands, they are provided for in clause 44; and, where they are service lands, they will be covered by clause 77.

Clause 18 is new. It embodies section 22 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with—

(a) changes in sub-clause (3), and the addition thereto of a proviso to meet the case of certain village headmen and others who are really cultivators and, by custom, acquire occupancy-rights in their lands; and

(b) the addition of a sub-clause to apply the section to holders of resumable tenures.

Clause 19 is new. It embodies section 23 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with the addition of a reference to local custom or usage and with the omission of the reference to trees.

Clause 21 is new. It embodies section 25 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with an amendment in sub-clause (a) corresponding with that made in clause 19.

Clause 22 is new. It embodies section 26 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Clause 23 embodies section 27 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. It is similar to paragraph 2 of section 8 of Bengal Act I of 1879, except that the words "in an inquiry under section 24" are not reproduced.

Clause 24 is new. It embodies the section 21 which was proposed in clause 13 of the Bill of July, 1907. The enhancement of rents of occupancy-raiyats by private contract, whether prohibited or not by section 21 of Bengal Act I of 1879, has been very common, and to refuse to recognise the validity of such enhancements when the same have been paid for many years would cause such a disturbance of the relations between landlord and tenant that the greatest dissatisfaction and ill-feeling would result. It is therefore proposed to validate such enhancements when the enhanced rents have been paid for a period of seven years continually, and when the rents are fair and equitable.

Clauses 25, 26 and 27 deal with the future enhancement of the rent of occupancy-raiyats. They reproduce sections 21 to 24 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with the following modifications—

(a) enhancement under the procedure provided by clause 27 of the Bill is limited [by clause 25(a)] to areas for which a record-of-rights has not been prepared;

(b) it is declared [by clause 25(b)] that in areas for which a record-of-rights has been prepared enhancement may be made only by order of a Revenue-officer, passed under Chapter XII of the Bill;

(c) it is expressly declared [by clause 25(2)] that enhancements made otherwise than as now proposed shall not be recognised in any Court;

(d) the particulars to be entered in applications to the Deputy Commissioner for enhancement have been revised [clause 26], and

(e) it is declared that rent may be enhanced only on specific grounds; that no enhancement shall be ordered which is, under the circumstances of the case, unfair or inequitable; and that all enhancements shall be limited in the manner prescribed by rules made by the Local Government [clause 27(1), provisoes].

Clause 28 is new. It embodies section 36 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and authorises the gradual enhancement of rent where an immediate enhancement might be inequitable.

Clause 29 is new. It deals with the distinction between (1) enhancements and (2) increases of rent on account of increased area. It will be noticed that a payment of increased rent for lands converted from waste or jungle into rice lands is not to be deemed an "enhancement." Such reclamations are common, and rent is payable for the converted lands in accordance with different customs in various villages; and it would be inequitable to refuse to allow private contracts, in accordance with local custom, for the increase of rent in the case of such reclamations On the other hand, the commutation of money-rents into rents in kind is a form of enhancement which is at times practised in the Chota Nagpur Division, and should be checked.

Clauses 30, 31 and 32 are new. They deal with increases of rents on account of increases in area. Such increases will only be effected by orders of the Deputy Commissioner or by orders of a Revenue-officer engaged in preparing a record-of-rights. Increases of rent on account of separate new lands settled with a tenant, or on account of the conversion of uplands into rice lands, are not affected (see clause 32).

Clause 33.—The particulars to be entered in applications to the Deputy Commissioner for reduction of rent have been revised.

Clause 35 is new. It deals with the commutation of rents payable in kind into money-rents, and follows very closely the provisions of section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, a sub-clause being added, at the end, to prohibit the assessment of any amount in excess of a fair and equitable rent.

Clause 36 is new. It embodies section 40A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with the substitution of "increased" for "enhanced."

Clause 37.—The first paragraph is new. It declares that the provisions of the Bill relating to occupancy-raiyats shall apply to raiyats having khunt-katti rights.

The provisos reproduce so much of section 19 of Bengal Act I of 1879 as relates to raiyats having khunt-katti rights, but with the modification that the bar to the enhancement of their rent shall operate only where the tenancy was created more than twenty years before the commencement of the new Act, instead of where the tenancy was created more than twenty years before the institution of a suit for enhancement.

Clauses 38 to 43 deal with the rights of non-occupancy raiyats, and follow, with some modifications, sections 42 to 44 and 46 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. The principal modifications are as follow:—

(a) the provisions of clause 38 are declared to be subject to local custom or usage;

(b) clause 39 is new;

(c) in clause 41 (b) the same protection is given to a non-occupancy raiyat in regard to the use of his land in any manner authorized by custom as is afforded to occupancy-raiyats by clause 19;

(d) in clause 42 (1) the period within which a suit under that clause may be brought has been made six, instead of three, months, to meet the convenience of landlords;

(e) it has been provided in clause 42 (2) that a notice of enhancement need not be served through the Court if the landlord prefers some other method of service; and

(f) it has been declared that the Court may, if it thinks fit, have regard to the rents generally paid by non-occupancy raiyats for similar land in adjoining villages.

concluding portion of paragraph provisions of the clause are new. They bar the acquisition of occupancy-rights in (1) lands which are entered as manjhihas or bethkheta in the register made under the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, and (2) land acquired for the Government or any Local Authority or Railway Company, and Government land in cantonments. The provision in case (1) is new in form only, for it was declared in the preamble to the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, that manjhihas lands are at the "absolute disposal" of the proprietors of villages, and in section 1 of that Act that "manjhihas" includes bethkheta, and section 6 of Bengal Act I of 1879 declares that occupancy-rights cannot be acquired in manjhihas lands. The provision in case (2) follows section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as amended by Bengal Act I of 1907.

Clause 44 also declares that Chapter V (relating to non-occupancy raiyats) shall not apply to landlords' privileged lands or to land referred to in case (2) above.

Clause 47.—The words "express or implied, which exceeds or might in any possible event exceed" have been substituted for "exceeding," in order to meet an objection which has been taken that section 10B of Bengal Act I of 1879 does not prohibit all transfers for a period exceeding five years.

Clause 48.—In proviso (b) words have been inserted to authorise the sale of holdings, under the Certificate procedure, for the recovery of loans granted by the Local Government for the benefit of the holdings otherwise than under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, or the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884.

Clause 49 is new. It provides against the transfer of their tenures by Bhuinhars, and also bars the acquisition of occupancy-rights by their lessees The original Bhuinhars and their descendants are really cultivators, and are in as much need of protection in these respects as any other class of cultivators. In fact, many of these Bhuinhars have already sold their lands to money-lenders and others, and it is very necessary to prevent the remainder from similarly transferring their tenures and reducing themselves to the position of landless labourers.

Clauses 50 and 51 are new. They embody a very important change in the existing law. By clause 51 landlords are allowed, subject to certain conditions, to acquire the holdings of raiyats for works of public utility, as landlords in Bengal are allowed to do under section 84 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. A similar right of transfer is granted to raiyats and bhuinhar tenure-holders by clause 50, and they are allowed to part with their holdings or tenures in certain circumstances for works of general utility. Provision has at the same time been made for the proper safeguarding of the landlords' interest when transfers are sanctioned under clause 50. Under the existing law, an obstructive landlord, or an obstructive raiyat, may indefinitely delay the completion of some work, from which all alike, landlords and tenants, would benefit.

Clause 52 is new, and is intended to protect tenants from liability to pay rent to a transferee, when the same has been paid bonâ fide to an old landlord whose interest in the tenure or estate has been transferred. The clause embodies section 72 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with the addition of the words "in good faith."

Clause 53 is new. It embodies section 53 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with the qualification that agreements as to the payment of rent by instalments must be registered.

Clause 54 provides for the payment of rent by money-order, and is so obviously sound that little need be said to justify its inclusion in the Bill.

Clause 55(5).—Under Bengal Act I of 1879, section 12, as amended in 1903, landlords are subject to fine if receipts are not granted for rents paid. Provision has now been made for the punishment of raiyats who bring false accusations against their landlords that receipts have been withheld.

Clause 56 reproduces section 13 of Bengal Act I of 1879 [in the form adopted in section 61 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885,] with the following amendments:—

(1) the words "or remits" in sub-clause (a) are new: they refer to remittances by postal money-order;

(2) sub-clause (d) is new: it embodies clause (d) of section 61 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885;

(3) the words "within three months from the date on which such rent became due" are substituted for the words "within one month from the date of such tender," because in some cases there will be no actual tender.

(4) sub-clause (2) is new. It declares that, when a deposit is made, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that it has been lawfully made. This sub-clause is necessary because, if the onus of proving that a deposit is lawfully made is cast on the raiyat, he will lose the benefit of the clause in many cases, although the deposit has been lawfully made.

Clause 57.—Since it is proposed, by sub-clause (d) of clause 56, to allow a tenant to deposit rent when he entertains a bonâ fide doubt as to who is entitled to receive the rent, it is necessary to make some provision to enable the Deputy Commissioner, in cases of difficulty, to refer to the Civil Court claims to amounts deposited. Sub-clause (3) of clause 57 has been altered accordingly.

A further alteration made in clause 57 is the substitution of "as soon as possible" for "within seven days," in sub-clause (2).

In sub-clause (3), the word "agent" has been substituted for "duly authorised agent." A similar change has been made in other clauses of the Bill, taken from Bengal Act I of 1879, in which the expression "authorized agent" or "duly authorized agent" is used.

Clause 59 reproduces section 30 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with modifications which are, in part, based on sections 54 (1) and (3) and 67 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. The modifications are—

(1) the omission of the provision which admits of the rate of interest being fixed by agreement; and

(2) the fixing of the maximum rate of interest at 12½ per cent., with a proviso limiting the interest for the entire year to 6¼ per cent.

The rate 12½ per cent. is reasonable. In some cases landlords are believed to realise rents in numerous instalments, and to claim heavy interest on each instalment, so that, although a tenant pays the whole of his rent in the year in which it accrues, yet he is mulcted in heavy sums for interest. It is to meet cases of this kind that the proviso has been framed. It is believed that simple interest at the rate of 6¼ per cent. will amply compensate any landlord for a delay in the receipt of rent when the sum is paid in full within the year in which it became due.

Section 16 of Bengal Act I of 1879, which prohibits irregular compulsion for payment of rent, is not reproduced in the Bill. The section is of no practical use; and it seems in any case to be superfluous, having regard to the provisions of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), sections 339 et seq., relating to wrongful restraint and wrongful confinement.

Clauses 64 to 69 (clauses 64, 65, 66, 67 and 69 being new) deal with the subject of reclaiming waste and jungle lands and converting them into rice lands. Raiyats are allowed to convert any lands included in their holdings into rice land, without let or hindrance by the landlord. Outside their own holdings they are similarly allowed to reclaim waste and jungle lands and convert them into rice lands without the consent of the landlord, where they have a customary right to do so, the onus to prove the custom being on the raiyats. In cases in which the consent of the landlord to such reclamation is necessary, it is proposed by clause 65 to declare that if the landlord does not stop a raiyat making korkar, by making an application to the Deputy Commissioner within two years of the commencement of the work of reclamation, he shall be deemed to have consented to the same; and, in the case of Bhuinhars and Mundari Khunt-kattidars, it is proposed by clause 64 (2) to declare a presumption that they have a right to convert waste and jungle lands into korkar without the consent of the landlord. Clause 65 will provent landlords from allowing raiyats to expend years of labour in reclaiming lands and then claiming khas possession of the same, on the ground that no permission to reclaim was given. Clause 67 prohibits a tenant, who wishes to make korkar, from trespassing on to lands in the occupation of another tenant; and clause 64 only authorizes a raiyat to make korkar lands without consent where by custom such consent is not necessary. In the case of Bhuinhars and Mundari Khunt-kattidars, the proposals are that the right to prepare korkar without consent shall be presumed to exist until the contrary is proved, because it has been found by experience that, in the case of these tenancies, a custom of preparing korkar without consent is recognized, and, in fact, the origin of many of these reclaiming leases was this, that the tenant was to reclaim any land he wished, out of a specified area, and that right of reclaiming any waste land in the village these Khunt-kattidars and Bhuinhars still claim, and not unjustly. Korkar lands are ordinarily assessed with rent at rates lower than ordinary raiyati lands, and they are often held rent-free during preparation, or for a number of years; and these facts have been recognized in clause 69 of the Bill. The question of korkar is one of very great importance, and this privilege of reclaiming lands without the consent of the landlord is one that is not uncommon, and is very much cherished by all the aboriginal races of the Division; and clauses 64 to 69 of the Bill have been framed to make clear what the rights of landlords and tenants in the matter are.

Clause 68 provides that a raiyat shall have occupancy-rights in korkar whether he has cultivated it for 12 years or not, and merely reproduces paragraph 4 of section 6 of Bengal Act I of 1879. In this connection it may be mentioned that section 20 of Bengal Act I of 1879 has not been reproduced in the Bill. That section places korkar raiyats in a worse position than occupancy-raiyats, and it should therefore be repealed.

Clause 70 is new. It is based on section 89 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and protects all tenants from irregular ejectment.

Clause 71 is new. It authorizes the Deputy Commissioner, after summary inquiry, to reinstate in possession a tenant who has been illegally dispossessed by his landlord.

Clause 73 is new. It deals with abandonment, and will be equally beneficial to landlords and to tenants. Many cases now arise in Court in which landlords allege that holdings were abandoned, and raiyats deny this. By the proposed clause, which is based on section 87 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, raiyats will be protected to some extent against false allegations of abandonment, and landlords will be in a position to prove that their action is bonâ fide and that they have only entered on holdings really abandoned. The exact wording of the Act of 1885 has not been followed, changes being made in view of local conditions. It will be noticed that under this clause an occupancy-raiyat is allowed to apply within six years to be re-instated in possession of a holding alleged to be abondoned; whereas the period prescribed in section 87 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, is two years. The period of six years has been fixed in order to bring clause 73 into agreement with clause 233.

Clause 74 is new. It is based on section 47 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. In many instances tenants are known to execute kabuliyats which purport to admit them to occupation of land, when, in fact, their possession has been long antecedent to the execution of the leases; and it is to meet cases of this kind that the clause has been inserted in the Bill.

Clause 75.—Under the existing law, when a tenant does not attend a measurement of his lands after he has been directed to be present, any record prepared in his absence must be accepted as correct. This is a penal clause of great severity, and has been modified in sub-clause (4) of clause 75 of the Bill, in so far, that, although there will be a presumption as to the correctness of such record, the tenant is not debarred from proving it to be incorrect. Sub-clause (4) is based on section 91 (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Clause 76 lays down in clear language that the Bill shall not affect any custom, usage or customary right not inconsistent with, or not expressly or by necessary implication modified or abolished by, its provisions. The clause is based on section 183 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and there are annexed to it two Illustrations (Nos. I and III) which are not appended to that section. Illustration III is inserted because the Bill contains no other express provision as to improvements made by raiyats.

Clause 77 is new. It embodies the first part of section 181 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. It is introduced into the Bill on the suggestion of the Settlement Department, and is as necessary in Chota Nagpur as is section 181 of the Bengal Tenancy Act in the rest of Bengal.

Clause 78 is new. It is designed to prevent tenants from contracting themselves out of their rights in certain cases, and overrides section 7 of Bengal Act I of 1879, which permits a raiyat to contract himself out of the acquisition of occupancy-rights. The clause follows section 178 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with modifications.

Clause 80.—Sub-clauses (n) and (o) are new. The right to take wood, fruit and other jungle produce from village jungles, and to graze cattle in waste, fallow and jungle lands, is a constant source of disputes between landlords and tenants, and the tendency is to deprive raiyats of their customary rights in this matter. In order to afford material for a decision of future disputes, and to secure landlords and tenants in the enjoyment of their respective rights, it is desirable that, when a record-of-rights is prepared under Chapter XII, Settlement-officers should be empowered to make entries in the record of the privileges of landlords and tenants in this matter, and with this object sub-clause (n) has been inserted in clause 80. Similarly, as disputes frequently arise as to the right of raiyats to prepare korkar, Settlement-officers are empowered by sub-clause (o) to make entries in the record of the customary rights of residents in regard to this matter.

Clause 84 is new. It is based on sections 104 and 104D of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and authorizes Revenue-officers to settle fair rents under rules to be made by the Local Government. The principle of this clause was accepted without discussion at a recent Conference, at which representatives of landlords and tenants were present.

Clause 85 is new. It is taken from section 105A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and authorizes a Revenue-officer, acting under Chapter XII, to decide certain questions which must constantly arise in the assessment of fair rents.

Clause 86 is new. It is based on sections 106 and 109A (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and authorizes Revenue-officers to try suits for the decision of disputes, subject to an appeal to an officer to be appointed by rule made by the Local Government.

The provision in section 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, that the plaint in suit before a Revenue-officer should be presented in stamped paper, has been omitted, because stamps are regulated by Imperial legislation.

Clause 87 is new. It is based on sections 107 (2) and 109D of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and provides for the entry, in the record-of-rights, of rents settled and decisions made under Chapter XII of the Bill.

Clause 88 is new. It embodies section 108 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, authorising a Revenue-officer, specially empowered by the Local Government, to revise orders or decisions of Revenue-officers under Chapter XII.

Clause 89.—The reference to section 86, sub-section (2), in the proviso to this clause, is new.

Clause 90 is designed to prevent landlords from securing, during the pendency of settlement proceedings, decrees in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner [as defined in clause 3 (viii) of the Bill] or any Civil Court, in regard to certain matters which can only be decided satisfactorily by Settlement-officers, after careful local inquiry in the village. It is believed that grave injustice is done to aboriginal raiyats in this matter; and, when once settlement proceedings are in progress, it is advisable, for a satisfactory treatment of the matters referred to, that proceedings in Civil and Revenue Courts, situate often at a distance from the subject of dispute, should be stayed. The clause reproduces section 28A of Bengal Act I of 1879, also section 111 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, which was extended to Chota Nagpur by Notification No. 1379, dated the 5th March, 1908; but the following amendments have been made:—

(a) the bar to the entertainment of suits or applications in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner or in any Civil Court is declared to extend, in all cases, up to the expiration of a period of three months after the final publication of the record-of-rights;

(b) the clause is extended also to suits and applications in which there is in issue the existence or non-existence of customary rights to waste-land or jungle-land;

(c) a proviso has been inserted in sub-clause (1), to protect the landlord against loss during the period for which he is prevented from proceeding; and section 111B (4) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, has been embodied in sub-clause (2), to stay limitation during that period. These provisions are proposed in accordance with a resolution of a Conference held at Ranchi in August, 1907, at which representatives of all interested were present.

The Settlement authorities attach very great importance to clause 90.

Clause 91 reproduces so much of section 111A of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as was extended to Chota Nagpur by Notification No. 1379, dated the 5th March, 1908, except the proviso. The proviso (which gives a right of suit under Chapter VI of the Specific Relief Act, 1877), is omitted because Revenue-officers are in a better position to arrive at the facts, by means of local inquiries, than are Civil Courts, before which aboriginal races find themselves placed in a position of great disadvantage.

Clause 92 is new. It embodies sub-sections (1) and (4) of section 111B of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Clause 93 reproduces section 28B of Bengal Act I of 1879, with the following amendments:—

(1) "occupancy holding" has been substituted for "tenure or holding;"

(2) the clause is declared to be subject to the provisions of clauses 86, 88 and 89, instead of overriding, as section 28B of Bengal Act I of 1879 does, other sections of that Act;

(3) under Bengal Act I of 1879, enhancement and reduction are barred for a period of seven years: clause 93 of the Bill alters the period to fifteen years in the case of future records, and retains the period of seven years in the case of past records;

(4) as the law stands at present, Settlement-officers have no power to assess rents on any lands, and in many villages lands have been entered in the record-of-rights as assessable with rents, but no rent has actually been recorded as payable for the same: by the proviso to clause 93(1) Settlement-officers are expressly authorized to assess rents upon such lands in areas where a record-of-rights has already been prepared.

Clause 94.—The words "extracts from," in sub-clause (2), are new.

Clause 95 is new, and is designed with the same object as clause 90. Clause 90 temporarily prohibits the institution of certain suits in Civil and Revenue Courts where the subject-matter of such a suit is situate in an area gazetted for settlement. Clause 95 deals with suits in regard to similar matters instituted before the notification of settlement has been issued. The suits referred to are suits in regard to customary rights in waste-land or jungle land, to the amount of rent payable in respect of any tenancy in such land, or to the question whether land is included in a tenancy or is the khas land of the landlord; and it is provided that no decision of any Court in relation to these matters, affecting the rights of a tenant in an area gazetted for settlement, and decided after the issue of a notification of settlement, shall have final effect. The reasons for this proposed change are that it has been found by experience that Civil and Revenue Courts, sitting at head-quarters of districts and sub-divisions, have not the necessary materials before them for the satisfactory decision of such disputes, whereas Settlement-officers, making careful local inquiry into such matters, are in a better position to make full inquiries and do justice to the parties. They are at present hampered in their decisions by the production before them of decrees of Courts operating as res judicata, and it is to avoid this that clause 95 is proposed. Decrees of Courts passed after an area is gazetted for settlement, relating to such matters in the said area, will in future be admissible in evidence before Settlement-officers and other tribunals after a record is finally published, but will not be conclusive proof of what is stated therein.

Clause 97 is new. It embodies the first part of section 110 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Clause 98 is based on section 104G, sub-sections (2), of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, which was extended to Chota Nagpur by Notification No 1379, dated the 5th March, 1908; but materially alters that sub-section. It empowers the Local Government to direct a revision of a record-of-rights at any time, but not so as to affect any rent entered in the record. It also empowers the Local Government to direct the revision of a record-of-rights, in so far as it relates to rents, and a fresh settlement of rents, at any time after the expiration of a period of fifteen years, if the record is made after the commencement of the new law, or seven years if it was made before such commencement; and also authorises a repetition of such operations at later intervals of fifteen years.

The proviso to section 104G (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, which is already in force in Chota Nagpur, is not embodied in clause 98, because the scope of that clause is very different from that of section 104G (2).

Sub-clause (3) of clause 98 is new. It provides generally for the application of all the foregoing clauses of Chapter XII, where a revision or settlement is directed under sub-clause (1) or sub-clause (2).

Clause 99 is new. Its object is to validate certain records which have already been made.

Clause 100.—Section 10 (1) of Bengal Act IV of 1897 bars the imposition of prædial conditions on tenants of areas for which commutation has been made under that Act. Clause 100 of the Bill goes further, and bars the creation of tenancies with prædial conditions attached (except rent-free tenancies with the sole condition of rendering personal service), and the imposition of any new prædial condition on any existing tenancy. This amendment is considered most salutary. Many of these prædial conditions approach very nearly to abwabs, which are, in three out of the five districts in the Division, already prohibited by the Bengal Decennial Settlement Regulation, 1793 (VIII of 1793), section 54, and the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Regulation, 1812 (V of 1812), section 3. From the levy of these rakumats and abwabs raiyats in Chota Nagpur suffer very greatly, and it is eminently necessary to prohibit in no uncertain language the levy of any new prædial conditions. Where they exist already, they are, when legally recoverable, being commuted, and the benefit of all commutation proceedings would be nullified if the levy of new rakumats were not prohibited.

Sub-clause (2) of clause 100 and clause 62 deal with breaches of sub-clause (1) of the former clause.

Clause 101 is new. It is designed to protect a raiyat from being subjected to any prædial conditions in excess of those sanctioned by the general usage of the village, in cases in which the original conditions of the tenancy cannot be ascertained.

The proviso to this clause declares that, when any such conditions have been observed for a period of five years, a Revenue-officer acting under Chapter XIII may presume that the same are observable in accordance with one or other of the two conditions of ancient usage or contract. This proviso has been added at the suggestion of the Settlement Department, in view of the difficulty in many cases of ascertaining the ancient custom of a village, or the exact terms of the original contract of a tenancy.

Clause 102 is new. It declares that, in calculating the value of prædial conditions, their average value for the last 10 years, or for any shorter period for which evidence may be available, shall be taken as the basis of calculation. Clause 102 may be compared with section 40 (4) (b) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, relating to the commutation of rent payable in kind.

Clause 103 is new. In some cases it is found that the value of prædial conditions levied, together with the rent, exceeds a fair rent, and to provide for such cases this clause enacts that in any such case a Court shall decree in all only an amount which does not exceed a fair rent. The value of these prædial conditions has increased very largely of late years, and prædial conditions which at one time cost a raiyat little or nothing are now in many cases very burdensome and inequitable. Contributions of wood, bamboos, thatching-grass and other jungle produce may be instanced. When jungle abounded in all villages, such articles could be provided free of cost and at the expense of a day's labour; but now that in many villages no jungle exists, these articles have to be purchased at considerable expense, or their money value tendered to landlords.

Clause 104 follows almost exactly section 4 of Bengal Act IV of 1897, the following alterations being made in sub-clause (3):—

(a) the word "only" has been inserted;

(b) the words "with established custom or usage or with any contract made when the tenancy commenced" have been substituted for "with ancient custom;" and

(c) the Revenue-officer has been directed to follow the procedure prescribed in the new clause 102.

With reference to the second of these alterations, it may be explained that the Settlement Department were of opinion that sections 4 and 9 of Bengal Act IV of 1897 were inconsistent; and, to remedy this ambiguity, it has been distinctly stated in clauses 104 and 110 that the prædial conditions to be considered in commutation proceedings are those payable in accordance with custom or usage, or in accordance with any contract made at the time of the creation of the tenancy. It is obvious that, when payments have been made for a number of years, a presumption will arise, and be given effect to, that the payment is in accordance with one or other of these conditions.

Clause 108.—Power is given to the Local Government to appoint an officer to hear first appeals, in place of the Deputy Commissioner.

Clause 110.—The insertion of references to "established custom or usage" and "contract made when the tenancy commenced," in sub-clauses (1) and (4) of this clause, is explained in the note, supra on clause 104.

Further amendments made in this clause are—

(a) the substitution of "each tenant" for "the general body of tenants," in sub-clause (1); and

(b) the omission from sub-clause (8) of the provision that plaints should be presented on stamped paper—stamps being regulated by Imperial legislation.

Clause 111 is new. It follows clause 87 of the Bill, and provides for the correction of the record-of-rights in commutation proceedings where a correction is made in the same by a suit under clause 110(8).

Clause 112 is new. Under the existing law, in certain cases, when Settlement-officers have proceeded to take measures for the commutation of prædial conditions, objections have been taken to the proceedings on the ground that the payments are payments of rent in kind and not prædial conditions. To meet this difficulty, Revenue-officers acting under this Chapter, and officers acting under clause 35, are given summary powers of deciding whether a payment is of the nature of a prædial condition or not.

Clause 117.—The whole of this clause, except the matter printed in Roman type in sub-clause (i), is new. The clause defines the expression "landlords' privileged lands."

Clause 118 is new. It is based on section 117 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and empowers the Local Government to direct a survey and record of landlords' privileged lands.

Clause 119 is new. It is based on section 118 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, and authorises a Revenue-officer, on the application of landlord or tenant, to ascertain and record whether land is or is not landlords' privileged land. The clause will have no application where a record has been or is being made under clause 118.

Clause 120 is new. It declares that Revenue-officers acting under clause 118 or clause 119 shall proceed in the manner prescribed by rules made by the Local Government under clause 256, and, following section 120(2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, directs that they shall presume that land is not a landlords' privileged land until the contrary is proved.

Clause 121 is new. It declares that, where any land in a village has been registered as manjhihas or bethkheta under the Chota Nagpur Tenures Act, 1869, no other lands in that village shall be recorded as being landlords' privileged lands. The reason for this declaration is that it is to be inferred that any privileged lands that exist in such villages were recorded at the time of the Bhuinhari Settlement.

Clause 122 is new. It provides for an appeal in all cases against decisions or orders of Revenue-officers in matters relating to landlords' privileged lands.

Clause 123 is new. It authorises the Local Government to cause to be prepared a record of the rights and obligations of certain classes of tenants in any local area, which record is declared, by clause 127 of the Bill, to be final.

Raiyats having khunt-katti rights, and village headmen, are specifically mentioned in clause 123, because they are persons particularly needing and deserving protection. It has been found that the customary rights of these persons have been consistently disregarded in certain areas, and that great injustice has been the result. In parts of Singhbhum, village headmen, who are in reality in many cases both cultivating raiyats and hereditary tenure-holders with specific rights, have been evicted from their tenancies by powerful landlords without any regard to their customary rights and ancient privilages, and some means of protection for these unfortunate people is eminently necessary.

There are many other classes of aboriginal tenants whose rights are equally disregarded and who are as helpless as the classes referred to above, and it is eminently necessary to make some provision for safeguarding their interests in case of necessity. For this reason sub-clause (c) has been inserted. In the Sonthal Parganas (a district inhabited by aboriginals of the same or similar races as those of Chota Nagpur), a record-of-rights prepared by the Settlement Department is always conclusive evidence of the facts recited therein, and the effect of this has been to ensure protection to landlord and tenant alike in the enjoyment of their just rights.

Clause 124 is new. It directs that, when any final record is published under Chapter XV, notice shall be given to all persons known to be interested in the lands, the record of which is being prepared, in such manner as the Local Government may prescribe by rule. The object of this provision is to ensure that all such persons may have every opportunity of making, in due time, any objections to entries or omissions in the record.

Clause 125 is new. It provides for the trial of regular suits by Revenue-officers after the publication of the record, and follows section 160 of Bengal Act I of 1879, relating to the preparation of records-of-rights in the case of Mundari khunt-kattidars.

Clause 126 is new. It directs the correction of records in accordance with decisions arrived at under clause 125.

Clause 127 is new. It declares that records, when finally published or amended under clause 126, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated. The clause is based on section 164 of Bengal Act I of 1879.

Clause 128 is new. In many cases cultivating raiyats and tenure-holders have been misdescribed in deeds executed by themselves and others, and it is therefore proposed in this clause that, in all investigations under this Chapter, Revenue-officers shall inquire into the real origin and nature of the tenancy and the real status of the tenant, notwithstanding any misdescription in any document.

Clause 129 brings together, and harmonises, certain of the sections of Bengal Act I of 1879 which apply provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure to proceedings in matters cognizable by the Deputy Commissioner.

Bengal Act I of 1879 was intended to supply a Code, complete in itself, of procedure in such proceedings, but has in practice been found to be deficient in certain details of procedure. To remedy this defect it is proposed, in clause 257, to empower the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Government of India, to declare, by rule, that any of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure which do not already apply to such proceedings shall apply to all or any of them, with or without modification; and, in view to simplification, a power of repeal is proposed in sub-clause (2) of clause 257.

Clause 130.—A reference to applications has been inserted.

Clause 131.—A reference to applications has been inserted. A new clause, (d) has been inserted, with reference to the provision in clause 3 (viii) that powers of the Deputy Commissioner may be transferred to a Revenue-officer.

Clause 132.—A reference to Revenue-officers has been inserted, with reference to clause 3 (viii).

Clause 133 has been given general application, instead of being confined, like section 147 of Bengal Act I of 1879, to suits for arrears of rent.

Clause 134 reproduces section 37 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with the following amendments:—

(i) applications have been mentioned, wherever necessary;
(ii) sub-clauses (1) and (2) have been confined to tenancies of agricultural land;
(iii) sub-clause (3) has been confined to suits under the new Act, and to tenancies of agricultural land, but has been extended to all tenancies of such land;
(iv) sub-clauses (5), (6) and (8) are new.

The most important amendments are the insertion of sub-clauses (5) and (6), which declare that suits or applications to recover possession of agricultural land, brought by landlords against cultivators or village-headmen, shall be triable only by the Deputy Commissioner [as defined in clause 3 (viii)].

It is hoped that this change will result in the more effectual administration of justice. It is believed that Civil Courts are not in a position to deal satisfactorily with cases of the kinds specified in sub-clauses (5) and (6), and that they have not the opportunity of ascertaining, by local inquiry on the spot, the actual facts of the cases before them. It is to be noted that section 82 of Bengal Act I of 1879 (clause 172 of the Bill) specially provides for local inquiries in all proceedings under the Act, and it is intended to utilise this section as much as possible.

In sub-clause (8), it is proposed that all suits and applications under the Bill which are not mentioned in clauses (1) to (7) should be tried and heard by the Deputy Commissioner [as defined in clause 3 (viii)], and not by any other Court. This provision will advance to some further extent the policy of confining questions between landlord and tenant, so far as may be, to the Revenue Courts.

The words "except as otherwise provided in this Act," in clause 134, will prevent conflict with other clauses of the Bill which give jurisdiction to a specially appointed Revenue-officer or a Civil Court.

Clause 136 reproduces section 39 of Bengal Act I of 1879, but is extended, for the convenience of landlords, to all suits and applications. Consequently, applications for enhancements, measurement, commutations, deposits and other matters may be made on behalf of or against any number of tenants collectively. The convenience of this to landlords and tenants alike is clear, and much unnecessary writing and expenditure will be saved. There are two safe-guards against an improper use of the clause, in that the Local Government can interfere when such joint suits or applications are found to be inequitable or inexpedient, and the trying Court has also power to direct separate trials in any cases in which this may seem desirable.

Clause 138.—A reference to applications has been inserted.

Clause 140.—Sub-clause (2) reproduces clause (b1) of section 148 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, which was extended to Chota Nagpur by Notification No. 1379, dated the 5th March, 1908. The sub-clause is, however, extended to all suits and applications before the Deputy Commissioner relating to the rent of land or to any right or easement arising out of land, instead of being confined, as is section 148 (b1) of the Act of 1885, to suits for rent; and item (iii) (copy of entries in the record-of-rights) is new.

The three concluding clauses of section 47 of Bengal Act I of 1879 are sufficiently covered by sub-clause (c) of clause 139 and sub-clause (2) of clause 140.

Sub-clauses (2) and (3) provide for making the fullest use of the record-of-rights in all suits and applications before the Deputy Commissioner relating to land.

Clause 141 is new. It embodies clause (ff) of section 148 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, with some slight modifications.

Clause 166 provides for the record of statements of parties and witnesses in English. All Munsifs in the rest of Bengal are now required to record evidence in English in Civil cases, and there is no reason why Deputy Collectors in Chota Nagpur should not be similarly required to record statements in proceedings under the Act in English.

Clause 176.—Following the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, section 68, the Deputy Commissioner is prohibited by clause 176 of the Bill from awarding both interest and damages in rent suits.

Before leaving this part of the Bill it may be mentioned that section 86 of Bengal Act I of 1879 has not been reproduced. The section empowers the Deputy Commissioner to fix a term for which a lease is to be granted to an occupancy-raiyat, when the parties do not agree. When the section was enacted the rights of occupancy-raiyats had not been determined, but it is now out of date, since the rights of an occupancy-raiyat are not terminable.

Clause 206.—There is room for doubt under Bengal Act I of 1879, in the case of sales of tenures or holdings in execution of decrees under that Act, whether an appeal lies, according to sections 13 and 14 of the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865 (Ben. Act VIII of 1865), to the Commissioner, or under section 135 of Bengal Act I of 1879. The latter section indicates that appeals in such cases should lie thereunder, and this has been made clear in clause 206(1) of the Bill, by the insertion of the words "except sections 13 and 14."

Clause 207.—Sub-clause (2) is new. Under the existing law (see the last paragraph of section 123 of Bengal Act I of 1879) it is open to doubt whether other property of a judgment-debtor in a rent-suit can be sold before the defaulting tenure or holding is sold and in many cases the defaulting tenure cannot be sold, or it may be expedient not to sell it (see the first proviso in clause 206). The case of a decree for the rent due under a temporary lease which has expired may be cited as an example.

Clause 210.—The proviso to sub-clause (1) is new. It follows the proviso to section 310A of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), and is inserted because section 311 of that Code is embodied in clause 211 of the Bill.

Clause 211 is new. It introduces a new principle into the Bill, and is of great importance. It is known that in many cases, in execution of decrees for rent, lands which are not the property of the judgment-debtor are sold, and the greatest injustice results from such sales. There is in the existing law no provision for the setting aside of a sale on the ground of material irregularity, resulting in substantial injury, or on the ground of fraud, but the necessity for some such provision exists. Persons whose property is sold under the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, are allowed to file applications under section 311 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to get the sale set aside, and there is every reason for granting to debtors in rent suits in Chota Nagpur the same privilege. Hence clause 211, which is modelled on section 311 of the Code of Civil Procedure, has been introduced into the Bill.

Clause 212 is new. It enunciates a principle that is, it is believed, accepted in many Courts already, and follows the rulings reported in W. R. Sp. Number, page 147, and v. W. R., Act X Rulings, page 22. At the same time, attempts are made from time to time to nullify the effect of sales in execution of rent decrees, to the great detriment of bonâ fide purchasers; and as any want of security in the title of a purchaser in a rent sale affects the interest of judgment-creditors and debtors alike prejudicially in the long run, the principles enunciated in the rulings referred to have been specifically set forth in clause 212.

Clause 227 is new. Considerable difficulty is experienced in proceedings under Bengal Act I of 1879, owing to the fact that the Act is supposed to be, but is not in fact, a Code complete in itself, in regard to limitation, particularly, this difficulty arises. Provision has now been made therefore for the application of the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, where they are not inconsistent with the Bill itself, to all proceedings under this Bill.

Clause 228.—The first paragraph reproduces section 12 of Bengal Act I of 1879, but is extended to applications.

The proviso is new. It declares that for particular forms of application there shall be no period of limitation. The applications referred to are such that necessity for them may arise at any period while the applicant has an interest in the land which is the subject of the application. The applications referred to are noted below:—

(1) application for enhancement of rent (clause 26);
(2) applications for increase of rent on account of increased area (clause 30),
(3) applications for reduction of rent (clause 33);
(4) applications for commutation of rents payable in kind (clause 35);
(5) applications for consent of the Deputy Commissioner to transfer land in certain circumstances (clauses 50 and 51);
(6) applications for measurement of lands (clause 75);
(7) applications for settlement of fair rents (clause 84);
(8) applications for assessing rent on lands which are assessable with rent, but on which no rent is assessed (clause 93, proviso);
(9) applications for commutation of prædial conditions (clause 104);
(10) applications for record of landlords' privileged lands (clause 119); and
(11) applications for consent of the Deputy Commissioner to transfer of land by Mundari khunt-kattidars (clause 237).

Clause 230 reproduces section 44 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with the substitution of "three years from the end of the agricultural year in which the arrear became due" for "three years from the last day of the Bengal or Sambat year, or from the last day of the month of Jeth of the Fasli or Wilayati year, in which the arrear claimed shall have become due." This change follows that made in clause (b) of Article 2 of Schedule III to the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, by Bengal Act I of 1907, section 61 (2) (b).

Clause 231.—Section 44A of Bengal Act I of 1879 prohibits successive suits for rent, and was enacted in order to prevent a landlord from harassing tenants by repeated suits. The section was not intended to apply to cases in which a suit is withdrawn with leave to sue again, in which cases a defendant is always paid the costs of the first case, to compensate him for the trouble he has been put to in attending Court; nor was it intended to apply to cases dismissed for default, in which cases leave to sue again is granted under the Act as it stands. This has been made clear by sub-clause (2), which has been added to clause 231. If some such sub-clause were not added, part of a perfectly just claim might become barred by time in the six months during which a fresh suit is prohibited.

Clauses 233 and 234 are new. They allow a period of six years during which an occupancy-raiyat or a village headman may sue for recovery of possession of lands from which they have been illegally ousted. A landlord is, by Article 139 of Schedule II to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877 (XV of 1877), allowed 12 years within which he may sue a tenant alleged to be improperly in the possession of land, and there appears to be no reason why a tenant should not be allowed at least half that period to sue the landlord if he is unlawfully ousted.

Clause 236.—The amendment made in clause 47 (1) (a) has been repeated in clause 236 (3); and the provision in clause 47 (3) barring registration has been repeated in clause 236 (6).

Clause 237 is new. It gives to Mundari khunt-kattidars the same privileges in regard to the transfer of lands comprised in their tenancies, for works of public utility, as it is proposed by clause 50 to give to occupancy-raiyats. The same reasons apply in both cases.

Clause 244 is new. Under the existing law, the realization of any dues from a Mundari khunt-kattidar is a matter of some difficulty; and, as he has no security to offer for loans in time of scarcity, it is found difficult and often impossible to grant him that assistance which other cultivators obtain from the Government. To remedy this, it is proposed in clause 244 to allow the Deputy Commissioner to attach the tenancy of a Mundari khunt-kattidar in certain cases and make such arrangements as he considers suitable for liquidating the debt when decrees or certificates for arrears of rent, cesses or moneys due to the Government are outstanding against the debtor. It is to be noted that the Deputy Commissioner is not bound to take action under this clause, but is allowed the option of doing so, or refusing to do so, as may appear expedient.

Clause 246 reproduces section 160 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with the exception of the provision that plaints should be presented on stamped paper, stamps being regulated by Imperial legislation.

Clause 251 is new. It will secure finality for certain orders and decrees made by Deputy Commissioners and Revenue-officers in proceedings under the Act; the principle being that the action of a Deputy Commissioner or Revenue-officer acting in a quasi-judicial character shall not be liable to be set aside by any other Court, provided that his orders or decrees are passed with proper jurisdiction, and that there is no fraud. The words "save as expressly provided in this Act" refer to the provisions for appeal which are contained in Chapter XVI and other parts of the Bill.

This clause is similar in principle to clause 91 of the Bill.

The orders and decrees that it is proposed to make final are the following:—

Clause 27.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner on applications for enhancement of rent.

" 31.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner on applications for increase of rent.

" 34.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner on applications for reduction of rent.

" 35.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner or a Revenue-officer on applications for commutation of rents payable in kind.

" 42.—Decrees for ejectment of non-occupancy raiyats on the ground of refusal to pay a fair and equitable rent.

" 50.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner consenting or refusing to consent to the transfer of lands in certain cases.

" 55.—Orders passed by the Deputy Commissioner on complaints of non-delivery of rent receipts.

" 62.—Orders passed by the Deputy Commissioner or other officer in cases in which landlords are accused of levying unlawful dues from, or enforcing the observance of unlawful prædial conditions by, tenants.

" 63.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner punishing landlords for extorting payment of rent or interest by duress.

" 66.—Orders by the Deputy Commissioner on applications for the ejectment of cultivators preparing korkar.

" 73.—Orders passed by the Deputy Commissioner in cases of alleged abandonment.

" 75.—Orders passed by the Deputy Commissioner allowing or disallowing a measurement or enjoining the attendance of tenants during the measurement of lands.

" 86.—Orders or decrees passed by a Revenue-officer in suits under Chapter XII.

" 90 (proviso).—Orders passed by the Deputy Commissioner prohibiting the continuance of waste or damage in respect of waste-land or jungle-land.

Clause 93.—Orders passed by a Revenue-officer, assessing rents on lands assessable with rents, but not assessed.

Chapter XIII.—Orders and decrees in proceedings for the commutation of prædial conditions.

Chapter XIV.—Orders in proceedings for the record of landlords' privileged lands.

Chapter XV.—Orders and decrees in proceedings for the record of the rights and obligations of raiyats having khunt-katti rights, village headmen and other classes of tenants in selected areas.

Chapter XVI.—Orders and decrees in matters cognizable by the Deputy Commissioner.

Chapter XVIII.—Orders and decrees in proceedings relating to Mundari khunt-kattidars.

Clause 252 reproduces section 149 of Bengal Act I of 1879, with a slight amendment in sub-clause (d), and with an addition authorising the Local Government to make rules as to service.

Clause 253.—An amendment has been made with the object of authorising Deputy Commissioners to direct the service of their processes by registered post.

Clause 254 is new.

Clause 255 is new. The Bill contains certain clauses prohibiting the registration of certain documents, viz., clauses 47 (3) and 236 (6). In order that effect may be given to those clauses it is necessary that the registering officer should have an opportunity of seeing what the entries in the record-of-rights are, regarding the lands which are dealt with in deeds tendered for registration. Clause 255 has been drafted to meet this point. Under it, it will be obligatory on all persons tendering for registration a document relating to land, in an area for which a record-of-rights has been published and to which the Local Government has specially applied the clause by notification, to tender at the same time a true copy of all entries in the record-of-rights relating to such land.

Clause 256.—Sub-clause (1), and the preliminary portion of sub-clause (2), are new. They follow the form now commonly adopted in giving power to make statutory rules.

In sub-clause (a), a reference to Deputy Commissioner has been inserted.

The words "or publication" in sub-clause (b), are new. The words "where no mode is prescribed by these or any other Act," which appear in section 189, sub-section (2), of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as in force in the Chota Nagpur Division, have been omitted from sub-clause (b), because it is proposed to declare in clause 252 that the provisions of that clause as to mode of service shall be subject to rules made under clause 256.

Sub-clauses (c), (d) and (e) are new.

Clauses (3), (4), (5) and (6) of section 13 of Bengal Act IV of 1897 are not reproduced, because they are covered by sub-clause (a) of clause 256 of the Bill.

Clause 257.—See note on clause 129, ante.

Clause 258 has been shortened with reference to section 24 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899 (Ben. Act I of 1899).

Clause 259.—Words as to the effect of rules and notifications have been added—in the form now commonly adopted.

Clauses 260 and 261 are new.

Schedule B.—See notes on clauses 1 and 2, ante.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN AND OTHER GARDENS IN CALCUTTA, AND THE LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING, FOR THE YEAR 1907-08.

No. 254T.—Medl., dated Darjeeling, the 26th May 1908.

From—C. E. A. W. OLDHAM, ESQ., I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department,

To—The Secy. to the Govt. of India, Department of Revenue and Agriculture.

I AM directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a copy of the Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1907-08.

2. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor have been conveyed to Captain A. T. Gage, I.M.S., and his subordinates for the good work done by them during the year.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN AND OTHER GARDENS IN CALCUTTA, AND THE LLOYD BOTANIC GARDEN, DARJEELING, FOR THE YEAR 1907-08.

Royal Botanic Garden.—In the Royal Botanic Garden the weather conditions, generally speaking, were normal throughout the year. The storms of the 24th and 25th June 1907, however, wrought a deplorable amount of destruction. Over one hundred trees were uprooted and the appearance of others hopelessly ruined by the tearing away of great branches, while, as a secondary effect, the necessary diversion of a considerable part of the labour force to the removal of the wreckage interfered for a considerable time with the ordinary work of the garden. The survey of the garden which was initiated last year is almost completed, and a basis for an accurate catalogue of the plants of the garden laid down. From the large map a small scale map is being prepared, which will serve both as an index map to the garden officials and will displace the present Garden Guide map, no longer accurate, when the next edition of the Guide is issued. The photographic survey of the garden has also been continued during the year, and there is now in existence quite a good collection of excellent negatives both of landscape views and of individual plants. Many of the photographs are of great scientific interest, and it is hoped that when a sufficient collection has been formed it will be possible to publish selections with descriptions from them. The area of the nursery available for work has been increased by deepening one half of the nursery pond and filling up the other half with the soil so obtained. The river bank has been strengthened near the Superintendent's quarters by the deposition of about 100 tons of stone ballast, but further work in this direction has been checked for the present by the impossibility of obtaining more ballast. The improvement of the south-west corner of the garden was taken in hand with good results both in the appearance of that part of the garden and in the comfort of the durwans and peons whose lines are situated there. For the better housing of those durwans and peons the Department of Public Works has, at the request of the Superintendent, prepared plans for new lines of more hygienic design, which, it is hoped, will replace the present unsatisfactory row of godowns. The same department has also prepared plans for new cloak rooms which will replace the existing hideous structures. Plans for the erection of a new office for the Curator of the Garden during the coming year have been sanctioned. Proposals for the introduction of a filtered water-supply into the garden have been under consideration during the year for submission to Government by the Department of Public Works. The dust nuisance occasioned by motor cars has been reduced by treating the dustiest roads with crude petroleum oil as suggested by the Curator of the Garden. It has been found to be fairly effective, and it is proposed, as far as financial considerations will allow, to extend and to continue the treatment. To make conditions more comfortable for visitors, about 30 additional garden chairs have been put out. Minor improvements have been the addition of ornamental iron gates to the Orchid House, the erection of glazed notification boards at each entrance to the garden, the substitution of less unsightly signboards for the garden roads and the abolition of various disfiguring and unnecessary notices. The Superintendent's office has been enlarged by the glazing in of the north verandah, while the extremely dilapidated floor of the adjoining godown and seed-house has been replaced with Indian patent stone. The system of office work has been drastically overhauled and the registering of general office work of seed, plant and herbarium accession and distribution, of garden stores and implements has been entirely remodelled upon similar scientific and simple lines to those on which the systematic classification of plants themselves is based.

2. Economic.—As hitherto, plants of economic interest have been cultivated in the garden on behalf of the Reporter on Economic Products to the Government of India and facilities have been afforded him for his investigations in connection therewith. The garden has continued to keep in touch with other Botanical Gardens and Agricultural Departments both within and outside of India with mutual benefit. The garden has established specially a close connection with the United States of America and has been the means of introducing into America, directly or indirectly, various species of economic importance, such as rice of various varieties, Bassia latifolia, Phragmites Karki, Bambusa arundinacea, Indian varieties of Soybean and Cowpea. Amongst the introductions into India during the year have been Manicoba rubber plants, a species of Manihot received from the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew; sugar-cane from Barbados on behalf of the Agricultural Department of Eastern Bengal and Assam; a fine collection of South Sea palms from the Commissioner of Agriculture, Honolulu, Hawaii; a collection of navel seedless oranges from the United States Department of Agriculture on behalf of Eastern Bengal and Assam Agricultural Department, &c., &c.

3. Herbarium.—During the year over 7,000 sheets were added to the Herbarium. The chief contributions were over a thousand specimens of Tibetan plants from Captain F. H. Stewart, I.M.S.; over 1,600 specimens from Mr. I. H. Burkill, M.A., Reporter on Economic Products to the Government of India from Baluchistan, Eastern Himalaya and Burma; over 300 specimens of North-West Frontier plants from Sir H. A. Deane, K.C.S.I., Chief Commissioner, North-West Frontier Province; about the same number of plants of Southern India from Mr. C. E. C. Fischer, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Malabar; over 500 Eastern Himalaya plants from the collectors attached to the Lloyd Botanical Garden, Darjeeling. In addition to Indian plants extra Indian plants are represented by collections from the Philippine Islands; from Siam, sent by Mr. W. F. Lloyd, Conservator of Forests there; from Russia, Austria, Switzerland, and Australia. Several orders and genera have been sent out on loan for study by Botanists in various parts of Europe. The number of specimens distributed amounts to nearly a thousand. During the year the usual quadrennial repairs of the building were carried out by the Department of Public Works.

4. Library.—About the usual number of accessions by purchase and exchange was registered.

5. Publications.—As regards the Annals of the Garden, Part 2 of Volume VI comprising "A Memoir of Burmese Algae" by Mr. W. and G. S. West has been in the Press throughout the year, but final printing orders have been passed some considerable time ago, so that its appearance should not be much longer delayed. Signor Beccari's "Monograph on the Genus Calamus," referred to in last year's report, is now practically completed and should also soon be published. Of the Records of the Botanical Survey of India, 2 parts have appeared, Nos. 3 and 4 of Volume III, the first being entitled "Sapindaceæ Novæ Indicæ et Malaicæ" by Professor Radlkofer of Munich; the second "A Revision of the Genus Cedrela" by M. Casimir de Candolle of Geneva. The Superintendent has contributed several botanical papers as usual to various periodicals.

6. Interchange of seeds and plants.—Over a thousand packets of seeds were received from all parts of the world and nearly 3,000 packets distributed. Over 40,000 plants were distributed and nearly 4,000 received, most of the plants and seeds distributed being of economic importance, such as bamboos, timber trees, fibre plants, and so forth. During the year the means of dealing with distribution of seeds have been improved by the acquisition of several special cabinets for storing and sorting of seeds.

7. Arboriculture.—During August and September practical instruction in the planting and care of trees was given by the Curator of the Garden to District Overseers and Road Sirkars, who were sent to the Botanical Garden from the various districts in Bengal. It is hoped, as time goes on, that this course will undergo development.

8. Lloyd Botanic Garden.—Attention has been given during the year to the garden paths, many of which have been taken up and remodelled. The large plant house was provided with a cement floor. A large number of plants have been supplied for planting the ground in and around the new Cantonment at Lebong, while Conifers and other forest trees, bamboos, and shrubs have been supplied to public places and vacant spots in and around Darjeeling.

9. Calcutta Gardens.—Towards the end of 1907 the various gardens in and about Calcutta comprising the Eden Gardens, Dalhousie Square, Curzon Gardens, Government House Gardens, at Barrackpore and Calcutta, and Hastings House were placed under the administration of the Superintendent of the Royal Botanic Garden and an Assistant Curator placed in executive charge. These Gardens have been too recently taken over to permit of any improvements being taken in hand in time to be mentioned in this year's report, and some time will probably have to be allowed before they get into thorough working order under the new conditions.

10. Financial.—The allotments for contingencies for the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, and of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling, have been expended in full, with the exception of Rs. 100 on account of service postage stamps for the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, and Rs. 74 on account of telegram charges for the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling. There was a saving on account of travelling allowance of the Royal Botanic Garden of Rs. 576 and of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Rs. 166-12. Owing to the appointment of Captain Gage as Superintendent in succession to Lieutenant-Colonel Prain, retired, and to the vacancy in the post of the Curator of the Herbarium for over seven months of the year, there was a saving of Rs. 5,903 under "Establishment" of the Royal Botanic Garden. On the other hand, there was an excess expenditure of Rs. 1,755 under "Establishment" of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling, owing to long leave granted to Mr. G. H. Cave, Curator of the Garden, and appointment of Mr. W. A. Kennedy, a senior officer, to officiate for him. The total expenditure for the gardens in Calcutta for contingencies and establishment since the date they have been put under the administrative charge of the Superintendent of this garden amounts to Rs. 9,477 as detailed below:—

	Rs.
Eden Garden	7,103
Dalhousie Square Garden	1,190
Curzon Garden	777
Hastings House Garden	407

The revenue from the Royal Botanic Garden was Rs. 570-10-6, paid into the Calcutta Treasury. The revenue from the Lloyd Botanic Garden was Rs. 20, paid into the Darjeeling Treasury. The revenues for the Calcutta Eden Garden of Rs. 162 and for the Dalhousie Square Garden of Rs. 34 were paid into the Calcutta Treasury.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1907-08.

[On an average of five years ending 1905-06 the area under wheat in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 4·8 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India.

The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to the total wheat acreage (a) in British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1905-06, averaged (a) 38·7 per cent. and (b) 2·1 per cent., respectively.]

Explanatory.—This is the third and final report of the wheat crop of Bengal. Wheat is one of the staple rabi food-crops of Bihar.

Character of the season.—Owing to want of moisture, sowings were short. The continued drought affected the crop which germinated, but the slight fall of rain in December, January and February improved prospects a little.

Area sown.—The normal area under wheat is now returned as 1,351,400 acres, but the area sown this year amounted to only 1,003,100 acres, a decline of 348,300 acres, or 26 per cent., from the normal. This is mainly accounted for by the short sowings in Gaya, Shahabad and Murshidabad where the area under wheat is 250,000 acres below the normal.

Character of the crop.—The Bihar crop, which is 88 per cent. of the total, is estimated at 69 per cent. of the normal. The other important wheat-growing districts are Murshidabad, Nadia and Hazaribagh where the return is 28, 31 and 22 per cent., respectively, of the normal. The percentage of outturn for the Province is 68 per cent. of the normal, an improvement of 5 per cent. on the second forecast.

Gross outturn.—According to these returns, the gross yield for the Province works out to 299,200 tons against 388,700 tons last year.

Food stocks and prices of food-grains.—The three harvests of the year, namely, bhadoi, aghani and rabi, were much below the average, their outturns being 72, 53 and 68 per cent. of the normal, respectively. The food stocks of the Province are low, and in some districts reported to be insufficient. The following table shows the prices of wheat in Calcutta and the average price in selected important wheat-growing districts for the years 1905—08:—

Exports of wheat during the 11 months from April 1907 to February 1908 amounted to 195,935 maunds against 175, 668 maunds for the corresponding period of the previous year, and the imports for the same periods aggregated to 4,398,005 maunds and 4,312,185 maunds, respectively. The exports and imports of 1906 were 3,135,923 maunds and 6,550,262 maunds, respectively.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—Rain fell in all districts, Patna, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh and Palamau excepted. The fall was moderate in the districts of Lower Bengal and in Purnea, Singhbhum and Cooch Behar, and in other districts it was very light. The recent rain has been of benefit in several districts in facilitating the ploughing of lands. Preparation of lands for bhadoi crops and sowing of jute and some bhadoi crops is going on. More rain is, however, still needed for sowings. Prospects of the sugarcane crop and of vegetables are fair. Stocks of food-grains are insufficient in Nadia, Murshidabad, Balasore and Palamau. The price of common rice is stationary in most districts; it has risen in Burdwan, Midnapore and Howrah and fallen in Gaya, Ranchi and Palamau. The fodder-supply is insufficient in Birbhum, Bankura, the Sonthal Parganas, Angul and Balasore, and water scarcity is reported from several districts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions as well as from the Sonthal Parganas, Balasore, Angul and Manbhum. The condition of cattle is bad in Balasore, and deaths are reported from that district due to want of sufficient water and fodder. Ordinary cattle-diseases prevail also in Patna, Champaran, Bhagalpur, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Palamau. Test-works have been opened in Bankura, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Cuttack, Balasore, Angul, Puri, Hazaribagh and Ranchi, and have been attended by 19,259 persons, of whom 8,174 were in Orissa. 26,742 persons were given gratuitous relief, of whom 20,254 were in Orissa.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, dark gloomy; t, thunder; <, lightning; K, thunderstorm; ⁄, strong wind; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; ȣ, duststorm.

ELEMENTARY MECHANICS.

THE following list of apparatus is prescribed as indicating the approximate requirements of a recognised High School seeking to teach Elementary Mechanics for the Matriculation Examination:—

Plumb-line and Level.
Simple Lever (including brass slotted weights).
Roman Steelyard.
Lecture apparatus for experiments on moments.
George's New Atwood's Machine.
Stop-watch.
Glazebrooke's apparatus (to demonstrate movement of a body).
Hick's Ballistic Balance.
Compound Wheel and Axle.
4 Single brass Pulleys.
2 ,, ,, ,,
2 Triple ,, ,,
Weston Differential Pulley Blocks (½ ton).
16 feet of chain at 6*d*. per foot.
Inclined Plane.
Parallelogram of Forces apparatus.
Wall Crane.
Becker's New Physical Balance.
Set of Gramme Weights (200 grams to 1 mgr.)
2 Composition-Ivory Balls.

NOTE.—The above list is not exhaustive, and much of it might be replaced by simpler forms that could probably be made far more cheaply by any clever mistry under proper supervision. In most cases, however, it will probably be found advantageous to buy such a set as indicated in the list specially for demonstration purposes, and subsequently to develop simplified duplicates, illustrating the same principles, which the boys should be given opportunity actually to experiment with on their own individual accounts or working in pairs.

Under section 3, clause (h), every school that intends to undertake instruction in Geography for the Matriculation Examination is required to possess the apparatus mentioned in the following list:—

1.—The total cost need not exceed Rs. 150—

1. A measuring tape.
2. A magnetic compass.
3. Squared paper and tracing paper.
4. Clay, dry sand, paper pulp or plasticine for modelling.
5. A globe, not less than 14 inches in diameter, with writing surface, and with lines of latitude and longitude, and outlines only of the land-masses, marked upon it.
6. A map of the school locality on a scale of 4″ or 6″ = 1 mile.
7. A map of the district in which the school is situated on the scale 1″ = 1
8. A map of the Division in which the school is situated on the scale 1″ = miles.
9. A map of the Province.
10. A map of India.

(N.B.—All these maps should be coloured to indicate the height of the land above sea-level.)

11. A relief map of India.
12. Maps of India showing the most important distributions, e.g., Temperature and Rainfall, Density of Population, Forest, Pasture and Agricultural land, Minerals, Industries, Railways and Canals, Political Divisions.
13. Physical maps of the continents and of the British Isles.

It is essential that the students should be provided with atlases, or with the necessary hand-maps. Maps for school work should not contain too much detail, or be crowded with names.

II.—The following additional equipment is recommended when it can be provided:—

1. A wet and dry bulb thermometer.
2. A barometer.
3. A rain gauge.
4. A large globe coloured to indicate land relief and ocean depths.
5. A relief globe.
6. Small hand globes for the use of pupils.
7. Hand maps for use in class.
8. A relief map of the Province.
9. A map of the World on Mollweide's equal area projection.
10. A geological map of India.
11. A small collection of typical rocks, in particular those of the Province and of India.
12. A small museum of typical products.
13. The Statistical Atlas of India.
14. A good standard atlas.
15. A Meteorological atlas.
16. Mill's International Geography.
17. A geographical Gazeteer.
18. Geographical wall pictures.

The total cost of this supplementary equipment need not exceed Rs. 400, and can be reduced if Schools will make their own collections of rocks and typical products.

III. (1) Valuable information regarding geographical equipment and all other matters connected with the teaching of geography is to be found in the Geographical Teacher, the organ of the Geographical Association, published three times a year, at one shilling a copy.

(2) Globes of all kinds are made by George Philip and Son, London, W., and A. K. Johnston, London, and Messrs. Ruddiman, Johnston, London.

Small hand globes of German make can be obtained through the Calcutta School Book Society for about a rupee each.

(3) The "Comparative" series of large wall maps of the continents published by George Philip and Son is good and up to date; so also are the Orographical wall maps published by Edward Stanford. Messrs. Ruddiman, Johnston publish a series of smaller wall maps which includes maps of India illustrating various distributions.

Messrs. Nelson's wall atlases are good. Mr. S. B. Chatterjee publishes District maps; also ordinary and relief maps of the Province.

Babu L. M. Basu, the drawing master of the Dacca Collegiate School, has published good relief maps of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of India.

The Vidal-Lablache French wall maps on strong card board, named on one side, and the same map without names on the reverse, published by Armand Colin, Paris, are good and cheap. They measure 46 inches by 39 inches and can be delivered in Calcutta for Rs. 4-14 each.

(4) The hand maps, coloured to indicate relief, published by the Diagram Company, West Barnes Lane, New Malden, Surrey, at one penny each, are the best of their kind.

The uncoloured half-penny maps, showing river systems and a few towns, published by the same Company, are excellent for class use.

The Autograph hand maps, with hill shading in brown, published by Edward Stanford, London, at one penny each, are very good, and are larger than the Diagram Company's hand maps. The 15 inches map of the World on Mollweide's equal area projection is especially to be commended.

(5) Wall pictures of considerable artistic merit are published by Messrs. Edward Arnold of Leeds, Messrs. Hachette of Paris, and Messrs. Holzel of Vienna. They cost, delivered in India, from two to three rupees each.

Map lantern slides, and view slides especially prepared for geography teaching, are sold by the Diagram Company for two or three shillings each.

(6) The best meteorological atlas published in Britain is Bartholomew's, and the most recent geographical gazetteer in English is that published by J. B. Lippincott of Philadelphia and London.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

19. In all applications and permits other than those relating to sale of water by volume, the names of one or more persons shall be entered as lambardar who will be responsible for discharging the duties mentioned below:—

I.—Obtaining signatures to applications and certifying to the correctness of the same.

III.—Giving timely information to the Canal Officer or subordinate of any insufficiency in the supply of water and promptly reporting when the irrigation of the leased area, on any channel, is complete.

IV.—Supervising the distribution of the water supplied through an outlet amongst the persons entitled thereto and reporting any misuse of the same.

V.—Being present when complaints are investigated by a Canal Officer, or subordinate, and giving information required in connection with the same.

VI.—Receiving parchas from the Canal Officer and distributing the same amongst the persons named therein.

VII.—Reporting before the 15th of October all cases in which crops have been injured by deficiency or irregularity of supply in the kharif season so that these cases may be investigated before water rates are demanded.

VIII.—Reporting to the Collector or to such officer as he may appoint, mutations in holdings in the case of leases for a term of years.

IX.—Assisting the Collector by pointing out the residences of the persons assessed and identifying them.

20. In the case of season leases the remuneration for performing the duties mentioned in the rule immediately preceding shall be two per cent. on the assessment (excluding fractions of a rupee) which shall be paid by the Canal Officer. The amount paid shall be calculated in rupees and annas only, pies being omitted.

21. In the case of leases for a term of years other than those entered into jointly with contractors the remuneration to be paid to the lambardar for performing the duties mentioned in rule 19 shall be three per cent. yearly on the assessment of the year (excluding fractions of a rupee) which shall be paid by the Canal Officer. The amount paid shall be calculated in rupees and annas only, pies being excluded.

22. The lambardar will be appointed by the Subdivisional Officer in consultation with the applicants for the lease and must be a substantial person having a beneficial interest in part of the land to be irrigated. There is no objection to different lambardars being appointed to represent sections of the applicants or two or more persons being jointly appointed as lambadar on behalf of the whole of the applicants In case the Subdivisional Canal Officer cannot agree with the applicants in the appointment of lambardar, he shall nominate a lambardar for approval by the Divisional Canal Officer.

In those cases where an application is made by a contractor and cultivators jointly for a lease for a term of years the lambardar shall be nominated by the contractor.

23. The Divisional Canal Officer may, for reasons which appear to him to be sufficient and which must be recorded, remove a lambardar from his appointment, and in that case a new lambardar shall be appointed in the manner prescribed in the rule immediately preceding.

24. The fees to be paid to lambardars will only be disbursed if the duties specified have been satisfactorily performed. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees payable for reasons to be recorded in writing. In calculating the fees payable, fractions of one anna will be excluded.

Intermediary agency.

25. Leases for a term of years will be entered into with associations of cultivators as specified in these rules ; and also on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor who shall collect and pay to Government all sums due under the agreement on account of water-rates. The joint agreement shall be in the form given in Appendix VII to these rules. The contractor must have a beneficial interest in some part of the land included in the application extending for the full term of the lease.

26. Contractors are authorised to collect water-rates from the cultivators who have signed the application and from their successors in interest in the land included in the block at the rates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

27 A contractor (or in case there be more than one, each contractor severally) shall use due diligence in the collection of the water-rates specified in the agreement from the cultivators who have applied for the water supply. In the case of his failure after due diligence to collect, he shall within thirty days of the rates becoming due submit to the Collector a list showing the names of the defaulters with the sums due from each, and the Collector shall thereupon proceed to realize the amount due from the said defaulters according to law.

28. A contractor (or in case there be more than one, each contractor severally) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the agreement except such sums as he may satisfy the Collector that he has been unable to collect after using due diligence and shall be entitled to a commission of 5 per cent. on all sums collected by himself.

29. In the case of a lease entered into under an application in the form given as Appendix I, a contractor may subsequently be appointed by the Collector with the written approval of the Divisional Canal Officer. Such contractor must for the whole term of the lease have a beneficial interest in some part of the land included in the application and must sign an application in the form given as Appendix VIII. The appointment shall not be made unless the lambardars and leading cultivators give their assent in writing thereto and the Collector is satisfied that the appointment of a contractor is acceptable to the signatories to the lease.

30. The contractor appointed under rules 25 and 29 may, but shall not necessarily be lambardar. The lambardar will in all cases be appointed by the Canal Officer under the provision of rule 22 and shall be remunerated at the rate specified in rule 21 subject to the conditions mentioned in rule 24.

31. No steps shall be taken to prepare a joint application by cultivators and a contractor until the written assent of the Collector to the proposed contractor has been received, nor shall the Collector take any steps towards the appointment of a contractor under rule 29 until the written assent of the Divisional Canal Officer has been received. The Collector may, before approving of a contractor under this rule, require him to give security for the due performance of the contract.

32. A contractor may resign his interest in the lease by giving notice to the Divisional Canal Officer three months at least before the 16th June next following, in which case his connection with the lease shall cease from that date and the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall proceed to appoint a lambardar under rule 22 and the Collector to realise water-rate due directly from the lessees.

The Divisional Canal Officer may, at the instance of the Collector, remove any contractor who fails to use due diligence in making collections. In such cases three months' notice at the least before the 16th June next following shall be given and the removal shall take effect from that date. The Collector may, under the conditions and procedure specified in rule 29, appoint a new contractor in place of a contractor who has resigned or who has been removed.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

33. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

34. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorized manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that the land deriving benefit is liable to assessment, he shall serve a notice on the persons concerned, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

35. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall if he is of opinion that the land should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 33 and return the record to the Subdivisional Canal Officer who shall then complete the assessment. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorized irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate. It is not an unauthorized use of water during the kharif season to receive or to lead water on to unleased lands which may have been supplied to lands under lease in excess of requirements.

36. Applications for leases may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorized irrigation has occurred, and these villages may be granted leases; in such cases the persons assessed under rule 33 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 33. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 33.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

37. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any area leased for a term of years is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

38. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

(I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also, if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.

(II) Cancel any lease for a term of years, if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.

(III) Cancel any lease the lands covered by which cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

39. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist there from except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose. Any person who after due warning breaks this rule may be proceeded against under section 93, clause (9) of the Bengal Irrigation Act, III of 1876.

40. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

I AM directed to forward, for your information and guidance, and for communication to the Subordinate Civil Courts of your district copies of the rules which have been framed by this Court regarding pleaders' clerks.

2. The attention of the Court has recently been drawn to the unsatisfactory condition of affairs which has resulted in certain instances from an excessive number of persons attending the local Courts under the pretext that they are pleaders' clerks. It has also been brought to the notice of the Court that the powers of District Judges in regard to the control of this nuisance are not as clearly defined as is desirable. The Court trust that the rules now issued will be sufficient to meet the evil.

3. I am to request that you will be so good as to state in your next Annual report the way in which the rules have worked during the period they have been in force in your district.

Rules regarding Pleaders' Clerks.

On or before the date on which these rules come into force, all pleaders practising in the Civil Courts shall file a statement of the names and addresses of the clerks employed by them, and shall report any changes as they occur. The certificates required by rule 5 shall be furnished in regard to the persons whose names are reported for registration under this rule.

3. No person whose name has not been duly registered shall be recognized as the clerk of a pleader; and no person who is not a party, or a pleader, or a clerk duly registered under these rules, shall be admitted to the offices of the Courts on any pretext.

4. No pleader shall employ more than two clerks at one and the same time, without the express permission of the District Judge.

5. A pleader, desiring to employ as a clerk, any person not in his employ at the date these rules come into force, shall state in his application that such person is a fit and proper person to be so employed, and that he will be employed bonâ fide, in his own service, for the purposes of his legal business.

6. These rules shall come into force on the 1st of July 1908.

RESOLUTION ON THE TRIENNIAL REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL FOR THE YEARS 1905, 1906, AND 1907.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—REGISTRATION.

Darjeeling, the 6th June 1908.

RESOLUTION—No. 786T.—G.

READ—

The Triennial Report on the Administration of the Registration Department for the years 1905, 1906 and 1907.

Read also—

The Triennial Report on the Administration of the Registration Department for the years 1902, 1903, and 1904, and the Resolution of Government recorded thereon.

The Report, which covers the period of three years ending 31st December 1907, has been submitted by Mr. Saiyid Muhammad Khan Bahadur, who relieved the late Inspector-General, Mr. T. K. Ghose, on the 27th January 1907.

2. During the triennium under review effect was given to the scheme for the complete reorganization of the Department which was sanctioned by the Secretary of State in his despatch No. 5, Rev., dated the 31st March 1905. By this reorganization the system of remuneration by commission has been abandoned and the Sub-Registrars have been placed in graded services on fixed salaries. A grade of officers on Rs. 50 per mensem has been created to provide for leave vacancies, while below these again is a reserve of Probationers on an allowance of Rs. 20 a month who are appointed as casualties occur. The former titles "Special Sub-Registrar" and "Rural Sub-Registrar" have been changed to "District Sub-Registrar" and "Sub-Registrar."

The reorganization of the Sub-Registrars has made it necessary to place the services of their establishments on a pensionable footing at reasonable rates of salary, and to make arrangements for the taking over by Government of the buildings used as Rural Registration offices. Sub-Registrars formerly made their own arrangements as to these buildings, and although considerable progress has been made, much remains to be done before suitable accommodation will be available for every office.

3. The progress in the operations of the Department noticed in the last triennial Resolution has been well maintained. The number of offices now stands at 280 as against 274 at the end of the preceding triennium. The total number of compulsory registrations affecting immoveable property increased by 40·8 per cent., while optional registrations fell by 90·1 per cent. This decrease is due to a change in classification owing to the passing of the Transfer of Property Amendment Act, under which the registration of deeds of mortgage below Rs. 100 in value and of non-agricultural leases for one year or less, which previously was optional, became compulsory. Other registrations, including such as affect moveable property, wills and authorities to adopt, show an increase of 9·3 per cent. The total number of registrations increased from 2,414,771 in the triennium ending December 1904 to 2,664,323 in the period under review, i.e. by 10·3 per cent.

The increase in registrations is almost general throughout the Province with the exception of Chota Nagpur. The statistics of the Registration Department are generally accepted as a test of the prosperity of the agricultural classes, transactions being more numerous in times of stress than in times of prosperity. Thus in Darbhanga, where 1906 and 1907 were years of scarcity and famine there was an increase of 53 per cent. in the number of registrations as compared with the previous triennium, while in Birbhum, where crops were fairly good and cultivators benefited by the prevailing high prices, there was a notable decrease in the number of sales, mortgages and term leases registered. At the same time the work of the Department must necessarily grow with the expansion of trade.

The marked decline in the number of deeds presented for registration in Chota Nagpur is attributed to the amendment of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act of 1879 by Act V of 1903, which limits the cultivator's powers of alienating his land. In Hazaribagh the decision of the High Court that the mukarari tenures granted by the zamindar of Ramgarh are merely life grants and the establishment of Co-operative Credit Societies are also reported to have contributed to the decline in the number of registrations.

4. There were no striking variations in the number of transactions regarding revenue-free properties, intermediate tenures, or raiyati holdings at fixed rates in 1907 as compared with 1904; but there were considerable fluctuations in the figures relating to the sale and purchase of occupancy holdings and of shares in entire revenue-paying estates. It is a notable fact that while the number of raiyat purchasers of shares in entire revenue-paying estates increased from 878 in 1904 to 1,408 in 1907, i.e., by 60·3 per cent., the number of money-lender purchasers decreased from 822 to 526, i.e., by 36 per cent. These figures would seem to show that the general body of raiyats are becoming better able to hold their own against the money-lenders. There was a rise in the prices paid for both classes of raiyati holdings pointing to a general increase in the value of landed property.

5. The total number of registrations under sections 12 and 18 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and the amount of landlords' fees realized have considerably increased. It is hoped that the recent amendments of these sections which compel Collectors to transmit the landlords' fees by money-order and the notices by registered post will find favour with both landlords and tenants.

Draft rules for the registration of documents under the revised Act have been prepared and are now under the consideration of Government.

6. The system of taking finger impressions for the identification of registrants is reported to have been effective in checking false personation. The Inspector-General reports that the Registrar of Cuttack has introduced the practice of taking the thumb impressions of the purchasers of stamps and of the stamp vendors below the stamp certificate. The question whether this system should be extended will be considered.

The inspection work done by the Inspector-General and the Inspectors as well as by District Registrars and Sub-Registrars appears to have been adequate.

The Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the valuable services rendered by Mr. T. K. Ghose, the late Inspector-General of Registration, during the first two years of the period under review, especially with regard to the reorganization of the department. The zeal with which the present Inspector General has entered on his new duties and has carried the reorganization to completion also calls for recognition.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Registration for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, together with a copy of the report, be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

General Summary.—During the week under report Lower Bengal and Bihar received light and moderate rain, but in Orissa and Chota Nagpur there was little rain. The showers that have lately fallen have been beneficial to standing crops in the Province, and have been of much use in the preparation of lands and the sowings of the bhadoi crops of the season. Sowings of jute, aus paddy and other kharif crops are in progress. More rain is, however, still needed in many districts. China, sugarcane and vegetable crops are doing well. Paddy is suffering from want of rain in Balasore. Stocks of food-grains are insufficient in Nadia, Murshidabad, Balasore and Palamau. The price of common rice is stationary in all districts except in Bankura, Khulna, Puri and Ranchi where there has been an upward movement, and in the 24-Parganas where it has fallen. Ordinary cattle-diseases are prevalent in Jessore, Shahabad, Champaran, Bhagalpur, the Sonthal Parganas, Balasore, Puri and Ranchi. Water scarcity is still reported from several districts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and also from Gaya, Saran and the Sonthal Parganas. Cattle are suffering in Balasore from want of fodder and water. Test-works in Bankura, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Outtack, Balasore, Puri, Hazaribagh and Ranchi were attended by 15,792 persons. Gratuitous relief was given to 25,390 persons.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundsen's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, dark gloomy; t, thunder; <, lightning; (symbol), strong wind; (symbol), duststorm; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

BUKHTIARPUR-BIHAR TRAMWAY EXTENSION.

No. 11R.—Notification.—It is hereby notified that an application has been duly made to the Local Government of Bengal by Messrs. Martin & Co., of Calcutta, for and on behalf of a company called The Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Light Railway Company, Limited, for sanction to the construction of an extension of the existing Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Light Railway, from Bihar to Silao within the district of Patna and whereas it appears to the Local Government expedient and proper that the said application should be granted, the Local Government, in pursuance of section 5 of the Bengal Tramways Act, III of 1883, makes the following Order:—

W. A. INGLIS,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This order may be cited as the Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Extension Order.

Interpretation clause

2. The several words and expressions to which meanings are assigned by the Bengal Tramways Act, III of 1883, have in this Order the same respective meanings:

Provided that in this Order the expression "the tramway" or "the undertaking" shall mean the tramway and works and undertaking by this Order authorized, except where the context may require a different meaning, and the words "the Act" shall mean the said Bengal Tramways Act, III of 1883.

Law applicable to the tramway.

3. (1) The tramway authorised by this Order shall be constructed, maintained, and worked, subject to the provisions of the Act, of the rules, from time to time, in force under the Act, and of this Order, and of any other order or orders, rules or regulations, from time to time, laid down or authorized in connection with the working of the Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Tramway, now called the Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Light Railway.

(2) No powers or rights shall be deemed to have been conferred on the Promoters or to have been relinquished by Government except as in this Order expressly provided.

Promoters and Company.

4. The Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Light Railway Company, Limited, shall be the Promoters for the purposes of this Order, and are in this order referred to as "the Promoters."

CONSTRUCTION OF TRAMWAY.

Authority to Promoters to construct tramway.

5. The Promoters shall construct and maintain, subject to the provisions specified in this order, and to the agreement made between the Promoters and the Local Authority, which is set forth in the First Schedule attached to this Order, and in accordance, also, with plans and sections deposited by the Promoters with the Local Government, the tramway hereinafter described, with all proper establishments, rails, bearings, stations, offices, works, rolling-stock, and conveniences connected with the tramway or required for the purposes thereof.

Dates for commencing and completing the tramway.

6. (1) Subject to any extension of time that the Local Government may see fit to grant, the Promoters shall substantially commence the construction of the said tramway within nine calendar months from the date of this order, and shall complete and equip the same in every respect for opening and working for traffic to the satisfaction of the Local Government within two years from the date of this Order.

(2) In the event of the said Promoters failing to commence the construction, and to complete and equip the tramway as provided in the first paragraph of this clause, then and in any such case the Local Government shall be at liberty to revoke this order, and the Local Government shall thereafter be at liberty to enter into any arrangements with any other person or persons for the construction of the said extension; and in the event of this Order being revoked by reason of the said Promoters failing to complete and equip, and open for traffic, the said tramway within the period of two years from the date of this order, the Local Government shall have the option of taking over all the permanent-way and rolling-stock of the tramway at a reasonable valuation to be determined by the Local Government; and in the event of the Local Government exercising this option, all the other works and buildings of the tramway may be dealt with under the provisions of the Act relating to the discontinuance of tramways as a tramway whereof the discontinuance has been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

If, however, the Local Government do not desire to exercise the option of taking over the permanent-way and rolling stock of the tramway as herein provided, then and in such case the tramway, including the permanent-way, the rolling-stock, and all the buildings and works of every kind connected therewith may be dealt with under the provisions of the Act relating to the discontinuance of tramways as a tramway whereof the discontinuance has been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Description of the tramway authorised.

7. The tramway authorised by this order is a single line, with necessary passing places within the district of Patna. Starting from Bihar station on the Bukhtiarpur-Bihar Light Railway the line proceeds in a Southern direction along the Giriac Road for about one mile, then leaving this road it continues in a South-Westerly direction along the Rajgir, Road to the village of Deep Nagar, 3½ miles from Bihar. A station has been provided here in a diversion at the back of the village. The line then proceeds in the same direction to Silao, in the 10th mile, where the terminal station is provided in a diversion to the South of the village; the site having been chosen, so that the line can be conveniently extended to Rajgir, should this be decided upon hereafter.

Promoters authorized to use the road subject to limitation.

8. The Promoters may use for the construction of the tramway, but not for the purposes of any building or erection connected therewith, one side of the road over which the tramway is to run 8 feet in width.

In cases where there are no buildings on that side of the road on which the tramway is laid, the said width of 8 feet shall be measured from the gutter on that side of the road, or where the road is in embankment, from the edge of such embankment; and in cases where there are buildings on that side of the road, the said width shall be measured from such point on that side as in the opinion of the Government Engineer in charge of the road is safe and proper; but for the purpose of crossing bridges where desired, the tramway may approach the centre of the road as far as shall in each case, be deemed unavoidable by the said Engineer.

Provided always that—

(1) there shall nowhere be a less width of road clear of the inner rail of the tramway than 14 feet;

(2) if any addition to the existing width of the metalled surface of the road is rendered necessary in order to comply with the terms of this Order, or if any addition to or alteration of any bridge is, in the opinion of the Government Engineer in charge of the road, rendered necessary by the tramway, the same shall be carried out by and at the cost of the Promoters to the satisfaction of the said Engineer;

(3) at no point on the metalled road shall there be more than one line of rails; any loop lines, turn-outs, or sidings that may be required must therefore be placed elsewhere than on the metalled portion of the road;

(4) the metalling of the roadway shall not be interfered with more than is absolutely necessary for the proper construction of the tramway; and in all cases where such metalling has been so interfered with, it shall be repaired and made good with all reasonable promptitude by and at the cost of the Promoters to the satisfaction of the Government Engineer in charge of the road.

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 8th June, 1908, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT NO. VI OF 1908.

An Act further to amend the law relating to explosive substances.

WHEREAS it is necessary further to amend the law relating to explosive substances; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Explosive Substances Act, 1908.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India and applies also to—

(a) all native Indian subjects of His Majesty in any place without and beyond British India;

(b) all other British subjects within the territories of any native prince or chief in India.

Definition of "explosive substance."

2. In this Act the expression "explosive substance" shall be deemed to include any materials for making any explosive substance; also any apparatus, machine, implement, or material used, or intended to be used, or adapted for causing, or aiding in causing, any explosion in or with any explosive substance; also any part of any such apparatus, machine, or implement.

Punishment for causing explosion likely to endanger life or property.

3. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously causes by any explosive substance an explosion of a nature likely to endanger life or to cause serious injury to property shall, whether any injury to person or property has been actually caused or not, be punished with transportation for life or any shorter term, to which fine may be added, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to ten years, to which fine may be added.

Punishment for attempt to cause explosion or for making or keeping explosive with intent to endanger life or property.

4. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously—

(a) does any act with intent to cause by an explosive substance, or conspires to cause by an explosive substance, an explosion in British India of a nature likely to endanger life or to cause serious injury to property; or shall, whether any explosion does or does not take place and whether any injury to person or property has been actually caused or not, be punished with transportation for a term which may extend to twenty years, to which fine may be added, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, to which fine may be added.

Punishment for making or possessing explosives under suspicious circumstances.

5. Any person who makes or knowingly has in his possession or under his control any explosive substance, under such circumstances as to give rise to a reasonable suspicion that he is not making it or does not have it in his possession or under his control for a lawful object, shall, unless he can show that he made it or had it in his possession or under his control for a lawful object, be punishable with transportation for a term which may extend to fourteen years, to which fine may be added, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years, to which fine may be added.

Punishment of abettors.

6. Any person who by the supply of or solicitation for money, the providing of premises, the supply of materials, or in any manner whatsoever, procures, counsels, aids, abets, or is accessory to, the commission of any offence under this Act shall be punished with the punishment provided for the offence.

Restriction on trial of offences.

7. No Court shall proceed to the trial of any person for an offence against this Act except with the consent of the Local Government or the Governor General in Council.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Recent events have brought prominently to notice the inadequacy of the existing law to deal with crimes committed by means of explosive substances. The Indian Explosives Act, 1884, was framed to prevent accidents rather than to prevent crime and its provisions are clearly inadequate to meet the present emergency. No sentence of imprisonment can be imposed under that Act and the maximum penalty is only a fine of three thousand rupees The Indian Arms Act, 1878, though it applies to the possession of explosives as well as arms, is also inadequate in respect both of the penalties it allows and the scope of its provisions for dealing promptly with preparations to manufacture bombs and other explosives The Penal Code provides for the punishment of persons who cause hurt or mischief by means of explosive substances and it also deals with attempts to cause hurt or mischief but only when any act towards the commission of the offence is actually done. But it does not provide any penalty for making or possessing explosive substances with unlawful intent and it does not in other cases always provide such severe penalties as are requisite. The Governor-General in Council therefore considers it necessary to supplement the existing law by an Act on the lines of the English Explosive Substances Act, 1883, which was enacted for the express purpose of dealing with anarchist crimes. The Bill which has been drafted to give effect to this decision provides for the punishment of any person who causes an explosion likely to endanger life or property, or who attempts to cause such an explosion, or makes or has in his possession any explosive substance with intent to endanger life or property. It further makes the manufacture or possession of explosive substances for any other than a lawful object a substantive offence and throws on the person who makes or is in possession of any explosive substance the onus of proving that the making or possession was lawful. It also provides adequately for the punishment both of principals and accessories.

H. ADAMSON.

Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 8th June, 1908, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

(2) A copy of such order shall be fixed on some conspicuous part of the premises specified in the declaration made in respect of such newspaper under section 5 of the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, or of any other premises in which such newspaper is printed, and the affixing of such copy shall be deemed to be due service of the said order on all persons concerned.

(3) In cases of emergency or in cases where the purposes of the application might be defeated by delay, the Magistrate may, on or after the making of a conditional order under sub-section (1), make a further order ex parte for the attachment of the printing press or other property referred to in the conditional order.

(4) If any person concerned appears and shows cause against the conditional order, the Magistrate shall take evidence, whether in support of or in opposition to such order, in manner provided in section 356 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

(5) If the Magistrate is satisfied that the newspaper contains matter of the nature specified in sub-section (1), he shall make the conditional order of forfeiture absolute in respect of such property as he may find to be within the terms of the said sub-section.

(6) If the Magistrate is not so satisfied, he shall set aside the conditional order of forfeiture and the order of attachment, if any.

4 (1) The Magistrate may by warrant empower any Police-officer not below the rank of a Sub-Inspector to seize and detain any property ordered to be attached under section 3, sub section (3), or to seize and carry away any property ordered to be forfeited under section 3, sub-section (5), wherever found and to enter upon and search for such property in any premises—

(2) Every warrant issued under sub-section (1) so far as it relates to a search shall be executed in manner provided for the execution of search warrants by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

Appeal

5 Any person concerned who has appeared and shown cause against a conditional order of forfeiture may appeal to the High Court within fifteen days from the date when such order is made absolute.

Bar of other proceedings.

6 Save as provided in section 5, no order duly made by a Magistrate under section 3 shall be called in question in any Court.

Power to annul declaration under Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867

7. Where an order of forfeiture has been made absolute in relation to any newspaper the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, annul any declaration made by the printer or publisher of such newspaper under the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, and may by such notification prohibit any further declaration being made or subscribed under the said Act in respect of the said newspaper, or of any newspaper which is the same in substance as the said newspaper, until such prohibition be withdrawn.

Penalty.

8. Any person who prints or publishes any newspaper specified in any prohibition notified under section 7 during the continuance of that prohibition shall be liable, on conviction, to the penalties prescribed by section 15 of the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867.

Application of Code of Criminal Procedure.

9. All proceedings under this Act shall be conducted so far as may be in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

Operation of other laws not barred.

10. No proceedings taken under this Act shall operate to prevent any person from being prosecuted for any act which constitutes an offence under any other law.

Statement of Objects and Reasons.

The circumstances of the recent outrages by means of explosive substances have disclosed a close connexion between the perpetrators of such outrages and certain newspapers which have from time to time published criminal incitements. Experience has shown that prosecution under the existing law is inadequate to prevent the publication of these incitements. In the case of one newspaper, persons registered as printer and publisher have been within a comparatively short period prosecuted and convicted several times, while the real authors of the incitements have concealed their identity. This newspaper notwithstanding these prosecutions continues to exist and to pursue its criminal course. Nor is it a solitary instance of the kind.

It has therefore become necessary to make better provision for the prevention of such incitements in newspapers. The scope of the present Bill is confined to incitements to murder, to offences under the Explosive Substances Act, 1908, and to acts of violence It gives power in such cases to confiscate the printing press used in the production of the newspaper, and to stop the lawful issue of the newspaper.

The procedure adopted in the Bill follows the general lines of that provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure for dealing with public nuisances, with the important addition that the final order of the Magistrate directing the forfeiture of the press is appealable to the High Court within fifteen days. It is further provided that no action can be taken against a press save on the application of a Local Government.

When an order of forfeiture has been made by the Magistrate, but only in that case, the local Government is empowered to annul the declaration made by the printer and publisher of the newspaper under the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, and thereafter neither that newspaper nor any other which is the same in substance can be published without a breach of the law.

It is also provided that no proceedings taken under the Bill shall bar the prosecution of any person for any act which constitutes an offence under any other law.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1908.

DURING the month of May, rainfall was fairly general over the Province. It was a little above the average only in the districts of Burdwan, Bankura and Midnapore.

With the exception of Darjeeling, Angul and Ranchi, all the districts of Bihar, Orissa and Chota Nagpur received a fall below the normal.

On an average South-West Bengal received 4·20 inches, Bihar 1·50 inches, Orissa 1·94 inches and Chota Nagpur 1·86 inches of rain.

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of May for all districts of the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-reporting stations in each district.

The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the observations of past years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slightly different form, stating as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal:—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundsen's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

Civil Hospital Assistants who are liable for examination should apply to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, two months beforehand, through their immediate superior officers. PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th June, 1908:

No. 5 OF 1908.

A Bill to make special provision for the payment of duty on salt in certain cases.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make special provision for the payment of duty on salt in certain cases; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Salt-duties Act, 190 ; and

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

Payment of duty in certain cases.

2. Where by any enactment any duty is imposed on any salt manufactured in or imported into or transported within British India, the Governor General in Council or the Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules providing for the payment of such duty within a period not exceeding six months from the date on which payment is due, and for the furnishing of security for such payment; and salt may be manufactured, imported or transported in accordance with rules so made as if the duty payable thereon had been paid.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

UNDER the credit system for the payment of duty on salt which prevails in Madras and Bombay, salt is issued to merchants without requiring them to make immediate payment of the duty; the procedure being that they execute a bond and deposit securities and that their accounts are made up and settled periodically The Salt Committee of 1904 recommended that a similar system should be adopted in the areas of Bengal in which there is no water communication; and the Governments of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam have expressed themselves in favour of its introduction.

In Madras and Bombay the system has been found of value in facilitating the distribution of salt and in reducing its price to the consumer. The Government of India consider therefore that its extension to other parts of India is desirable. They do not propose to restrict it to the areas contemplated by the Salt Committee, but would allow any Local Government to adopt the credit system within its territories, and to make the necessary rules and conditions. The present Bill has been framed to permit of this.

The 28th May 1908.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th June, 1908:

No. 6 OF 1908.

A Bill to amend the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1904.

III of 1904. WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1904; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Local Authorities Loan (Amendment) Act, 1908.

Amendment of section 2, Act III, 1904. 2. In section 2 of the Local Authorities Loan Act, 1904, for the words "bills repayable" the words "bills or promissory notes payable" shall be substituted; and in the proviso to the same section, after the word "bills" the words "or promissory notes" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Local Authorities Loan Act, 1904 (III of 1904), enables certain local authorities to borrow money by means of the issue of short-term bills. In practice it has been found that the documents on which local authorities raise such loans are promissory notes in form; and it is doubtful whether the bodies concerned are in a position to give "bills" in the ordinary banking and mercantile sense of the term. It is accordingly proposed to remove all ambiguity by providing that the local authorities to whom the Act applies may give promissory notes as security for short loans.

The 12th May 1908.

E. N. BAKER.

J. M. MACPHERSON,

Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT CALCUTTA AND AT THE PORTS OF ORISSA FOR THE YEAR 1907-1908.

No. 1954 Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th June 1908.

RESOLUTION.

Annual Report on the working of the Shipping Offices at Calcutta and at the Ports of Orissa for the year 1907-08.

READ—

Letter from the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, No. 242C, dated the 1st May 1908.

Letter from the Shipping Master, Calcutta, No. S.195, dated the 13th May 1908.

The receipts of the Calcutta Shipping Office during the year 1907-08 amounted to Rs. 80,453, against Rs. 84,380 in the preceding year. The decrease of Rs. 3,927 in the receipts is due, mainly, to the falling off in receipts under the heads "Shipping fees," "Discharging fees" and "Overtime fees."

2. The expenditure was Rs. 42,112 as compared with Rs. 42,214 in the past year.

3. Four Trust Funds are administered by the Calcutta Shipping Office, of which the more important are those which account for the deposit money of British seamen and of Indian seamen. The total receipts of the Funds during the year, Rs. 64,851, together with the closing balance of the previous year, amounted to a sum of Rs. 74,709, against Rs. 96,124 in the preceding year. The total of payments made during the year was Rs. 59,615. The amount left to the credit of the Funds at the close of the year was Rs. 13,546, a sum of Rs. 1,548 having lapsed to the State.

4. The number of seamen, shipped and discharged were--

Shipped	40,356
Discharged	35,170

The shipments and discharges both under the European and the Indian articles during the year under review show a decrease as compared with the last year's figures. The figures are as below:—

Shipments.

	1906-07.	1907-08.	Increase.	Decrease.
European articles ...	946	581	Nil	365
Indian " ...	40,587	39,775	Nil	812

Discharges.

	1906-07.	1907-08.	Increase.	Decrease.
European articles	1,132	752	Nil	380
Indian "	36,521	34,418	Nil	2,103

The decreases under the European articles may be accounted for by the larger employment of native crews, while those under the native articles may be ascribed to the effect of the amendment of the law relating to foreign running agreements by Act VI of 1906, as noticed last year.

5. Seamen, shipped and discharged by foreign Consuls were 103 and 97 respectively.

6. Thirty-four seamen were repatriated during the year under the Distressed Seamen's Regulations, against 35 in the previous year; of those, 3 were on account of paucity of employment, 1, old age and infirmity and 30 owing to sickness and injury; the expenses for the latter are, however, borne by the owners of the vessels to which the seamen belong, under the provisions of section 34 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1906.

7. The amount, remitted home by the European seamen in 1907-08 was Rs. 12,959-8, as compared with Rs. 7,305-5 in 1906-07. This increase in the value of the money-order, sent in spite of the decrease in the shipments and discharges of European seamen during the year is attributed to the reduction in the Board of Trade commission from 3d. to 1d. in the pound.

8. A complaint was received from a lascar of the S.S. Blythswood that he was habitually ill-treated by the serang of the vessel who tried to extort a bribe from him. The man, however, did not attend the enquiry that was held in the matter. The complaints of the engine-room crew of the S.S. Malakand with respect to their ill-treatment by the superior officers of the vessel were, on enquiry, found to be groundless. The Serang of the S.S. City of Agra was accused of having extorted money from the Engine room crew; but in the absence of any corroborative evidence no action could be taken. A European seaman, on behalf of the European crew of, the S.S. Glenaffric, brought a charge of misbehaviour against the Chinese firemen of the vessel. The matter was, however, settled by the Master of the Vessel. A report of extortion and assault was received from two of the crew of the S.S. Patrician against their serang and tindal, but, as on the discharge of the crew no charges were advanced, the matter was not enquired into further.

9. No seamen were shipped or discharged at False Point during the year under review.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,
Secretary.

* The report is for the week ending the 13th June 1908.

GENERAL SUMMARY.—The rainfall during the week was very heavy in Lower Bengal and heavy in Darjeeling, the Sonthal Parganas and Balasore. Chota Nagpur, Orissa and Bihar received light rain. The recent rainfall has improved prospects of standing crops in Murshidabad, Khulna, Saran, Champaran, the Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack and Balasore. Preparation of lands for the season's crops and sowing of paddy and of bhadoi crops are going on except in the lowlying lands of some districts of the Burdwan Division, where agricultural operations have been temporarily checked by the heavy rain which has recently fallen. Some damage is apprehended to paddy seedlings and jute on low lands in Hooghly and Howrah. Sugarcane is doing well. More rain is needed in Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Bhagalpur. Stocks of food-grains are insufficient in Nadia, Murshidabad, Balasore and Palamau. Scarcity is apprehended in the Pataspur and Ramnagar thanas of the Midnapore district. The price of common rice has remained generally stationary. It has, however, risen in Burdwan, Birbhum, Bankura, Nadia, Angul, Sambalpur, Ranchi, Palamau and Manbhum. Cattle-disease is prevalent in Shahabad, the Sonthal Parganas, Sambalpur and Ranchi The water-scarcity difficulty has been tided over by the copious rain received during the week. The fodder-supply is insufficient in Birbhum, Bankura, the Sonthal Parganas and Sambalpur. Fourteen thousand six hundred and eighty-five persons attended test-works in Bankura, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Cuttack, Balasore, Angul, Puri, Hazaribagh and Ranchi. Gratuitous relief was distributed to 25,443 persons, of whom 18,755 belonged to Orissa.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1908.

During the first nine days of the month some rain was reported in Assam and a few light falls in other parts of the Division, the principal amounts being Sibsagar 1·11 inches on the 3rd and Dibrugarh 1·53 and Sibsagar 1·63 on the 8th. Generally skies were clear or lightly to moderately clouded, while weather was warmer than usual. During the week ending on the 16th rain occurred in Assam and at Narayanganj, the falls being most numerous on the 10th and 13th, the heaviest fall being 5¼ inches at Dibrugarh on the 14th. Skies were cloudy in the coast districts and in Eastern Bengal and Assam and were clear or lightly clouded elsewhere. Weather was much warmer than usual during the greater part of the week, but temperature fell on the 15th and on the 16th was nearly normal. Changes in temperature were connected to a large extent with a hot wave preceding and a cold wave following a depression that was initiated on the 4th in Persia. During the week ending on the 23rd of the month a few scattered falls of rain occurred chiefly in Eastern Bengal and Assam and were most numerous on the 23rd, Dinajpur and Jessore reporting about 1 inch each. Skies were lightly clouded in the southern and eastern parts of the Division and almost clear elsewhere. Temperature was normal or in excess, the largest excess occurring on the 19th. During the last week of the month rainfall occurred on all days of the week in the eastern half of the Division and was widespread on the 26th and 28th. Rainfall was heavier than usual owing to the favourable position of the trough of low pressure and to its being better marked than usual. Light to moderate cloud was reported from the greater part of the Division, but skies were almost clear in the western districts. Temperature was normal and in defect in the area of rainfall and was nearly normal elsewhere.

Summary of Temperature.—The month was remarkable for the high temperatures that prevailed in the earlier part of the month. The average mean of the month was in considerable excess in every division except in Orissa. Very high maximum temperatures were recorded, particularly in Bengal. The highest temperature recorded at any station was 112°·1 at Bankura and the lowest was 61°·2 at Sibsagar.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Provinces of Bengal and of Eastern Bengal and Assam for the month of April 1908:—

* Purulia not included.

Summary of Rainfall.—The rainfall work of the province has been placed in the hands of the Director of Agriculture, Bengal, and the usual data regarding the actual and normal rainfall during the month are published by that officer. A short table, however, is attached to this report giving the rainfall recorded during the month at the head-quarters of the various districts of the Province. It will be noted that rainfall was in general defect and that practically no rain fell in Bihar, except at Purnea, where ½ inch was recorded.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Kundson's Barograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.
